Heretical Imperative Contemporary Possibilities Of Religious Affirmation:

The Heretical Imperative Peter L. Berger, 1980 After ten years of writing in other areas Peter L. Berger returns to the problem of religion and modernity discussed in his earlier book A Rumor of Angels. In The Heretical Imperative however not only is the argument developed further in terms of the challenge to religion of modern secularism but it is also argued that a new and greatly promising encounter is about to take place between the Judeo-Christian tradition and the great religions of Asia. Berger discusses the options for religious thought in the contemporary world and suggests that out of the confrontation between different traditions may come a powerful revitalization of religious faith.

Dictionary Of Modern American Philosophers John R. Shook, 2005-05-15 The Dictionary of Modern American Philosophers includes both academic and non academic philosophers and a large number of female and minority thinkers whose work has been neglected. It includes those intellectuals involved in the development of psychology, pedagogy, sociology, anthropology, education, theology, political science and several other fields before these disciplines came to be considered distinct from philosophy in the late nineteenth century. Each entry contains a short biography of the writer, an exposition and analysis of his or her doctrines and ideas, a bibliography of writings and suggestions for further reading. While all the major post-Civil War philosophers are present, the most valuable feature of this dictionary is its coverage of a huge range of less well known writers including hundreds of presently obscure thinkers. In many cases the Dictionary of Modern American Philosophers offers the first scholarly treatment of the life and work of certain writers. This book will be an indispensable reference work for scholars working on almost any aspect of modern American thought.

The Palgrave Handbook of Humour, History, and Methodology Daniel Derrin, Hannah Burrows, 2021-01-12 This handbook addresses the methodological problems and theoretical challenges that arise in attempting to understand and represent humour in specific historical contexts across cultural history. It explores problems involved in applying modern theories of humour to historically distant contexts of humour and points to the importance of recognising the divergent assumptions made by different academic disciplines when approaching the topic. It explores problems of terminology, identification, classification, subjectivity of viewpoint and the coherence of the object of study. It addresses specific theories together with the needs of specific historical case studies as well as some of the challenges of presenting historical humour to contemporary audiences through translation and curation. In this way the handbook aims to encourage a fresh exploration of methodological problems involved in studying the various significances both of the history of humour and of humour in history.

The New Universalism David J. Krieger, 2006-05-03 By making claims for its universalism, a religious community establishes its collective identity, orients itself in the world and articulates its basic common convictions about what is real, meaningful, valuable. For those engaged in the search for a theology of religions in today's context of appreciation for radical plurality, the question is this: Can there be a single unified theology that expresses adequately the apparently very different truths of humanity's religions The New Universalism argues that theology can no longer content itself with correlating the question which the world poses with the answer given in revelation Within today's global horizon every religion and worldview has as much right to answer the basic questions of human existence as any other The task confronting theology therefore lies in the integration and mutual appropriation of many seemingly conflicting revelations Drawing upon the work of Panikkar and Wittgenstein Krieger constructs a method and a philosophical foundation for resolving ideological conflicts and carrying out a theological appropriation of non-Christian religions Evangelical Identity and Contemporary Culture Mathew Guest, 2007-12-01 Building on an ethnographic study of St Michael le Belfrey Church in York a recognized leader in charismatic renewal mission and evangelical innovation since the 1960s this book explores how a persistent tradition of cultural engagement may generate growth while at the same time bringing about significant changes in the structure and function of the evangelical congregation and in the social construction of Christian identity itself This is the first sociological study of St Michael le Belfrey and the first to take seriously the question of how blazing the trail in terms of mission worship and fellowship influences the way in which congregations exist as Christian communities within the contemporary British context God Interrupted Benjamin Lazier, 2012-06-24 Could the best thing about religion be the heresies it spawns Leading intellectuals in interwar Europe thought so They believed that they lived in a world made derelict by God's absence and the interruption of his call In response they helped resurrect gnosticism and pantheism the two most potent challenges to the monotheistic tradition In God Interrupted Benjamin Lazier tracks the ensuing debates about the divine across confessions and disciplines He also traces the surprising afterlives of these debates in postwar arguments about the environment neoconservative politics and heretical forms of Jewish identity In lively elegant prose the book reorients the intellectual history of the era God Interrupted also provides novel accounts of three German Jewish thinkers whose ideas seminal to fields typically regarded as wildly unrelated had common origins in debates about heresy between the wars Hans Jonas developed a philosophy of biology that inspired European Greens and bioethicists the world over Leo Strauss became one of the most important and controversial political theorists of the twentieth century Gershom Scholem the eminent scholar of religion radically recast what it means to be a Jew Together they help us see how talk about God was adapted for talk about nature politics technology and art They alert us to the abiding salience of the divine to Europeans between the wars and beyond even among those for whom God was long missing or dead Theorizing Faith Arweck, Martin D. Stringer, 2002-05-31 All but the final paper in this collection of nine essays was read at a June 1999 conference of the same title as the book held at the U of Birmingham UK The conference was organized by the Worship in Birmingham Project bringing together established scholars and research students to discuss the The Baha'i Faith in Africa Anthony Lee, 2011-10-28 One million Baha'is live in Africa This is the first academic volume to explore the history of this movement on the continent The book discusses the diverse and contrivory American Iranian British and African contributions to this new religious movement The Re-Enchantment of the West Christopher Partridge, 2005-01-04 As a book about emergent spirituality in the contemporary West this book focuses on the nature evolution and significance of new forms of religion and alternative spiritualities Part One of the book provides the theoretical background and guides the reader through some of the principal debates After an overview of the secularization thesis which argues that the West is becoming increasingly disenchanted the second chapter turns to the sociological analysis of new religions and alternative spiritualities Particular attention is given to the ideas of the sociologist of religion Ernst Troeltsch especially his enigmatic analysis of the emergence mystical religion which presciently provides helpful insights into understanding the contemporary alternative religious milieu Against sociologists such as Bryan Wilson and Steve Bruce this and the subsequent chapter argues that rather than being insignificant new forms of spirituality are actually proving to be a significant part of Western re enchantment Chapter 3 constructs a general theory of the re enchantment of the West Becoming Catholic David Yamane, 2014-03-03 Conversion has been an essential element of Christianity and especially of Roman Catholicism for centuries from the Apostle Paul's dramatic conversion on the road to Damascus to the spiritual transformations of such prominent modern individuals as Cardinal Newman St Elizabeth Ann Seton Thomas Merton and G K Chesterton In a 1926 essay Chesterton expressed reluctance to describe his conversion on account of a strong feeling that this method makes the business look much smaller than it really is As David Yamane shows in Becoming Catholic the business was not only spiritually but literally very large and growing ever larger roughly 150 000 Americans join the Catholic Church each year and more than one in fifty American adults is a Catholic convert Altogether these 5 85 million individuals are the fifth largest religious group in America In this first significant study of the phenomenon of Roman Catholic conversion in the contemporary United States Yamane provides an in depth look at the process of adult initiation in the twenty first century Catholic Church including the new process of spiritual formation called the Rite of Christian Initiation of Adults RCIA that was ushered in by Vatican II The RCIA process which has become an integral part of Catholic parish life takes individuals on a journey through four distinct formative periods punctuated by elaborate ritual transitions before they are finally baptized at Easter Drawing on years of observational fieldwork and candid interviews with more than 200 individuals undergoing the initiation process Yamane follows would be Catholics through all four stages of the RCIA and offers an incisive new perspective on what it means to choose Catholicism in America today Portraits of Jewish Learning Diane Tickton Schuster, 2019-01-11 Portraits of Jewish Learning brings together colorful accounts of the ways that Jewish students today are having meaningful learning experiences in day school classrooms Hebrew programs synagogue based schools and high school and college courses that push students out of their comfort zone Whether the students are second graders engaged in text analysis sixth graders solving complex mystery puzzles about Jewish values or teens encountering counter narratives about Israel's history these stories informed by careful and disciplined inquiry prompt readers to reflect on questions of what

Jewish learning is what we can discover by studying experiences of learning at close range and over time and how Jewish education can respond to the needs and interests of Jewish learners who seek a Judaism that is relevant in today's world. The work of researchers and practitioners who are changing the landscape of contemporary Jewish education: these portraits are designed to encourage critical discussion among educational leaders, clergy, policymakers, philanthropists and parents as well as teachers and those aspiring to work in Jewish education. They invite us to think about the many ways that today's Jewish education can be enriched by experimentation and innovation.

Phenomenology and the Horizon of Experience Joseph Rivera, 2021-12-30 This book explores the threshold between phenomenology and lived religion in dialogue with three French luminaries: Michel Henry, Jean-Luc Marion and Jean-Yves Lacoste. Through close reading and critical analysis, each chapter touches on how a liturgical and ritual setting or a spiritual vision of the body can shape and ultimately structure the experience of an individual's surrounding world. The volume advances debate about the scope and limits of the phenomenological analysis of religious themes and disturbs the assumption that theology and phenomenology are incapable of constructive interdisciplinary dialogue.

Dying and Death in 18th-21st Century Europe Corina Rotar, Marius Rotar, 2014-03-17 This book features the second selection of the most representative papers presented at the international conference Dying and Death in 18th-21st Century Europe ABDD, a traditional scientific event organized every year in Alba Iulia, Romania. The book invites the reader on a fascinating journey across the last three centuries of Europe using the concept of death as a guide. The past and present realities of the complex phenomena of death and dying in Romania, the United Kingdom, Lithuania, Serbia, Macedonia, Poland, USA, Germany, Sweden, Finland and Italy are dealt with by authors from varying backgrounds including historians, sociologists, psychologists, priests, humanists, anthropologists and doctors. This is proof that death as a topic cannot be confined to one science; the deciphering of its meanings and of the shifts in its effects requires a joint interdisciplinary effort.

Choice and Religion Steve Bruce, 1999 The orthodox view is that the democracies of the western world have become increasingly secular over the twentieth century. Fewer and fewer people have chosen to believe and the church has declined markedly as religion has changed from being part of an identity ascribed at birth to being a matter of personal choice. Choice and Religion provides a detailed critique of the rational choice approach to religion to demonstrate that industrialisation has secularised the western world and that diversity far from making religion more popular by allowing individuals to maximize their returns undermines it. The claim that diversity and competition promote religion is refuted with evidence from a wide variety of western societies. Bruce examines the Nordic countries and the ex-communist states of eastern Europe to explore the consequences of different sorts of state regulation and to show that ethnicity is a more powerful determinant of religious change than market structures. Where religion matters, it is not because individuals are maximising their returns; it is because it defines group identity and is heavily implicated in social conflict.

Mediating Faiths Guy Redden, 2016-04-29 Religion is living culture. It continues to play a role in shaping political ideologies institutional practices communities of interest ways of life and social identities Mediating Faiths brings together scholars working across a range of fields including cultural studies media sociology anthropology cultural theory and religious studies in order to facilitate greater understanding of recent transformations Contributors illustrate how religion continues to be responsive to the very latest social and cultural developments in the environments in which it exists They raise fundamental questions concerning new media and religious expression religious youth cultures the links between spirituality personal development and consumer culture and contemporary intersections of religion identity and politics Together the chapters demonstrate how belief in the superempirical is negotiated relative to secular concerns in the twenty first century

An Introduction to the Sociology of Religion Inger Furseth,Pål Repstad,2017-03-02 Is it true that religion is weakening in modern times or are we facing religious resurgence What is fundamentalism How does it emerge and grow What role does religion play in ethnic and national conflicts Is religion a fundamental driving force or do political leaders use religion for their own purposes Do all religions oppress women These are some of the questions addressed in this book An Introduction to the Sociology of Religion provides an overview of sociological theories of contemporary religious life Some chapters are organized according to topic Others offer brief presentations of classical and contemporary sociologists from Karl Marx to Zygmunt Bauman and their perspectives on social life including religion Throughout the book illustrations and examples are taken from several religious traditions

Abiding Faith Scott Cowdell,2014-06-26 Australian theologian Scott Cowdell explores how having faith has changed under the influence of modernity and post modernity in the West Following the understanding of faith typical of Saint Paul the Fathers and the medieval monastic theologians faith is returned from pious sentimentality and arid philosophy of religion to the realm of participating knowing paradigmatic imagination and personal transformation where it belongs as a form of life shaped by encounter with Jesus Christ and worked out through the Eucharistic community

Faith and Modernity Philip Sampson,Vinay Samuel,Chris Sugden,2011-08-05 The distinctive social and cultural developments of recent years are so familiar to us as to become invisible So write the editors in the introduction Although no missionaries worth their salt would try to evangelize without first studying the cultural and spiritual background of their hearers the church in the late twentieth century often does not begin to understand modern and postmodern thinking At the second conference of the Lausanne Committee for World Evangelization in Manila 1989 Dr Os Guinness gave a paper on Faith and Modernity which provoked great interest As part of the response to his paper a conference was held in Uppsala Sweden in 1993 at which an international group of experts probed more deeply into the questions of modernity and post modernity Participants represented the United States Canada India Norway Sweden and the United Kingdom They included such well known experts as Os Guinness James Hunter Lesslie Newbigin Vinay Samuel Elaine Storkey and David Wells Each of them has contributed to this volume covering such topics as What is Modernity Truth and Authority in Modernity Information Technology and Christian Faith New Age Modernity and Spirituality Modernity and

Morality This collection of papers is offered as a resource and a challenge to the church for its mission in the context of the modern world
