History Of The Coniferous Forests California And Nevada:

History of the Coniferous Forests, California and Nevada Daniel I. Axelrod, 1976 History of the Coniferous Forests, California and Nevada Daniel I. Axelrod, Helen Kennedy, Peter H. Raven, University of California, Berkeley, Yin-tse Lee, Jean H. Langenheim, 1976 A Natural History of California Allan A. Schoenherr, 2017-07-03 In this comprehensive and abundantly illustrated book Allan A. Schoenherr describes the natural history of California a state with a greater range of landforms a greater variety of habitats and more kinds of plants and animals than any area of equivalent size in all of North America A Natural History of California focuses on each distinctive region addressing its climate rocks soil plants and animals The second edition of this classic work features updated species names and taxa new details about parks reclassified by federal and state agencies new stories about modern human and animal interaction and a new epilogue on the impacts of climate change Origin and Relationships of the California Flora Peter H. Raven, Daniel I. Axelrod, 1978-01-01

Riparian Forests in California Anne Sands, 1980 Biosystematic Studies of Conifer-feeding Choristoneura (Lepidoptera: Tortricidae) in the Western United States Jerry A. Powell, 1995-01-01 00 Forest defoliators of the Spruce Budworm complex are the most extensively studied moths in the world yet taxonomic relationships among western populations have been poorly understood This work distinguishes species groups using a three dimensional definition reproductive isolation through intraspecific recognition pheromone chemistry and correlated behavior ecological separation larval hosts and morphometric analysis of adults where traditional study of museum specimens failed Forest defoliators of the Spruce Budworm complex are the most extensively studied moths in the world yet taxonomic relationships among western populations have been poorly understood This work distinguishes species groups using a three dimensional definition reproductive isolation through intraspecific recognition pheromone chemistry and correlated behavior ecological separation larval hosts and morphometric analysis of adults where traditional study of museum specimens failed

Terrestrial Vegetation of California, 3rd Edition Michael Barbour, Todd Keeler-Wolf, Allan A. Schoenherr, 2007-07-17 This completely new edition of Terrestrial Vegetation of California clearly documents the extraordinary complexity and richness of the plant communities and of the state and the forces that shape them This volume is a storehouse of information of value to anyone concerned with meeting the challenge of understanding managing or conserving these unique plant communities under the growing threats of climate change biological invasions and development Harold Mooney Professor of Environmental Biology Stanford University The plants of California are under threat like never before Traditional pressures of development and invasive species have been joined by a newly recognized threat human caused climate change It is essential that we thoroughly understand current plant community dynamics in order to have a hope of conserving them This book represents an important well timed advance in knowledge of the vegetation of this diverse state and is an essential resource for professionals students and the general public alike Brent Mishler Director of the University Jepson Herbaria and

Professor of Integrative Biology University of California Berkeley Role of Volcanism in Climate and Evolution Daniel I. Axelrod, 1981-01-01 Abies milleri, sp. nov., from the Middle Eocene Klondike Mountain Formation, Republic, Ferry County, Washington Schorn H. E., Wehr W. Richardson, 2000-07-31 A comprehensive review essential for all involved in the management of natural and planted pine forests The Eocene Thunder Mountain Flora of Central Idaho Daniel I. Axelrod, 1998-03-17 An Eocene 45 Ma flora from Thunder Mountain caldera shows that montane conifer forest species from upper slopes descended to interfinger with mixed conifer deciduous hardwood forest on the caldera floor then near 1700 m Most species are allied to those in the western United States but a few genera are in China Precipitation was near 100 cm yearly with most in summer North American Terrestrial Vegetation Michael G. Barbour, William Dwight Billings, 2000 This second edition provides extensively expanded coverage of North American vegetation from arctic tundra to tropical forests

Ecosystems of California Harold Mooney, Erika Zavaleta, 2016-01-19 This long anticipated reference and sourcebook for California's remarkable ecological abundance provides an integrated assessment of each major ecosystem type its distribution structure function and management A comprehensive synthesis of our knowledge about this biologically diverse state Ecosystems of California covers the state from oceans to mountaintops using multiple lenses past and present flora and fauna aquatic and terrestrial natural and managed Each chapter evaluates natural processes for a specific ecosystem describes drivers of change and discusses how that ecosystem may be altered in the future This book also explores the drivers of California's ecological patterns and the history of the state's various ecosystems outlining how the challenges of climate change and invasive species and opportunities for regulation and stewardship could potentially affect the state's ecosystems The text explicitly incorporates both human impacts and conservation and restoration efforts and shows how ecosystems support human well being Edited by two esteemed ecosystem ecologists and with overviews by leading experts on each ecosystem this definitive work will be indispensable for natural resource management and conservation professionals as well as for undergraduate or graduate students of California's environment and curious naturalists Fire Ecology and Management: Past, Present, and Future of US Forested Ecosystems Cathryn H. Greenberg, Beverly Collins, 2021-10-01 This edited volume presents original scientific research and knowledge synthesis covering the past present and potential future fire ecology of major US forest types with implications for forest management in a changing climate The editors and authors highlight broad patterns among ecoregions and forest types as well as detailed information for individual ecoregions for fire frequencies and severities fire effects on tree mortality and regeneration and levels of fire dependency by plant and animal communities The foreword addresses emerging ecological and fire management challenges for forests in relation to sustainable development goals as highlighted in recent government reports An introductory chapter highlights patterns of variation in frequencies severities scales and spatial patterns of fire across ecoregions and among forested ecosystems across the US in relation to climate fuels topography and soils ignition sources lightning or anthropogenic and vegetation Separate chapters by respected experts delve into the fire ecology of major forest types within US ecoregions with a focus on the level of plant and animal fire dependency and the role of fire in maintaining forest composition and structure The regional chapters also include discussion of historic natural lightning ignited and anthropogenic Native American settlers fire regimes current fire regimes as influenced by recent decades of fire suppression and land use history and fire management in relation to ecosystem integrity and restoration wildfire threat and climate change The summary chapter combines the major points of each chapter in a synthesis of US wide fire ecology and forest management into the future This book provides current organized readily accessible information for the conservation community land managers scientists students and educators and others interested in how fire behavior and effects on structure and composition differ among ecoregions and forest types and what that means for forest management today and in the future

The California Spotted Owl Jared Verner,1992 Proceedings RMRS. ,2000 Proceedings of a Symposium on the Kings River Sustainable Forest Ecosystems Project ,2002 Fire in California's Ecosystems

Neil G. Sugihara,2006-11-29 Focusing on California and issues specific to fire ecology and management in the state s bioregions this work provides scientific information for use in land restoration and other management decisions made in the field It introduces the basics of fire ecology and includes an overview of fire vegetation and climate in California and more

The Ecological Importance of Mixed-Severity Fires Dominick A. DellaSala,Chad Hanson,2015-06-08 The Ecological Importance of High Severity Fires presents information on the current paradigm shift in the way people think about wildfire and ecosystems While much of the current forest management in fire adapted ecosystems especially forests is focused on fire prevention and suppression little has been reported on the ecological role of fire and nothing has been presented on the importance of high severity fire with regards to the maintenance of native biodiversity and fire dependent ecosystems and species This text fills that void providing a comprehensive reference for documenting and synthesizing fire s ecological role Offers the first reference written on mixed and high severity fires and their relevance for biodiversity Contains a broad synthesis of the ecology of mixed and high severity fires covering such topics as vegetation birds mammals insects aquatics and management actions Explores the conservation vs public controversy issues around megafires in a rapidly warming world
