Ladies, Women, and Wenches Jane H. Pease, William H. Pease, 2017-10-01 Pursuing the meaning of gender in nineteenth century urban American society Ladies Women and Wenches compares the lives of women living in two distinctive antebellum cultures Charleston and Boston between 1820 and 1850 In contrast to most contemporary histories of women this study examines the lives of all types of women in both cities slave and free rich and poor married and single those who worked mostly at home and those who led more public lives Jane Pease and William Pease argue that legal political economic and cultural constraints did limit the options available to women Nevertheless women had opportunities to make meaningful choices about their lives and sometimes to achieve considerable autonomy By comparing the women of Charleston and Boston the authors explore how both urbanization and regional differences especially with regard to slavery governed all women's lives They assess the impact of marriage and work on women's religious philanthropic and reform activity and examine the female uses of education and property in order to illuminate the considerable variation in women's lives Finally they consider women's choices of life style ranging from compliance with to defiance of increasingly rigid social precepts defining appropriate female behavior However bound women were by society's prescriptions describing their role or by the class structure of their society they chose their ways of life from among such options as spinsterhood or marriage domesticity or paid work charitable activity or the social whirl the solace of religion or the escape of drink Drawing on a variety of sources including diaries court documents and contemporary literature Ladies Women and Wenches explores how the women of Charleston and Boston made the choices in their lives between total dependence and full autonomy

We Were Still Ladies Coreen Derifield, 2025 Following World War II women living in small towns and on farms across the Midwest woke every morning and headed out for a long day of work in a nearby factory This transition into industrial work caused tremendous change within families and with household roles These alterations in daily life rippled throughout midwestern culture and society changing the landscape of small towns into decentralized industrial centers

Classes of Ladies of Cloistered Spaces Marilyn Booth, 2015-01-20 Zaynab Fawwaz c 1860 1914 was as a forceful voice in support of women's rights to education and work choices in colonial era Egypt Her volume of 453 women's lives al Durr al manthur fi tabaqat rabbat al khudur Pearls scattered in times and places Classes of ladies of cloistered spaces 1893 6 featuring Boudicca Catherine the Great Zaynab the granddaughter of the Prophet Muhammad Victoria Woodhull the Turkish poet Sirri Hanim and many others built on the Arabic Islamic biographical tradition to produce a work for women in the modern era grafting European Turkish Arab and Indian life narratives amongst others onto Arabic literary patterns In Classes of Ladies of Cloistered Spaces Marilyn Booth argues that Fawwaz's work was less exemplary biography than feminist history in its exploration of achievement but also of patriarchal trauma in the lives of women across times and places. She traces Fawwaz's creative use of her sources, her presentation of biographical narratives in the context of the political essays she wrote in the Arabic press, her publicised dialogue with the President of the Board of Lady Managers of the 1893 World Columbian Exposition where she attempted to send the volume, and how her inscription of a feminine ancient history diverged from that of men writing history in 1890s Egypt. Ladies of the Canyons Lesley Poling-Kempes, 2015-09-17 Ladies of the Canyons is the true story of remarkable women who left the security and comforts of genteel Victorian society and journeyed to the American Southwest in search of a wider view of themselves and their world. Educated, restless and inquisitive, Natalie Curtis, Carol Stanley, Alice Klauber and Mary Cabot Wheelwright were plucky, intrepid women whose lives were transformed in the first decades of the twentieth century by the people and the landscape of the American Southwest. Part of an influential circle of women that included Louisa Wade Wetherill, Alice Corbin Henderson, Mabel Dodge Luhan, Mary Austin and Willa Cather, these ladies imagined and created a new home, territory, a new society and a new identity for themselves and for the women who would follow them. Their adventures were shared with the likes of Theodore Roosevelt and Robert Henri, Edgar Hewett and Charles Lummis. Chief Tawakwaptiwa of the Hopi and Hostiin Klah of the Navajo. Their journeys took them to Monument Valley and Rainbow Bridge, into Canyon de Chelly and across the high mesas of the Hopi, down through the Grand Canyon and over the red desert of the Four Corners to the pueblos along the Rio Grande and the villages in the mountains between Santa Fe and Taos. Although their stories converge in the outback of the American Southwest, the saga of Ladies of the Canyons is also the tale of Boston's Brahmins, the Greenwich Village avant-garde, the birth of American modern art and Santa Fe's art and literary colony. Ladies of the Canyons is the story of New Women stepping boldly into the New World of inconspicuous success, ambitious failure and the personal challenges experienced by women and men during the emergence of the Modern Age. Urban Appetites Cindy R. Lobel, 2014-04-28 Glossy magazines write about them, celebrities give their names to them and you'd better believe there's an app or ten committed to finding you the right one. They are New York City restaurants and food shops. And their journey to international notoriety is a captivating one. The now booming food capital was once a small seaport city home to a mere six municipal food markets that were stocked by farmers, fishermen and hunters who lived in the area. By 1890, however, the city's population had grown to more than one million and residents could dine in thousands of restaurants with a greater abundance and variety of options than any other place in the United States. Historians, sociologists and foodies alike will devour the story of the origins of New York City's food industry in Urban Appetites. Cindy R. Lobel focuses on the rise of New York as both a metropolis and a food capital, opening a new window onto the intersection of the cultural, social, political and economic transformations of the nineteenth century. She offers wonderfully detailed accounts of public markets and private food shops, basement restaurants and immigrant diners serving favorites.

from the old country cake and coffee shops and high end French inspired eating houses made for being seen in society as much as for dining But as the food and the population became increasingly cosmopolitan corruption contamination and undeniably inequitable conditions escalated Urban Appetites serves up a complete picture of the evolution of the city its politics and its foodways

Women, Literary Ladies Sylvia J. Cook, 2008-01-30 Working Women Literary Ladies explores the simultaneous entry of working class women in the United States into wage earning factory labor and into opportunities for mental and literary development It is the first book to examine the fascinating exchange between the work and literary spheres for laboring women in the rapidly industrializing America of the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries As women entered the public sphere as workers their opportunities for intellectual growth expanded even as those same opportunities were often tightly circumscribed by the factory owners who were providing them These developments both institutional and personal opened up a range of new possibilities for working class women that profoundly affected women of all classes and the larger social fabric Cook examines the extraordinary and diverse literary productions of these working women ranging from their first New England magazine of belles lettres The Lowell Offering to Emma Goldman's periodical Mother Earth from Lucy Larcom's epic poem of female factory life An Idyl of Work to Theresa Malkiel's fictional account of sweatshop workers in New York The Diary of a Shirtwaist Striker This vital new book traces the hopes and tensions generated by the expectations of working class women as they created a wholly new way of being alive in the world The Palgrave Encyclopedia of Victorian Women's Writing Lesa Scholl, Emily Morris, 2022-12-15 Since the late twentieth century there has been a strategic campaign to recover the impact of Victorian women writers in the field of English literature However with the increased understanding of the importance of interdisciplinarity in the twenty first century there is a need to extend this campaign beyond literary studies in order to recognise the role of women writers across the nineteenth century a time that was intrinsically interdisciplinary in approach to scholarly writing and public intellectual engagement The Ladies' Home Journal Edward William Bok, 1922 Encyclopedia of Women in World Religions Susan de-Gaia, 2018-11-16 This reference offers reliable knowledge about women's diverse faith practices throughout history and prehistory and across cultures Across the span of human history women have participated in world building and life sustaining cultural creativity making enormous contributions to religion and spirituality In the contemporary period women have achieved greater equality with more educational opportunities female role models in public life and opportunities for religious expression than ever before Contemporaneously with this increased visibility women are actively and energetically engaging with religion for themselves and for their communities Drawing on the expertise of a range of scholars this reference chronicles the religious experiences of women across time and cultures The book includes sections on major religions as well as on spirituality African religions prehistoric religions and other broad topics Each section begins with an introduction followed by reference entries on specialized subjects along with excerpts from primary source documents The entries provide numerous suggestions for further reading and the book closes with a detailed bibliography Women and Freedom in Early America Larry Eldridge, 1997 It is virtually impossible to generalize about the degree to which women in early America were free What if anything did enslaved black women in the South have in common with powerful female leaders in Iroquois society Were female tavern keepers in the backcountry of North Carolina any more free than nuns and sisters in New France religious orders Were the restrictions placed on widows and abandoned wives at all comparable to those experienced by autonomous women or spinsters Bringing to light the enormous diversity of women s experience Women and Freedom in Early America centers variously on European American African American and Native American women from 1400 to 1800 Spanning almost half a millenium the book ranges the colonial terrain from New France and the Iroquois Nations down through the mainland British American colonies By drawing on a wide array of sources including church and court records correspondence journals poetry and newspapers these essays examine Puritan political writings white perceptions of Indian women Quaker spinsterhood and African and Iroquois mythology among many other topics

Women, Work and Islamism Maryam Poya, 1999 Based on original research into women s participation in the workforce this book is the most up to date study of women in Iran available The Islamisation of state and society which followed the 1979 revolution involved an attempt by the Islamic state to seclude women within the home However the power of the state was constrained by many factors the Iran Iraq war economic restructuring and women s own responses to oppression In spite of continual attempts by the state to strengthen patriarchal relationships women s participation in the labour force in 1999 is greater than it was before the revolution Women s participation in both the economy and in political movements has led to a much greater level of gender consciousness in the 1990s than at the height of westernisation in the 1960s and 70s Religious and secular women in urban areas have demanded reforms and forced the Islamic state to return to the position of the pre 1979 reforms Providing a history of Iran an introduction to Islamism and an analysis of the women and Islam debate this book will be necessary reading for students and academics of Middle East studies women s studies and labour studies
