marginalised in discussions about literature in the Berlin Republic this volume demonstrates that it has a vital role to play at their heart

The Novel and Europe Andrew Hammond, 2016-10-05 This book examines the ways in which fiction has addressed the continent since the Second World War Drawing on novelists from Europe and elsewhere the volume analyzes the literary response to seven dominant concerns ideas of Europe conflict borders empire unification migration and marginalization offering a ground breaking study of how modern and contemporary writers have participated in the European debate The sixteen essays view the chosen writers not as representatives of national literatures but as participants in transcontinental discussion that has occurred across borders cultures and languages In doing so the contributors raise questions about the forms of power operating across and radiating from Europe challenging both the institutionalized divisions of the Cold War and the triumphalist narrative of continental unity currently being written in Brussels

History of the Literary Cultures of East-Central Europe Marcel Cornis-Pope, John Neubauer, 2010-09-29 Types and stereotypes is the fourth and last volume of a path breaking multinational literary history that incorporates innovative features relevant to the writing of literary history in general Instead of offering a traditional chronological narrative of the period 1800 1989 the History of the Literary Cultures of East Central Europe approaches the region's literatures from five complementary angles focusing on literature's participation in and reaction to key political events literary periods and genres the literatures of cities and sub regions literary institutions and figures of representation The main objective of the project is to challenge the self enclosure of national literatures in traditional literary histories to contextualize them in a regional perspective and to recover individual works writers and minority literatures that national histories have marginalized or ignored Types and stereotypes brings together articles that rethink the figures of National Poets figurations of the Family Women Outlaws and Others as well as figures of Trauma and Mediation As in the previous three volumes the historical and imaginary figures discussed here constantly change and readjust to new political and social conditions An Epilogue complements the basic history focusing on the contradictory transformations of East Central European literary cultures after 1989 This volume will be of interest to the region's literary historians to students and teachers of comparative literature to cultural historians and to the general public interested in exploring the literatures of a rich and resourceful cultural region

The Novel in German since 1990 Stuart Taberner, 2011-09-01 Diversity is one of the defining characteristics of contemporary German language literature not just in terms of the variety of authors writing in German today but also in relation to theme form technique and style However common themes emerge the Nazi past transnationalism globalisation migration religion and ethnicity gender and sexuality and identity This book presents the novel in German since 1990 through a set of close readings both of international bestsellers including Daniel Kehlmann's Measuring the World and W G Sebald's Austerlitz and of less familiar but important texts such as Yad Kara's Selam Berlin Each novel discussed in the volume has been chosen on account of its aesthetic quality its impact and its representativeness the authors featured among them Nobel Prize winners G nter Grass Elfriede Jelinek and

Herta Müller demonstrate the energy and quality of contemporary writing in German Herta Müller Bettina Brandt, Valentina Glajar, 2013-11-01 Two languages German and Romanian inform the novels essays and collage poetry of Nobel laureate Herta Müller Describing her writing as autofictional Müller depicts the effects of violence cruelty and terror on her characters based on her own experiences in Communist Romania under the repressive Nicolae Ceaușescu regime Herta Müller Politics and Aesthetics explores Müller's writings from different literary cultural and historical perspectives Part 1 features Müller's Nobel lecture five new collage poems and an interview with Ernest Wichner a German Romanian author who has traveled with her and sheds light on her writing Parts 2 and 3 featuring essays by scholars from across Europe and the United States address the political and poetical aspects of Müller's texts Contributors discuss life under the Romanian Communist dictatorship while also stressing key elements of Müller's poetics which promises both self-conscious formal experimentation and political intervention One of the first books in English to thoroughly examine Müller's writing this volume addresses audiences with an interest in dissident exile migration experimental and transnational literature 100 geographies but also by country and culture In addition to contemporary titles each chapter features a brief overview of earlier translated fiction from the group The guide also provides in depth bibliographic essays for each chapter that will enable librarians and library users to further explore the literature of numerous languages and cultural traditions

Witness Literature - Proceedings Of The Nobel Centennial Symposium Horace Engdahl, 2002-12-20 In December 2001 the centennial of the first Nobel Prize was celebrated in Stockholm To mark the occasion the Swedish Academy organized a symposium on the theme of Witness Literature Talks were given by speakers from Asia Africa and Europe including three Nobel laureates in literature Nadine Gordimer Kenzaburo Oe and Gao Xingjian The main objective of the symposium was to examine the concept of witness literature and its relevance to contemporary literature This concept is relatively new and has not yet been defined clearly by literary criticism and scholarship The discussion primarily alternated between two aspects of the topic the particular claim to truth that witness literature puts forward and the process that leads from catastrophe to creativity and that turns the victim into a writing witness with the power to suspend forgetfulness and denial This volume edited by Horace Engdahl Permanent Secretary of the Swedish Academy brings together all the talks given at the symposium

Encyclopedia of German Literature Matthias Konzett, 2015-05-11 Designed to provide English readers of German literature the opportunity to familiarize themselves with both the established canon and newly emerging literatures that reflect the concerns of women and ethnic minorities the Encyclopedia of German Literature includes more than 500 entries on writers individual work and topics essential to an understanding of this rich literary tradition Drawing on the expertise of an international group of experts the essays in the encyclopedia reflect developments of the latest scholarship in German literature culture and history and society In addition to the essays author entries include biographies and works lists and works entries provide information about first editions selected critical editions and English language translations All entries conclude with a list of further readings

East and South Lucy Gasser, 2021-07-15 What is Europe in academic discourse While Europe tends to be used as shorthand often interchangeable with the West neither the West nor Europe are homogeneous spaces Though postcolonial studies have long been debunking Eurocentrism in its multiple guises there is still work to do in fully comprehending how its imaginations and discursive legacies conceive the figure of Europe as not all who live on European soil are understood as equally European This volume explores this immediate need to rethink the axis of postcolonial cultural productions to disarticulate Eurocentrism to recognise Europe as a more diverse plural and fluid space to draw forward cultural exchanges and dialogues within the Global South Through analyses of literary texts from East Central Europe and beyond this volume sheds light on alternative literary cartographies the multiplicity of Europes and being European which exist both as they are viewed from the different geographies of the global South and within the continent itself Covering a wide spatial and temporal terrain in postcolonial and European cultural productions this volume will be of great interest to scholars and researchers of literature and literary criticism cultural studies post colonial studies
