Lady Windermere's Fan Oscar Wilde, 2021-02-09 Lady Windermere misinterprets her husband's interest in an older woman Mrs Erlynne causing a rift that could lead to both marital and societal ruin. Lady Windermere's Fan is an intriguing tale that examines intention versus outcome in a world driven by perception. Lady Windermere is a young wife who is concerned by her husband's connection to the mysterious Mrs Erlynne. She believes the woman is a threat to her marriage and livelihood. Despite her husband's denial Lady Windermere decides to entertain the attention of another suitor Lord Darlington. In the heat of the moment she engages in reckless behavior that could cause irreparable damage to her name. A sudden act of kindness from an unexpected source spares Lady Windermere a harsh fate. Windermere's Fan - A Play about a Good Woman Oscar Wilde, 2009-05 INTRODUCTION The early Chinese believed that jade had an immortality of its own and was impervious to decay. For them there was no substance nobler purer more durable more pre eminently suitable for the fashioning of religious emblems and the embodiment of dogma. Round jade as round a kernel the whole body of early Chinese civilisation crystallised. And yet they were not the first discoverers or users of jade for the Babylonians made seal cylinders of jade and Professor Elliott Smith believes that the Turkestan jade mountains and rivers were first worked by miners from Mesopotamia who passing on legends about the magical qualities of jade infected the Chinese with their beliefs. From the third millennium he says the mines on the S E of the Caspian were being exploited and contact was established between Babylonians Elamites and the population of Turkestan. But however early the contacts assumed or established we can state truthfully that the Chinese made jade particularly and everlastingly their own.

embodying in it their traditions their religion their administrative system They may have derived their belief in the life giving properties of jade from the Elamites or have come to attach a magical value to its presence from the Babylonian miners but for neither of these peoples was it the vehicle of supernatural beliefs and penetrate as far back as we may into pre history we cannot find a time in China in which jade was not used for religious purposes What perhaps emphasises the peculiar position of jade in Chinese culture is the fact that other early peoples used jade although for them it had no significance greater or even as great as gold or pearls Jade was dug and worked in many parts of Europe Hatchets have been found in Switzerland nephrite celts in South Italy and France Germany Dalmatia and Hungary Jade celts too were discovered by Schliemann at Hissarlik but by no people save the Chinese has jade been made the nucleus and the shrine of a civilisation although its use was distributed in Turkestan Persia Siberia India Lake Baikal and Japan and to a minor degree the substance was prized by most Asiatic peoples It is only during the last two decades that collectors have begun to realise the enormous importance of jade Dr Laufer broke new ground when in 1912 he published his great work xde A Study in Chinese Archzology and Religion His object in writing this book was rather ethnological than artistic He himself calls it a contribution to the l Anthropology

Erlynne is discovered in a compromising position. It is then revealed Mrs Erlynne is Lady Windermere's mother who abandoned her family twenty years before the time the play is set. Mrs Erlynne sacrifices herself and her reputation to save her daughter's marriage. Act I The play opens in the morning room of the Windermere's residence in London. It is tea time and Lady Windermere who is preparing for her coming of age birthday ball that evening has a visit from a friend Lord Darlington. She shows off her new fan a present from her husband. She explains to Lord Darlington that she is upset over the compliments he continues to pay to her revealing that she is a Puritan and has very particular views about what is acceptable in society. The Duchess of Berwick calls and Lord Darlington leaves shortly thereafter. The Duchess informs Lady Windermere that her husband may be betraying her marriage by making repeated visits to another woman a Mrs Erlynne and possibly giving her large sums of money. These rumours have been gossip among London society for quite a while though seemingly this is the first Lady Windermere has heard about it. Following the departure of the Duchess Lady Windermere decides to check her husband's bank book. She finds the book in a desk and sees that nothing appears amiss though on returning she discovers a second bank book one with a lock. After prying the lock open she finds it lists large sums of money given to Mrs Erlynne. At this point Lord Windermere enters and she confronts him. Though he cannot deny that he has had dealings with Mrs Erlynne he states that he is not betraying Lady Windermere. He requests that she send Mrs Erlynne an invitation to her birthday ball that evening to help her back into society. When Lady Windermere refuses he writes out an invitation himself. Lady Windermere makes clear her intention to cause a scene if Mrs Erlynne appears to which Lord Windermere responds that it would be in her best interest not to do so. Lady Windermere leaves in disgust to prepare for the party and Lord Windermere reveals in soliloquy that he is protecting Mrs Erlynne's true identity to save his wife extreme humiliation. What shall I do I dare not tell her who this woman really is. The shame would kill her. Lord Windermere
