Lanark A Life In 4s:

The Transgressive Iain Banks Martyn Colebrook, Katharine Cox, 2013-07-30 This collection of 12 new essays brings together prominent literary experts to explore the importance of Scottish writer Iain M Banks both his mainstream and science fiction work It considers Banks as a habitual border crosser who makes things fresh and new by subversive and transgressive strategies The essays are divided into four thematic areas the Scottish context the geographies of his writing the impact of genre and a combined focus on gender games and play and will be of particular interest to scholars of contemporary literature Scottish literature and science fiction

Alasdair Gray Stephen Bernstein, 1999-10 Since the publication of Lanark in 1981 Alasdair Gray has been a figure of importance in contemporary literature Now through attention to mixed genre counter historical narrative and the thematics of memory this first study of Alasdair Gray's novels shows the coherence of the Scottish writer's varied body of work Stephen Bernstein refuses to view Gray's work through the vague lens of postmodernism seeing Gray instead as a writer at home in a variety of literary traditions Beginning by providing an American audience with backgrounds to Gray's work this study recounts the chronology of his publications and their reception by an international audience simultaneously placing his writing in the contexts of Scottish culture and literature

Lanark Alasdair Gray, 199? British Desperadoes at the Turn of the Millennium, The Postmodern Chronotope Paul Smethurst, 2021-10-18 The Postmodern Chronotope is an innovative interdisciplinary study of the contemporary It will be of special interest to anyone interested in relations between postmodernism geography and contemporary fiction Some claim that postmodernism questions history and historical bases to culture some say it is about loss of affect loss of depth models and superficiality others claim it follows from the conditions of post industrial society and others cite commodification of place Disneyfication simulation and post tourist spectacle as evidence that postmodernism is wedded to late capitalism Whatever postmodernism is or turns out to have been it is bound up in rethinking and reworking space and time and Paul Smethurst's intervention here is to introduce the postmodern chronotope as a term through which these spatial and temporal shifts might be apprehended The postmodern chronotope constitutes a postmodern world view and postmodern way of seeing In a sense it is the natural successor to a modernist way of seeing defined through cubism montage and relativity The book is arranged as follows Part 1 is an interdisciplinary study casting a wide net across a range of cultural social and scientific activity from chaos theory to cinema from architecture to performance art from IT to tourism Part 2 offers original readings of a selection of postmodern novels including Graham Swift's Waterland and Out of this World Peter Ackroyd's Hawksmoor and First Light Alasdair Gray's Lanark J M Coetzee's Foe Marina Warner's Indigo Caryl Phillips Cambridge and Don DeLillo's The Names and Ratner's Star

Science Fiction in Print Charles N. Brown, William Contento, 1986

Glasgow Urban Writing and Postmodernism Beat Witschi, 1991 Alasdair Gray is one of the most innovative and imaginative writers to have appeared on the Scottish literary scene for many years Gray radically challenges the vision of Glasgow and Scotland as defined by the traditional Glasgow novel This study first looks back into the past of Glasgow writing to locate some specific novelistic models which Gray echoes in his fiction The main part of the study then illustrates that Gray's literary attitude of looking beyond Glasgow or Scotland is much more helpful in imagining Glasgow than to follow the established and trodden paths of Scottish urban writing In this sense Gray proves that the narrative techniques characteristic of postmodernist writing are not only helpful in expressing the often quoted Scottish experience of fragmentation but also in overcoming the artistic stalemate of the Glasgow novel
