Lady Gregory's Diaries, 1892-1902 Lady Gregory, 1996 These diaries covering the decade or so following the death of her husband in 1892 until they peter out in 1902 chart the course of Lady Gregory's gradual but remarkable remaking of her life Widowed at thirty nine with a London social circle composed mainly of her husband's friends broadly Unionist in her political views and with only a few minor publications to her name she was by her fiftieth year an influential Nationalist close friend of the major figures of the Irish literary movement widely acknowledged as the hostess of a workshop of genius at Coole Park and on the threshold of lasting literary prominence in her own right The rich account these pages give of Lady Gregory's life in the 1890s and of her deepening friendship with and patronage of W B Yeats radically changes the existing image of her evolution as an Irish writer and Nationalist As the only contemporary diary kept by a major figure in the Irish literary movement during these years their day to day record of the summer visits of Synge George Moore AE Hyde and others to Coole of the early years of the Irish Literary Theatre and of the swiftly changing allegiances and tensions in her extensive literary circle provides a revealing and frequently corrective counterweight to the narratives of these years written long afterwards in the light of later autobiographical imperatives by Yeats Moore Lady Gregory herself and others

Ezra Pound and Poetic Influence, 2021-09-13 This collection of twenty essays investigates a series of different aspects of poetic influence in relation to the major modernist poet Ezra Pound The volume commences with five essays on matters to do with translation and poetic influence which situate Ezra Pound as an important transitional figure between 19th century and 20th century translation strategies The next five essays consider different influences on Pound's poetry and introduce the reader to new research in a variety of areas including how specific Chinese cultural artefacts inform his poetry The following five essays explore Pound's influence on some of his major contemporaries such as Eugenio Montale and Charles Olson and also through the reading he gave her as a girl on his daughter Mary de Rachewiltz The concluding five essays exemplify different approaches to the thorny issue of Pound and politics and end with two diametrically opposed interpretations of Pound's political poetic thought The collection will be of great interest to scholars of Ezra Pound and of modern to postmodern poetry but it will also serve as a useful and lively introduction to some of the debates within Pound scholarship to students coming to his work for the first time

Recovering Memory Hedda Friberg, Irene Gilsenan Nordin, Lene Yding Pedersen, 2009-03-26 Various ways of collecting storing and recovering memories have been the focus of the most recent joint research project carried out by a group of Irish Studies scholars all based in the Nordic countries and members of the Nordic Irish Studies Network NISN The result of the project Recovering Memory Irish Representations of Past and Present is a collection of essays which examines the theme of memory in Irish literature and culture against the theoretical background of the philosophical discourse of modernity Offering a wide range of perspectives this volume examines a plurality of representations past and present of memory both public and private and the intersection between collective memory and individual in modern Ireland Also explored is the relation between memory and identity national and private as well as questions of subjectivity and the construction of the self Given Ireland's tragic past and its long history of colonisation it is inevitable that various aspects of memory in terms of nationality post colonialism and politics also have bearing on this study The volume is divided into five sections each of which examines one broadly defined aspect of memory The introductory section focuses on memory and history and is followed by sections on memory and autobiography place identity and memory in the work of novelist John Banville Within each section the individual writers engage in a fruitful dialogue with each other and with the approaches of such theorists as Arendt Husserl Merleau Ponty Ricoeur and Baudrillard Modernist Literary Collaborations between Women and Men Russell McDonald, 2022-10-27 Major figures including W B Yeats Marianne Moore D H Lawrence Ford Madox Ford and Virginia Woolf viewed cross sex collaboration as a valuable and often subversive strategy for bringing women and men s differing perspectives into productive dialogue while harnessing the creative potential of gendered discord This study is the first to acknowledge collaboration between women and men as an important part of the modernist effort to make it new Drawing on current methods from textual scholarship to read modernist texts as material socially constructed products of multiple hands the study argues that cross sex collaboration involved writers working not just with each other but also with publishers and illustrators By documenting and tracing the contours of their desire for cross sex collaboration we gain a new understanding of the modernists thinking about sex and gender relations as well as three related topics of great interest to them marriage androgyny and genius The Living Stream Warwick Gould, 2013 Memories of the man are shared by Seamus Heaney Christopher Rush and Colin Smythe who compiles a bibliography of Jeffares s work Terence Brown Neil Corcoran Warwick Gould Joseph M Hassett Phillip L Marcus Ann Saddlemyer Ronald Schuchard Deirdre Toomey and Helen Vendler offer essays on such topics as Yeats and the Colours of Poetry Yeats s Shakespeare Yeats and Seamus Heaney Lacrimae Rerum and Tragic Joy Raftery s work on Yeats s Thoor Ballylee Edmund Dulac s portrait of Mrs George Yeats The Tower as an anti Modernist monument with close studies of Vacillation Her Triumph and The Cold Heaven Throughout the essays are inflected with memories of Jeffares and his critical methods The volume is rounded with further essays on A Vision by Neil Mann and Matthew de Forrest while reviews of recent editions and studies are provided by Matthew Campbell Wayne K Chapman Sandra Clark Denis Donoghue Nicholas Grene Joseph M Hassett and K P S Jochum Yeats Annual is published by Open Book Publishers in association with the Institute of English Studies University of London
