Land Of Notion 1:

Religious and Philosophical Conversion in the Ancient Mediterranean Traditions ,2022-03-07 The interest in interdisciplinary research on the experience of religious conversion or spiritual transformation grows progressively In light of this burgeoning area of study this volume explores conversion or converting experience in the ancient Mediterranean with attention to early Judaism early Christianity and philosophy in the Roman empire The contributions include both historical and philological reconstructions relying on source material and utilizing interdisciplinary approaches Similarly the authors analyze the literary use of the motif of conversion the topic of philosophical conversion as well as ritual social and embodied aspects of spiritual transformation Researching Property Law Sarah Blandy,Susan Bright,2015-08-31 For those embarking on or engaged in property law research this is a unique resource which includes contributions from twelve international scholars who each analyse a different research approach addressing its value associated methodology and the challenges involved in pursuing it The Law Relating to the Transfer of Immoveable Property Kishore Mohan Chatterjea,1890 Property and Trust Law in Cyprus Tatiana Eleni Synodinou,2020-08-19 Derived from the renowned multi volume International Encyclopaedia of Laws this practical analysis of the law of property in Cyprus deals with the issues related to rights and interests in all kinds of property and immovable movable and personal property how property rights are acquired fiduciary mechanisms and security considerations Lawyers who handle transnational disputes and other matters concerning property will appreciate the explanation of specific terminology application and procedure An introduction outlining the essential legal cultural and historical considerations affecting property is followed by a discussion of the various types of property Further analysis describes how and to what extent legal subjects can have or obtain rights and interests in each type The coverage includes tangible and intangible property varying degrees of interest and the various ways in which property is transferred including the ramifications of appropriation expropriation and insolvency Facts are presented in such a way that readers who are unfamiliar with specific terms and concepts in varying contexts will fully grasp their meaning and significance The book includes ample references to doctrine and cases as well as to relevant international treaties and conventions Its succinct yet scholarly nature as well as the practical quality of the information it provides make this book a valuable time saving tool for any practitioner faced with a property related matter Lawyers representing parties with interests in Cyprus will welcome this very useful guide and academics and researchers will appreciate its value in the study of comparative property law Cases, Materials and Text on Property Law Sjef van Erp,Bram Akkermans,2012-07-23 This casebook presents a deep comparative analysis of property law systems in Europe ie the law of immovables movables and claims offering signposts and stepping stones for the reader wishing to explore this fascinating area The subject matter is explained with careful attention given to its history foundations thought patterns underlying principles and basic concepts The casebook focuses on uncovering differences and similarities between Europe s major legal systems French German

Dutch and English law are examined while Austrian and Belgian law are also touched upon. The book combines excerpts from primary source materials, case law and legislation and from doctrine and soft law. In doing so it presents a faithful picture of the systems concerned. Separate chapters deal with the various types of property rights, their creation, transfer and destruction, with security rights such as mortgages, pledges, retention of title as well as with harmonising and unifying efforts at the EU and global level. Through the functional approach taken by the Ius Commune Casebooks, this volume clearly demonstrates that traditional comparative insights no longer hold. The law of property used to be regarded as a product of historical developments and political ideology which were considered to be almost set in stone and assumed to render any substantial form of harmonisation or approximation very unlikely. Even experienced comparative lawyers considered the divide between common law and civil law to be so deep that no common ground so it was thought could be found. However, economic integration, in particular integration of financial markets and freedom of establishment, has led to the integration of particular areas of property law such as mortgage law and enforceable security instruments, e.g. retention of title. This pressure towards integration has led comparative lawyers to refocus their interest from contract, tort and unjustified enrichment to property law and delve beneath its surface. This book reveals that today property law systems are closer to one another than previously assumed, that common ground can be found and that differences can be analysed in a new light to enable comparison and further the development of property law in Europe.

Land Title in South Africa D. L. Carey Miller, 2000. This important new work is the first comprehensive survey of South African land law following the sweeping land reforms enacted during the past decade. It considers the substance and working of these reforms in the context of the pre-existing common law and legislation. An outline of the main features of the South African landholding before 1990 is followed in a detailed discussion of the established procedures of registration, prescription and alternative forms of title. Registration in terms of the Deeds Registries Act remains a fundamental aspect of the acquisition of real rights in land and chapters dealing with these subjects constitute an authoritative source of reference for the property practitioner and conveyancer, the consultant and developer. They revise and update the corresponding chapters from The Acquisition and Protection of Ownership (Juta 1986) by the same author which is relied upon by practitioners and the courts as a standard reference in the field of property law. The land reform programme is examined in the context of these pre-existing procedures and with reference to the history of discriminatory landholding and constitutional property provisions. The result is a coherent account of land title in South Africa at the end of the 20th century.
