Hitchcocks Cryptonymies War Machines:

Hitchcocks Cryptonymies Tom Cohen, 2005 Tom Cohen's radical exploration of Hitchcock's cinema departs from conventional approaches psychoanalytic feminist political to emphasize the dense web of signatures and markings inscribed on and around his films Aligning Hitchcock's agenda with the philosophical and aesthetic writings of Nietzsche Derrida and Benjamin Cohen's project dramatically recasts the history and meaning of cinema itself This first volume of Hitchcock's Cryptonymies provides a singularly close reading of films such as The Lady Vanishes Spellbound and North by Northwest exposing the often imperceptible visual and aural puns graphic elements and cryptograms that traverse his entire body of work Within Hitchcock's cinema Cohen argues these secret agents have more than just decorative or symbolic significance they also reflect critique and disrupt traditional cinematic practice undermining ways of seeing inherited from the Enlightenment and prefiguring postmodern culture From the recurrence of the eye motif and the frequency of names beginning with Mar to the role of memory and the director's trademark cameos Cohen offers an unprecedented guide to the entirety of Hitchcock's labyrinthine signature system At the same time he liberates Hitchcock's works from film history modernist auteurist revealing them as unsettled events in the archaeology of contemporary global image culture Tom Cohen is professor of American literary critical and cinematic studies at the University at Albany He is the author of Anti Mimesis From Plato to Hitchcock and Ideology and Inscription Cultural Studies after Benjamin and coeditor of Material Events Minnesota 2000 Publisher

Hitchcock's Cryptonymies Tom Cohen, 2005-01-01 This second volume presents the director's work as a radical collage of images and absences letters and numbers citations and sounds that together mark Hitchcock as a knowing figure who was entirely aware of this and cinema's place at the dawn of a global media culture as well as the cinema's revolutionary impact on perception and memory

Material Spirit Manuel Asensi, Carl Good, 2013-12-02 The essays in this collection examine philosophical religious and literary or artistic texts using methodologies and insights that have grown out of reflection on literature and art In them the phrase material spirit becomes a point of departure for considering the continuing spectral effects of religious texts and concerns in ways that do not simply call for or assume new or renewed forms of religiosity The writers in this collection seek to examine religion beyond traditional notions of transcendence Their topics range from early Christian religious practices to global climate change Some of the essays explore religious themes or tones in literary texts for example works by Wordsworth Hopkins Proust Woolf and Teresa of Avila Others approach in a literarycritical mood philosophical or para philosophical writers such as Bataille Husserl Derrida and Benjamin Still others treat writers of a more explicitly religious orientation such as Augustine Rosenzweig or Bernard of Clairvaux

Hitchcock's Magic Neil Badmington, 2011-04-15 Why are we still drawn to the work of Alfred Hitchcock so long after his final film appeared What remains to see What could there possibly be left to say about tales that are overwhelmingly familiar Why moreover have many of Hitchcock's films entered the popular imagination and enjoyed an eventful life far from the screen What is the source of Hitchcock's magic This book answers these questions about the influence and ongoing appeal of Hitchcock's work by focussing upon the fabric of the films themselves upon the way in which they enlist and sustain our desire holding our attention by constantly withholding something from us We keep watching keep revisiting the stories because there is always something left to see and know The book combines detailed textual analysis of a number of Hitchcock's most famous films Psycho Rear Window Rebecca North by Northwest The Man Who Knew Too Much and The Birds with more general discussion of the director's complete body of work Drawing upon the poststructuralist theories of Roland Barthes and Jacques Derrida it takes issue with the biographical and psychoanalytic approaches that have dominated studies of Hitchcock's films to argue instead for the significance of textuality Hitchcock's Magic is an innovative lively and readable book which challenges critical orthodoxy and breaks new ground in the field A Hitchcock Reader Marshall

Classical Myth in Alfred Hitchcock's Wrong Man and Grace Kelly Films Mark William Padilla, 2018-12-12 Mark Padilla's classical reception readings of Alfred Hitchcock features some of the director's most loved and important films and demonstrates how they are informed by the educational and cultural classicism of the director's formative years. The six close readings begin with discussions of the production histories so as to theorize and clarify how classicism could and did enter the projects. Exploration of the films through a classical lens creates the opportunity to explore new themes and ideological investments. The result is a further appreciation of both the engine of the director's storytelling creativity and the expressionism of classicism especially Greek myth and art in British and American modernism. The analysis organizes the material into two triptychs: one focused on the three films sharing a wrong man pattern (wrongly accused man goes on the run to clear himself); the other treating the films starring the actress Grace Kelly. Chapter One on The 39 Steps (1935) finds the origins of the wrong man plot in early 20th century British classicism and demonstrates that the movie utilizes motifs of Homer's Odyssey. Chapter Two on Saboteur (1942) theorizes the impact of the director's memories of the formalism and myths associated with the Parthenon sculptures housed in the British Museum. Chapter Three on North by Northwest participates in the myths of the hero Oedipus as associated with early Greek epic. Freud, Nietzsche, and Sophocles. Chapter Four on Dial M for Murder (1954) returns to Homer's Odyssey in the interpretive use of the lay of Demodocus, a story about the sexual triangle of Hephaestus, Aphrodite, and Ares. Chapter Five on Rear Window (1954) finds its narrative archetype in The Homeric Hymn to Aphrodite; the erotic theme of Sirius the Dog Star also marks the film. Chapter Six on To Catch a Thief (1955) offers the opportunity to break from mythic analogues and to consider the film's philosophical resonances: Plato and Epicurus in the context of motifs coalesced around the god Dionysus/Bacchus. — Jeff Herman's Guide to Book Publishers, Editors and Literary Agents 2006 Jeff Herman, 2005-10. Now updated for 2008, this annual edition of the classic bestselling directory provides everything working writers need to find the most receptive publishers, editors, and agents for their work.

Cultural Theory in the Films of Alfred Hitchcock Gary McCarron, 2023-07-11. This book is neither biography nor a conventional film critique. Rather, the text explores aspects of Hitchcock's work in relation to theories drawn from the social sciences and philosophy. The various chapters focus not on specific films but on broader ideas central to Hitchcock's work. There is, for instance, a chapter on his idea of the MacGuffin in which I use Ernesto Laclau's theories of equivalent substitution to explain how the MacGuffin functions in Hitchcock's works. There is also a chapter on his notion of pure cinema, which moves from the idea of purity as an anthropological concept to consider purity in relation to current debates regarding so-called hybrid media and Hitchcock's relevance to these issues in respect of his dissatisfaction with the advent of sound to the cinema world. Broadly speaking, the book uses Hitchcock's films to illustrate ideas in the social sciences and philosophy and uses those same ideas to illustrate aspects of Hitchcock's films. — Cultural Theory After the Contemporary S. Tumino, 2011-01-31. Contemporary cultural studies have marginalized agency, namely the power of people to shape social life. Here Stephen Tumino offers a new materialist challenge to these tendencies and articulates an internationalist cultural theory that puts global agency in the forefront of cultural analysis. — Bio-Politicizing Cary Grant Joshua David.
