Land And Polity In Tibet:

Land and Polity in Tibet Pedro Carrasco, Pedro Carrasco Pizana, 1972 Land and Polity in Tibet American ethnological society (N.Y.), Pedro Carrasco Pizana, 1959 The Tibetan History Reader Gray Tuttle, Kurtis R. Schaeffer, 2013-04-09 Covering the social cultural and political development of Tibet from the seventh century to the modern period this resource reproduces essential hard to find essays from the past fifty years of Tibetan studies along with several new contributions Beginning with Tibet's emergence as a regional power and concluding with its profound contemporary transformations the collection is both a general and specific history connecting the actions of individuals communities and institutions to broader historical trends shaping Asia and the world With contributions from American French German Italian Chinese Japanese and Tibetan scholars the anthology reflects the international character of Tibetan studies and its multiple interdisciplinary perspectives By far the most concise scholarly anthology on Tibetan civilization in any Western language this reader draws a clear portrait of Tibet's history its relation to its neighbors and its role in world affairs Land and Polity in Tibet Pedro Carrasco, 1972 The Making of Modern Tibet A. Tom Grunfeld, 2015-02-24 An account of Tibet and the Tibetan people that emphasises the political history of the 20th century This book attempts to reach beyond the polemics by considering the various historical arguments using archival material from several nations and drawing conclusions focused on available documents Histories of Tibet Kurtis R. Schaeffer, William A. McGrath, Jue Liang, 2023-07-25 The thirty four essays in this volume follow the particular interests of Leonard van der Kuijp whose groundbreaking research in Tibetan intellectual and cultural history imbued his students with an abiding sense of curiosity and discovery As part of Leonard van der Kuijp's research in Tibetan history he patiently and expertly revealed treasures of the Tibetan intellectual tradition in fourteenth century Tsang seventeenth century Lhasa or eighteenth century Amdo The thirty four essays in this volume follow the particular interests of the honoree and express the comprehensive research that his international cohort has engaged in alongside his generous tutelage over the course of forty years His inquisitiveness can be experienced through every one of his writings and can be found as well in these new essays in intellectual cultural and institutional history by Christopher Beckwith Yael Bentor the late Hubert Decleer Franz Karl Ehrhard Jrg Heimbel and David Jackson Nathan Hill Isabelle Henrion Dourcy Matthew Kapstein Todd Lewis Kurtis Schaeffer Peter Schwieger Gray Tuttle Pieter Verhagen Michael Witzel and others The Tibetan Independence Movement Jane Ardley, 2003-08-27 The first serious analysis of the Tibetan independence movement this book is also the first to view the struggle from a comparative perspective making an overt comparison with the Indian independence movement Tibetan Civilization Rolf Alfred Stein, 1972 An overall view of the Tibetan civilization both ancient and modern Tibet This book relates developments in Tibet to those in the rest of Asia China's Last Imperial Frontier Xiuyu Wang, 2011-11-28 China's Last Imperial Frontier explores imperial China's frontier expansion in the Tibetan borderlands during the last decades of the Qing The empire mounted a series of military attacks against indigenous chieftaincies and Buddhist monasteries in the east Tibetan region seeking to replace native authorities with state bureaucrats by redrawing the politically diverse frontier into a system of Chinese style counties Historically at all the strategic frontier locations the state had been for the most part outstripped by local institutions in political military and ideological strengths With perceived threats from the Anglo Russian Great Game accentuating Qing vulnerability in Tibet the Sichuan government took advantage of the frontier crisis by encroaching upon local and Lhasa domains in Kham Even though the Kham campaign was portrayed in Qing official discourse as a part of the nationwide reforms of New Policies xinzheng and administrative regularization gaitu guiliu its progress on the ground was influenced by the dynamics of interregional relations including Sichuan's competition with central Tibet power struggles among Qing frontier officials and varied Khampa responses to the new regime The growing regionalism intensified the resistance of local forces to imperial authority Despite the uneven results of the late Qing campaign it had come to serve as an important source of sovereignty claims and policy inspirations for the subsequent governments Nomads of Eastern Tibet Rinzin Thargyal, 2007 This book presents the first comprehensive anthropological account of premodern Tibetan pastoral economy and social organization in the Kham region of eastern Tibet and convincingly readdresses anthropological debates and political claims about feudalism or serfdom in Tibetan societies Tibet in Agony Jianglin Li, 2016-10-10 In 1959 the Dalai Lama emerged in India where he set up his government in exile Soon after he left Lhasa the Chinese People's Liberation Army pummeled the city in the Battle of Lhasa The Tibetans were forced to capitulate putting Mao in a position to impose Communist rule over Tibet

A History of Modern Tibet, volume 2 Melvyn C. Goldstein, 2007-08-01 It is not possible to fully understand contemporary politics between China and the Dalai Lama without understanding what happened and why during the 1950s In a book that continues the story of Tibet's history that he began in his acclaimed A History of Modern Tibet 1913-1951: The Demise of the Lamaist State Melvyn C. Goldstein critically revises our understanding of that key period in midcentury This authoritative account utilizes new archival material including never before seen documents and extensive interviews with Tibetans including the Dalai Lama and with Chinese officials Goldstein furnishes fascinating and sometimes surprising portraits of these major players as he deftly unravels the fateful intertwining of Tibetan and Chinese politics against the backdrop of the Korean War the tenuous Sino-Soviet alliance and American cold war policy The Future of Tibet Helen R. Boyd, 2004

This book discusses the emergence of democracy's modernizing force in an exiled community with a political history based on a feudal theocracy Since his exile almost forty years ago the Dalai Lama and his government in exile have steered this fledgling democratic community toward the fulfillment of his dream of converting a theocracy to a democracy The establishment of a tripartite government with separate powers and the development of a framework for a future democratic polity if and when Tibetans regain their land is a testament to the ongoing democratizing revolution Proceedings of the Tenth Seminar of the IATS, 2003. Volume 2: Tibetan Borderlands, 2006-08-01 Since the occupation of Tibet by the Peoples

Republic of China in 1959 former border principalities and feudatories of the former realm of the Dalai Lama have broken away and have developed sociopolitical and economic bonds with other states Sikkim Bhutan Ladakh and the Tibeto Burman speaking regions of Burma Nepal and others have all developed strong ethnic identities apart from Tibet Eleven well known scholars working in these borderlands of Tibet present in this volume aspects of their current historical linguistic and ethnographic research Originally presented at the Oxford University meeting of the International Association of Tibetan Studies in 2003 the volume provides a unique panoply of cultural diversity within the contemporary Tibeto Burman speaking world Illustrated with introduction A Change in Worlds on the Sino-Tibetan Borderlands Jack Patrick

Hayes, 2013-12-19 A Change in Worlds explores the environmental economic and political history of the Sino Tibetan Songpan region of northern Sichuan from the late imperial Qing Dynasty to the early 21st century A historically Tibetan region on the eastern edge of the Tibetan Plateau with significant Han and Muslim Chinese populations Songpan played important roles in the development of western and modern China's ethnic relations policies forestry sector grasslands and environmental conservation and recent developments in eco and ethnic tourism as part of various Chinese states However in spite of close associations with various Tibetan and Chinese regimes the region also has a rich history of local independence and resilient nomadic semi nomadic and agricultural populations and identities The Sino Tibetan diversity in Songpan partly formed by unique ecological conditions conditioned all attempts to incorporate the region into larger and more centralized state homogenizing structures This historical study analyzes the social force of markets and nature in the Songpan region in concert with the political and social conflicts and compromise at the heart of changing political regimes and the area's ethnic groups It presents new perspectives on the social transformation and economies of Tibetans and Han Chinese from the late Qing Dynasty to Mao era and contemporary western China It not only allows for a new understanding of how the natural environment and landscapes fit into the imagination of the Sino Tibetan borderlands it also figures in the challenges of negotiating ethnic and market relations among societies The mix of complicated relations over natural environment resources politics and markets was at the heart of the region's social and political infrastructures with far reaching implications for both historical and contemporary China Taming Tibet Emily T. Yeh, 2013-10-25 The violent protests in Lhasa in 2008 against Chinese rule were met by disbelief and anger on the part of Chinese citizens and state authorities perplexed by Tibetans' apparent ingratitude for the generous provision of development In Taming Tibet Emily T. Yeh examines how Chinese development projects in Tibet served to consolidate state space and power Drawing on sixteen months of ethnographic fieldwork between 2000 and 2009 Yeh traces how the transformation of the material landscape of Tibet between the 1950s and the first decade of the twenty first century has often been enacted through the labor of Tibetans themselves Focusing on Lhasa Yeh shows how attempts to foster and improve Tibetan livelihoods through the expansion of markets and the subsidized building of new houses the control over movement and space and the education of Tibetan desires for development have worked together at different times and how they are experienced in everyday life The master narrative of the PRC stresses generosity the state and Han migrants selflessly provide development to the supposedly backward Tibetans raising the living standards of the Han s little brothers Arguing that development is in this context a form of indebtedness engineering Yeh depicts development as a hegemonic project that simultaneously recruits Tibetans to participate in their own marginalization while entrapping them in gratitude to the Chinese state The resulting transformations of the material landscape advance the project of state territorialization Exploring the complexity of the Tibetan response to and negotiations with development Taming Tibet focuses on three key aspects of China s modernization agrarian change Chinese migration and urbanization Yeh presents a wealth of ethnographic data and suggests fresh approaches that illuminate the Tibet Question

The Chinese Revolution on the Tibetan Frontier Benno Weiner,2020-06-15 In The Chinese Revolution on the Tibetan Frontier Benno Weiner provides the first in depth study of an ethnic minority region during the first decade of the People s Republic of China the Amdo region in the Sino Tibetan borderland Employing previously inaccessible local archives as well as other rare primary sources he demonstrates that the Communist Party s goal in 1950s Amdo was not just state building but also nation building Such an objective required the construction of narratives and policies capable of convincing Tibetans of their membership in a wider political community As Weiner shows however early efforts to gradually and organically transform a vast multiethnic empire into a singular nation state lost out to a revolutionary impatience demanding more immediate paths to national integration and socialist transformation This led in 1958 to communization then to large scale rebellion and its brutal pacification Rather than joining voluntarily Amdo was integrated through the widespread often indiscriminate use of violence a violence that lingers in the living memory of Amdo Tibetans and others
