Lakeland Landscapes:

New Cultural Landscapes Maggie Roe, Ken Taylor, 2014-01-21 While historical and protected landscapes have been well studied for years the cultural significance of ordinary landscapes is now increasingly recognised This groundbreaking book discusses how contemporary cultural landscapes can be and are created and recognised The book challenges common concepts of cultural landscapes as protected or special landscapes that include significant buildings or features Using case studies from around the world it questions the usual measures of judgement related to cultural landscapes and instead focuses on landscapes that are created planned or simply evolve as a result of changing human cultures management policy and practice Each contribution analyses the geographical and human background of the landscape and policies and management strategies that impact upon it and defines the meanings of cultural landscape in its particular context Taken together they establish a new paradigm in the study of landscapes in all forms

Lakeland Landscapes Rob Talbot, Robin Whiteman, 1997 The English lake district is one of the most beautiful and unspoilt areas in Britain A source of inspiration for both writers and painters celebrated in the poetry of Wordsworth and Coleridge the lake District became a popular destination for travellers as early as the C18th

Guide to the Lakes gives a first hand account of his feelings about the unique countryside that was the source of his inspiration. He addresses concerns that are relevant today such as how the growing number of visitors and the money they might bring would affect such a small and vulnerable landscape. It is now understood that Wordsworth's notion of the Lake District as a sort of national property in which every man has a right and interest who has an eye to perceive and a heart to enjoy expressed in his Guide gave a rationale for the foundation of the National Trust in 1895 and the establishment of the Lake District National Park in 1951. Furthermore the 2017 nomination document for the Lake District as a World Heritage site quotes this phrase in recognition of Wordsworth's contribution to the idea that landscape has a value and that everyone has a right to appreciate and enjoy it. We can now see how Wordsworth's Guide has had a far reaching influence on the modern concept of legally protected landscape. First published in 1810 and repeatedly revised by its author over the ensuing twenty five years William Wordsworth's Guide to the Lakes has long been considered a crucial text for scholars of Romantic era aesthetics ecology travel writing and tourism.

The Making of a Cultural Landscape Jason Wood, John K. Walton, 2016-03-09. For centuries the English Lake District has been renowned as an important cultural sacred and literary landscape. It is therefore surprising that there has so far been no in depth critical examination of the Lake District from a tourism and heritage perspective. Bringing together leading writers from a wide range of disciplines this book explores the tourism history and heritage of the Lake District and its construction as a cultural landscape from the mid eighteenth century to the present day. It critically analyses the relationships between history heritage landscape culture and policy that underlie the activities of the National Park Cumbria Tourism and the proposals to recognise the Lake District as a UNESCO World Heritage Site. It examines all aspects of the Lake District's history and identity brings the story up to date and looks at current issues in conservation policy and tourism marketing. In doing so it not only provides a unique and valuable analysis of this region but offers insights into the history of cultural and heritage tourism in Britain and beyond.

Ecosystem Service Potentials and Their Indicators in Postglacial Landscapes Andrzej Affek, Marek Degórski, Jacek Wolski, Jerzy Solon, Anna Kowalska, Ewa Roo-Zielinska, Bozenna Grabinska, Bogusława Kruczkowska, 2019-10-30. Ecosystem Service Potentials and Their Indicators in Postglacial Landscapes Assessment and Mapping provides valuable guidance for anyone involved with ecosystem service potential monitoring use and management from landscape ecologists and environmental managers to policymakers and environmental economists. The book highlights effective measurement tools for evaluating the overall potential of ecosystem services from multiple perspectives. Beginning with an introduction to ecosystem services and the theoretical assumptions and objectives associated with their assessment the book goes on to outline interdisciplinary methods of evaluation and analysis that are fully supported and illustrated throughout using an insightful case study focused on Wigry National Park. A range of different spatial reference units are also discussed followed by chapters on both analytical and synthetic approaches to identifying service supply potential. In addition the use of services and the impact of these uses on the assessment of potential is included along with a discussion of the future shape of ecosystem service assessment

Outlines a transdisciplinary holistic approach to assessing the overall potential of ecosystems and landscapes to support different ecosystem services Proposes a range of direct indirect simple and complex measurement indicators for multifaceted estimation and mapping Presents tools and guidelines to help shape effective decision making processes in nature conservation and environmental planning

The Song of the Earth Jonathan Bate, 2000-09-18 In the first ecological reading of English literature Jonathan Bate traces the distinctions among nature culture and environment and shows how their meanings have changed since their appearance in the literature of the eighteenth century

Landscape Analysis and Planning M. Luc, U. Somorowska, J.B. Szymańska, 2015-03-20 This book presents recent advances in landscape analysis and landscape planning based on selected studies conducted in different parts of Europe Included are methodological problems and case studies presented and discussed during scientific sessions organized by the Commission of Landscape Analysis and Landscape Planning of the International Geographical Union IGU within the framework of the IGU Regional Conference in Krak w Poland August 18-22 2014 The subject of landscape analysis and landscape planning has been of interest to geographers since the beginning of the twentieth century This relatively new area of study which focuses on the landscape resource patches and spatial interconnections was first introduced as landscape ecology Landschaftsoekologie by Carl Troll one of the twentieth century's most influential physical geographers Today landscape studies involve adopting a holistic view of geographic environments and are closely connected to rapidly developing ecosystem sustainable landscape and ecosystem services approaches Modern techniques employing Geographical Information Systems are used to support spatial landscape analyses

Nordic Landscapes Michael Jones, 2008 The first in depth presentation of the Nordic landscapes to be published in nearly twenty years Norden the region along the northern edge of Europe bordered by Russia and the Baltic nations to the east and by North America to the west is a particularly fruitful site for the examination of the ever evolving meaning of landscape and region as place Contributors to this work reveal how Norden's regions and people have been defined by and against the dominant culture of Europe while at the same time their landscapes and cultures have shaped and inspired Europe's ways of life Together the essays provide a much needed picture of this culturally rich and geographically varied part of the world pub desc

Tales From the Hills Pete Buckley, 2010-06-19 Tales From the Hills is a collection of stories from the author's travels in Europe's mountain and wilderness areas including the Alps and Norway as well as closer to home outings in the Lake District Snowdonia and the Scottish Highlands The easy to follow and often humorous narrative takes the reader on the road less travelled to Alpine glaciers Lakeland tarns and the wilds of Scotland On the way we encounter Dutch caravanners on the mountain roads of Norway part time peak baggers in the Lake District and a walker in Wales who is so lost he has climbed the wrong mountain This will appeal to anyone who has a love for walking and the outdoors as well as those who enjoy a good traveller's tale

Trees, Forested Landscapes and Grazing

Animals Ian D. Rotherham, 2013 In this comprehensive book the critical components of the European landscape forest parkland and other grazed landscapes with trees are addressed The book considers the history of grazed treed landscapes of large grazing herbivores in Europe and the implications of the past in shaping our environment today and in the future Debates on the types of anciently grazed landscapes in Europe and what they tell us about past and present ecology have been especially topical and controversial recently This treatment brings the current discussions and the latest research to a much wider audience The book breaks new ground in broadening the scope of wood pasture and woodland research to address sites and ecologies that have previously been overlooked but which hold potential keys to understanding landscape dynamics Eminent contributors including Oliver Rackham and Frans Vera present a text which addresses the importance of history in understanding the past landscape and the relevance of historical ecology and landscape studies in providing a future vision A Date at the Dog and Gun Roy Whittaker, The European Landscape Convention Michael

Jones, Marie Stenseke, 2011-02-09 This important and insightful book provides for the first time a broad presentation of ongoing research into public participation in landscape conservation management and planning following the 2000 European Landscape Convention which came into force in 2004 The book examines both the theory of participation and what lessons can be learnt from specific European examples It explores in what manner and to what extent the provisions for participation in the European Landscape Convention have been followed up and implemented It also presents and compares different experiences of participation in selected countries from northern southern eastern and western Europe and provides a critical examination of public participation in practice However while the book's focus is necessarily on Europe many of the conclusions drawn are of global relevance The book provides a valuable reference for researchers and advanced students in landscape policies and management as well as for professionals and others interested in land use planning and environmental management Hike DK Travel, 2022-07-12 It's hard to beat the satisfaction of travelling on foot settling into a steady rhythm surrounded by incredible scenery with the freedom to stop wherever takes your fancy This endlessly rewarding and sustainable activity is joyously celebrated in Hike which reveals 125 of the most scenic and spectacular walking trails across the globe It's the ultimate inspiration for exploring under your own steam ramble along coastal paths in Europe scale soaring mountain peaks in Africa and trek through amber hued canyons in North America Compiled by a team of outdoor enthusiasts this book is packed with ideas for your next hiking trip Awe inspiring images and compelling descriptions of each trail will have you itching to get walking while handy maps elevation profiles and practical information including things like distance and total elevation gain will help you plan the nitty gritty of your trip We've also included the best places to explore en route whether that's lunch spots epic viewpoints or nearby must see sights as well as suggestions for alternative ways to tackle a trail Hike is your ticket to the adventure of a lifetime Inside Hike you will find Practical top tips for getting the most out of each hike including recommended stops viewpoints en route and how to make the hike
