scholars of South Asia Longlisted 2025 Cundill History Prize The city of Lahore was more than one thousand years old when it went through a violent schism As the South Asian subcontinent was partitioned in 1947 to gain freedom from Britain's colonial hold and the Islamic Republic of Pakistan was formed the city's large Hindu and Sikh populations were pushed toward India and an even larger Muslim refugee population settled in the city This was just the latest in a long history of the city's making and unmaking Over the centuries the city has kept a firm grip on the imagination of travelers poets writers and artists More recently it has been journalists who have been drawn to the city as a focal point for a nation that continues to grab international headlines For this book acclaimed historian Manan Ahmed Asif brings to life a diverse and vibrant world by walking the city again and again over the course of many years Along the way he joins Sufi study circles and architects doing restoration in the medieval parts of Lahore and speaks with a broad range of storytellers and historians To this Asif juxtaposes deep analysis of the city's centuries-old literary culture noting how it reverberates among the people of Lahore today To understand modern Pakistan requires understanding its cultural capital and Disrupted City uses Lahore's cosmopolitan past and its fractured present to provide a critical lens to challenge the grand narratives of the Pakistani nation state and its national project of writing history

Pakistan's changing demography Kedir, Mekamu, Schmidt, Emily, Wagas, Ahmad, 2016-04-13 This study uses Geographic Information Systems GIS to evaluate improvements in transportation infrastructure and related urbanization over the last 40 years in Pakistan In addition we suggest a definition to measure peri urban population using the agglomeration index methodology developed by Uchida and Nelson 2008 In doing so we incorporate a series of GIS data including travel time rasters population density rasters and other nationally collected biophysical and infrastructure variables i.e. roads railroads waterbodies in order to construct measurements of urban agglomeration within Pakistan We use road and population data from corresponding census years and government growth rates for more recent population estimates to model reductions in remoteness to urban areas over time
