Hermit With Landscape:

Hermit with Landscape Daniel Hall, 2011 Landscape, Seascape, and the Eco-Spatial Imagination Simon Estok, Jonathan White, I-Chun Wang, 2016-05-12

Written from within the best traditions of ecocritical thought this book provides a wide ranging account of the spatial imagination of landscape and seascape in literary and cultural contexts from many regions of the world It brings together essays by authors writing from within diverse cultural traditions across historical periods from ancient Egypt to the postcolonial and postmodern present and touches on an array of divergent theoretical interventions The volume investigates how our spatial imaginations become wired looking at questions about mediation and exploring how various traditions compete for prominence in our spatial imagination In what ways is personal experience inflected by prevailing cultural traditions of representation and interpretation Can an individual maintain a unique and distinctive spatial imagination in the face of dominant trends in perception and interpretation What are the environmental implications of how we see landscape The book reviews how landscape is at once conceptual and perceptual illuminating several important themes including the temporality of space the mediations of place that form the response of an observer of a landscape and the development of response in any single life from early partial thoughts to more considered ideas in maturity Chapters provide suggestive and culturally nuanced propositions from varying points of view on ancient and modern landscapes and seascapes and on how individuals or societies have arranged conceptualized or imagined circumambient space Opening up issues of landscape seascape and spatiality this volume commences a wide ranging critical discussion that includes various approaches to literature history and cultural studies Bringing together research from diverse areas such as ecocriticism landscape theory colonial and postcolonial theory hybridization theory and East Asian Studies to provide a historicized and global account of our ecospatial imaginations this book will be useful for scholars of landscape ecology ecocriticism physical and social geography postcolonialism and postcolonial ecologies comparative literary studies and East Asian Studies

An Archaeological History of Hermitages and Eremitic Communities in Medieval Britain and Beyond Simon Roffey, 2023-03-03 Many hermitages and eremitic communities are recorded throughout the medieval period yet to date there has been no comprehensive archaeological study This richly illustrated book will consequently discuss a range of hermitages and introduce the reader to their architectural forms spaces location and environments as well as the religious practices associated with them It will focus primarily on the British material but will nonetheless consider this within a wider comparative framework Overall it will offer an archaeological history of hermitages and presents a unique window into a lost world of medieval spirituality and religious life Key related themes will include the earliest archaeological evidence for hermits eremitic life in India China and East Asia pre and early Christian desert hermitages cave hermitages eremitic communities saints and missionary hermits life and diet medieval mysticism and the contemplative tradition secular and ornamental hermitages and hermits in post medieval and contemporary society This book offers an illustrated archaeological history of hermitages and eremitic communities with reference to key examples and case studies It will therefore appeal to both academics students and a more general readership interested in archaeology history comparative religion architecture religion and belief spirituality medieval Britain modern contemplative practice and contemporary heritage issues The Hermit in the Garden Gordon Campbell, 2013-03-28 Tracing its distant origins to the villa of the Roman emperor Hadrian in the second century AD the eccentric phenomenon of the ornamental hermit enjoyed its heyday in the England of the eighteenth century It was at this time that it became highly fashionable for owners of country estates to commission architectural follies for their landscape gardens These follies often included hermitages many of which still survive often in a ruined state Landowners peopled their hermitages either with imaginary hermits or with real hermits in some cases the landowner even became his own hermit Those who took employment as garden hermits were typically required to refrain from cutting their hair or washing and some were dressed as druids Unlike the hermits of the Middle Ages these were wholly secular hermits products of the eighteenth century fondness for pleasing melancholy Although the fashion for them had fizzled out by the end of the eighteenth century they had left their indelible mark on both the literature as well as the gardens of the period And as Gordon Campbell shows they live on in the art literature and drama of our own day as well as in the figure of the modern day garden gnome This engaging and generously illustrated book takes the reader on a journey that is at once illuminating and whimsical both through the history of the ornamental hermit and also around the sites of many of the surviving hermitages themselves which remain scattered throughout England Scotland and Ireland And for the real enthusiast there is even a comprehensive checklist enabling avid hermitage hunters to locate their prey Zen Buddhist Landscape Arts of Early Muromachi Japan (1336-1573) Joe Parker, 1999-03-25 Examining inscriptions on landscape paintings and related documents this book explores the views of the two jewels of Japanese Zen literature Gido Shushin 1325 1388 and Zekkai Chushin 1336 1405 and their students These monks played important roles as advisors to the shoguns Ashikaga Yoshimitsu 1358 1408 and Yoshimochi 1386 1428 as well as to major figures in various michi or Ways of linked verse the No theatre ink painting rock gardens and other arts By applying images of mountain retreats to their busy urban lives in the capital these Five Mountain Zen monks provoke reconsiderations of the relation between secular and sacred and nature and culture Issues of Authenticity in Chinese Painting Judith G. Institutions and Environs, 1881 Routledge Library Editions: Percy Shelley Various, 2021-03-11 Percy Shelley is widely considered one of the most important Romantic poets of the 19th Century and was a key influence on the Victorian and pre-Raphaelite poets in the century following his death in 1822. However, for many years his writing was largely ignored in the mainstream due to the radical politics he espoused, and it is only in relatively recent times that he has become universally admired. Routledge Library Editions: Percy Shelley collects a broad range of scholarship ranging from examinations of Shelley's style and political intentions to an assessment of his impact on the broader Romantic Movement. This set reissues 4 books on Percy Shelley originally published between 1945 and 2009 and will be of interest to students of literature and literary history.

Picture Ecology Alan C. Braddock, Maura Coughlin, T. J. Demos, Rachael Z. DeLue, Mónica Domínguez Torres, Finis Dunaway, Stephen F. Eisenman, Emily Gephart, De-nin D. Lee, Gregory Levine, Anne McClintock, James Nisbet, Andrew Patrizio, Sugata Ray, Greg M. Thomas, 2021-10-26 Seeking a broad reexamination of visual culture through the lenses of ecocriticism, environmental justice, and animal studies, this compendium offers a diverse range of art historical criticism formulated within an ecological context. Picture Ecology brings together scholars whose contributions extend chronologically and geographically from 11th-century Chinese painting to contemporary photography of California wildfires. The book's 17 interdisciplinary essays provide a dynamic cross-cultural approach to an increasingly vital area of study, emphasizing the environmental dimensions inherent in the content and materials of aesthetic objects. Picture Ecology provides valuable new approaches for considering works of art in ways that are timely, intellectually stimulating, and universally significant.

Summary of and Index to Waagen Algernon Graves, 1912 François Boucher, 1703-1770 François Boucher, Detroit Institute of Arts, 1986 A history of François Boucher 1703-1770, an originator of the Rococo style and one of the major French artists of the period. A general introduction is followed by essays on Boucher's early career, his impact on European art, his tapestry designs, and his designs for Sevres porcelain. Solitude, 2018-05-23 This book explores the spatial, material, and affective dimensions of solitude in the late medieval and early modern periods, a hitherto largely neglected topic. Its focus is on the dynamic qualities of space and place, which are here understood as being shaped, structured, and imbued with meaning through both social and discursive solitary practices such as reading, writing, studying, meditating, and praying. Individual chapters investigate the imageries and imaginaries of outdoor and indoor spaces and places associated with solitude and its practices, and examine the ways in which the space of solitude was conceived of, imagined, and represented in the arts and in literature from about 1300 to about 1800. Contributors include Oskar B. Tschmann, Carla Benzan, Mette Birkedal Bruun, Dominic E. Delarue, Karl A. E. Enenkel, Christine G. Ttler, Agn. S. Guiderdoni, Christiane J. Hessler, Walter S. Melion, Rapha. le Preisinger, Bernd Roling, Paul Smith, Marie Theres Stauffer, Arnold A. Witte, and Steffen Zierholz. Epic Landscapes Julia A. Sienkewicz, 2019-11-13 Winner of College Art Association's Wyeth Foundation for American Art Publication Grant. Epic Landscapes is the first study devoted to architect Benjamin Henry Latrobe's substantial artistic oeuvre from 1795, when he set sail from Britain to Virginia to late 1798 when he relocated to Pennsylvania Thus this book offers the only extended consideration of Latrobe's Virginian watercolors including a series of complex trompe l'oeil studies and three significant illustrated manuscripts Though Latrobe's architecture is well known his watercolors have received little critical attention Epic Landscapes rediscovers Latrobe's watercolors as an ambitious body of work and reconsiders the close relationship between the visual and spatial sensibility of these images and his architectural designs It also offers a fresh analysis of Latrobe within the context of creative practice in the Atlantic world at the end of the eighteenth century as he explored contemporary ideas concerning the form of art for Republican society and the social impacts of revolution Ancient

"A Natural Delineation of Human Passions" , 2016-08-09 Most of the articles in A Natural Delineation of Human Passions originated in the Twelfth October Conference held in Leiden to celebrate the bicentenary of the publication of Lyrical Ballads The first article by the editor An Historic Moment A Natural Delineation of Human Passions as a New Morality attempts to establish an historic and an historical context both personal and political for the six articles that follow by ke Bergvall Myra Cottingham C P Seabrook Wilkinson James McGonigal Jacqueline Schoemaker and Suzanne E Webster which consider the themes of vagrancy and wandering in Lyrical Ballads the expression of loss and compensation and the consequences both beneficial and perilous for the language and rhetoric of poetry Then three articles by Annemarie Estor Daniel Sanjiv Roberts and Paul E A van Gestel consider the ambience of science and philosophy in which Wordsworth and Coleridge strove to affirm the creative participation of poetry After this Jacqueline M Labbe Titus P Bicknell Robert Druce and M Van Wyk Smith discuss the parallel contributions of some of the more neglected contemporaries of the authors of Lyrical Ballads not necessarily in English nor necessarily in England Mary Robinson Walter Savage Landor Robert Bloomfield and Thomas Pringle The volume concludes with an extended examination by Timothy Webb of the responses both admiring and scornful of the younger generation of Romantics to the legacy of Lyrical Ballads Reflective Landscapes of the Anglophone

Countries Pascale Guibert, 2011 Too many landscapes have been reduced to silent commodities by being put into golden frames on top of our fireplaces Too many landscapes have been reified by being considered as objects holding forth referents to an omnipotent looker on with his/her language ever ready to seize and transcribe The articles gathered here prolonging an international conference held at the University of Caen Basse Normandie France 14-16 June 2007 set the landscapes loose again by engaging with their essentially relational quality What makes this volume particularly stimulating and critically innovative is this initial acknowledgement of a landscape's reflectiveness that is the fact that it contains unthought thought and thus presents itself to us both passively and actively This straightaway appraisal of the lines of flight in the seemingly static tranquil images facing us has opened the way to deeply critical readings bent on questioning old tracks testing new itineraries denying the closure of the subject At the same time and by way of consequence it leads us to encounter the force in landscape A force like an energy an impetus which makes it possible if not advisable to still compose read and enjoy landscapes in the XXIst century

Romanticism, Memory, and Mourning Mark Sandy, 2016-04-08 The subject of Romanticism Memory and Mourning could not be timelier with Žižek's recent proclamation that we are living in the end times and in an era which is preoccupied with the process and consequences of ageing We mourn both for our pasts and futures as we now recognise that history is a continuation and record of loss Mark Sandy explores the treatment of grief loss and death across a variety of Romantic poetic forms including the ballad sonnet epic elegy fragment romance and ode in the works of poets as diverse as Smith Hemans Blake Wordsworth Coleridge Byron Shelley Keats and Clare Romantic meditations on grief however varied in form and content are self-consciously aware of the complexity and strength of feelings surrounding the consolation or disconsolation that their structures of poetic memory afford those who survive the imaginary and actual dead Romantic mourning Sandy shows finds expression in disparate poetic forms and how it manifests itself both as the spirit of its age rooted in precise historical conditions and as a proleptic power of lasting transhistorical significance Romantic meditations on grief and loss speak to our contemporary anxieties about the inevitable but unthinkable event of death itself

Landscapes of Relations and Belonging Astrid Anderson, 2011-04-01 Wogeo Island is well known to anthropologists of Papua New Guinea through the work of Ian Hogbin Based on substantial fieldwork the author builds on and expands previous research by showing how Wogeos establish and maintain social relationships and identities connected to place and movement in the physical landscape This innovative study demonstrates how Wogeo worldviews and social organization can be described in relation to terms of movements flows and placements in the landscape while in turn the landscape is constituted and made meaningful through people's activities and buildings The author not only addresses some of the key issues in contemporary anthropology concerning place gender kinship knowledge and power but also fills an important gap in Melanesian ethnography

The Hermit's Hut Kazi K. Ashraf, 2013-10-31 The Hermit's Hut offers an original insight into the profound relationship between architecture and asceticism Although architecture continually responds to ascetic compulsions as in its frequent encounter with the question of excess and less it is typically considered separate from asceticism In contrast this innovative book explores the rich and mutual ways in which asceticism and architecture are played out in each other's practices The question of asceticism is also considered as neither a religious discourse nor a specific cultural tradition but as a perennial issue in the practice of culture The work convincingly traces the influences from early Indian asceticism to Zen Buddhism to the Japanese teahouse the latter opening the door to modern minimalism As the book's title suggests the protagonist of the narrative is the nondescript hermit's hut Relying primarily on Buddhist materials the author provides a complex narrative that stems from this simple structure showing how the significance of the hut resonates widely and how the question of dwelling is central to ascetic imagination In exploring the conjunctions of architecture and asceticism he breaks new ground by presenting ascetic practice as fundamentally an architectural project namely the fabrication of a last hut Through the conception of the last hut he looks at the ascetic challenge of arriving at the edge of civilization and its echoes in the architectural quest for minimalism The most vivid example comes from a well known Buddhist text where the Buddha describes the ultimate ascetic moment or nirvana in cataclysmic terms using architectural metaphors The roof rafters will be shattered the Buddha declares and the architect will no longer build the house again As the book compellingly shows the physiological and spiritual transformation of the body is deeply intertwined with the art of building The Hermit's Hut weaves together the fields of architecture anthropology religion and philosophy to offer multidisciplinary and historical insights Written in an engaging and accessible manner it will appeal to readers with diverse interests and in a variety of disciplines whether one is interested in the history of ascetic architecture in India the concept of home in ancient India or the theme of the body as building

Left Out Kimberley Reynolds, 2016 Left Out presents an alternative and corrective history of writing for children in the first half of the twentieth century Between 1910 and 1949 a number of British publishers writers and illustrators included children's literature in their efforts to make Britain a progressive egalitarian and modern society Some came from privileged backgrounds others from the poorest parts of the poorest cities in the land some belonged to the metropolitan intelligentsia or bohemia others were working class autodidacts but all sought to use writing for children and young people to create activists visionaries and leaders among the rising generation Together they produced a significant number of both politically and aesthetically radical publications for children and young people This radical children's literature was designed to ignite and underpin the work of making a new Britain for a new kind of Briton While there are many dedicated studies of children's literature and children's writers working in other periods the years 1910-1949 have previously received little critical attention In this study Kimberley Reynolds shows that the accepted characterization of interwar children's literature as retreatist anti-modernist and apolitical is too sweeping and that the relationship between children's literature and modernism left-wing politics and progressive education has been neglected
