North James Oliver Curwood,2020-09-28 Captain Rifle gray and old in the Alaskan Steamship service had not lost the spirit of his youth along with his years Romance was not dead in him and the fire which is built up of clean adventure and the association of strong men and a mighty country had not died out of his veins He could still see the picturesque feel the thrill of the unusual and at times warm memories crowded upon him so closely that yesterday seemed today and Alaska was young again thrilling the world with her wild call to those who had courage to come and fight for her treasures and live or die Tonight with the softly musical throb of his ship under his feet and the yellow moon climbing up from behind the ramparts of the Alaskan mountains something of loneliness seized upon him and he said simply That is Alaska The girl standing beside him at the rail did not turn nor for a moment did she answer He could see her profile clear cut as a cameo in the almost vivid light and in that light her eyes were wide and filled with a dusky fire and her lips were parted a little and her slim body was tense as she looked at the wonder of the moon silhouetting the cragged castles of the peaks up where the soft gray clouds lay like shimmering draperies Then she turned her face a little and nodded Yes Alaska she said and the old captain fancied there was the slightest ripple of a tremor in her voice Your Alaska Captain Rifle Out of the clearness of the night came to them a distant sound like the low moan of thunder Twice before Mary Standish had heard it and now she asked What was that
