R. Poos,2022 Love Hate and the Law in Tudor England reconstructs the life of Ralph Rishton a member of the sixteenth century Lancashire gentry who was a child bridegroom and a serial wife discarder who bribed church officials to obtain a forged annulment defrauded a kinsman out of his inheritance and adroitly manipulated his own and other people's land. The dozens of lawsuits in which the Rishtons were involved in many different courts elucidate one family's engagement with law in Tudor England: how they used and misused law; how it shaped their perceptions of rights and mutual obligations; and how it framed litigants and witnesses' language. Drawing upon trial and estate records, the core of this study is the central narrative of Ralph Rishton's three wives of litigiousness and violence: marriage and property and the pursuit of equitable resolutions to disputes, along with countless smaller narratives that vividly capture a culture in its time and place. Alongside that central narrative, L. R. Poos uses the Rishton stories as a starting point to analyse child marriage, the construction of memory and the development of local historical identity through antiquarians and the Victorian and Edwardian local press, demonstrating how from the time of the Rishtons into the twentieth century historical narratives were continually reshaped and repurposed.
