Journal of the Society of Arts Royal Society of Arts (Great Britain),1863 Teacher's Manual and Study Outlines for the Art Appreciation Collection Anna V. Horton,1921 A Corpus of Rembrandt Paintings V Ernst van de Wetering,2013-12-12

This volume is the fifth volume of A Corpus of Rembrandt Paintings a project devoted to all Rembrandt's paintings This is the work of The Rembrandt Research Project consisting of a group of scholars led since 1993 by Professor Ernst van de Wetering The project began in 1968 with the aim of separating Rembrandt's own paintings from the vast number of Rembrandtesque paintings made by his many apprentices and followers Having opted for a chronological approach to the cataloguing of Rembrandt's paintings from 1625 till 1642 in the first three volumes it was decided in 1993 to adopt a thematic approach for further volumes This was largely to facilitate the recognition of different hands The new approach yielded much more information not only about Rembrandt's working methods but also about the function and meaning of his works This expanded field of view meant that etchings and drawings with similar themes also needed to be included In 2005 Volume IV appeared devoted to Rembrandt's self portraits in painting etching and drawing Volume V consists of a catalogue and analysis of the so called small scale history and genre paintings That theme was chosen because this type of complex work shows a variety of full length protagonists acting in different narrative settings For this reason in the 17th century painting etching or drawing biblical and mythological scenes was looked upon as an artist's greatest challenge The choice of this theme proved to be highly fruitful in several ways Small scale history pieces reveal Rembrandt's artistic ambitions most clearly They also offer the authors a much more accurate view of the daily routine in Rembrandt's studio his apprentices mostly copied this type of work or used it as a starting point for their own As a result it was easier to distinguish the works by the master himself from those of his pupils All aspects of the skills necessary to create a pictorial illusion play a part in the creation of small figured history paintings These aspects were referred to as the basis of the noble art of painting in Rembrandt's days Two seventeenth century painter theoreticians discussed these principles systematically in two books which up till now have only sporadically been consulted in the context of 17th century studio practice Karel van Mander wrote his Grond der edel vry schilder const Basis of the Art of Painting in 1604 and Samuel van Hoogstraten produced his Inleyding tot de hooge schoole der schilder konst Academy of Painting in 1678 Van Hoogstraten was a pupil of Rembrandt between 1642 and 48 Comparing the two books and considering them in relation to Rembrandt's oeuvre gradually reveals his original views on painting and how these had developed during his career Thus the authors of this new Volume of A Corpus have gained an unexpected and profound insight into Rembrandt's ideas and approach to his art The basic aspects of painting included the following topics function and methods of drawing human proportions various positions poses and gestures of figures ways of arranging a scene's protagonists in a composition facial expressions of a variety of emotions light shadows and reflected light landscape and animals draperies and articles of clothing methods of painting and various characteristics and uses of colours The way these basic aspects were selected and dealt with presumed that the more practical side to the art of painting would be learned by the apprentice in the daily routine of his master's studio With the development of art history in the nineteenth century the basic aspects of the art of painting listed above acquired the vague label of style However the seventeenth century categorization of the basic aspects provides a much more acute means of probing the views and criteria for judging a painting by Rembrandt and his contemporaries than the concept of style Volume V in the series A Corpus of Rembrandt Paintings breaks new ground from the point of view of art history not only in its approach to Rembrandt as an artist but more particularly to his thinking about painting Moreover a detailed comparison of Rembrandt's works and those by his apprentices who based their works on his led to a profound and detailed understanding of Rembrandt's views on pictorial quality In art historical literature quality usually does not feature prominently since it is regarded as being too subjective This comparative approach together with the analysis of seventeenth century categories of thought about painting have given the research on Rembrandt a new impetus at the same time allowing us to see more clearly through seventeenth century eyes That is why the new volume of the Corpus is an important publication not only for art historians but also for all who want to fully enjoy the numerous works of art that date back to the Dutch Golden Age now scattered in museums around the world

Historical Painting Techniques, Materials, and Studio Practice Arie Wallert, Erma Hermens, Marja Peek, 1995-08-24 Bridging the fields of conservation art history and museum curating this volume contains the principal papers from an international symposium titled Historical Painting Techniques Materials and Studio Practice at the University of Leiden in Amsterdam Netherlands from June 26 to 29 1995 The symposium designed for art historians conservators conservation scientists and museum curators worldwide was organized by the Department of Art History at the University of Leiden and the Art History Department of the Central Research Laboratory for Objects of Art and Science in Amsterdam Twenty five contributors representing museums and conservation institutions throughout the world provide recent research on historical painting techniques including wall painting and polychrome sculpture Topics cover the latest art historical research and scientific analyses of original techniques and materials as well as historical sources such as medieval treatises and descriptions of painting techniques in historical literature Chapters include the painting methods of Rembrandt and Vermeer Dutch 17th century landscape painting wall paintings in English churches Chinese paintings on paper and canvas and Tibetan thangkas Color plates and black and white photographs illustrate works from the Middle Ages to the 20th century

Chronicles of the Dutch Republic 1566 - 1702 Albert Valente ,2022-05-08 This book tells the story of the Republic of the Seven United Netherlands also known as the Dutch Republic and its journey from fighting for its independence to building its vast overseas empire The iconic Dutch golden age admired by countless writers is detailed and focuses not solely on the politics of the time but on the day to day life of Dutch artists writers and entrepreneurs Beginning in the age of discovery the narrative follows the creation of the Dutch East India Company its challenges overseas and the wars the Dutch people had to face on five continents in order to build their nation to prominence Inspired by George Edmundson s History of Holland the book chronicles year by year the occurrences not only in the province of Holland but in all corners of the world in order to paint a picture of how events intertwine and influence one another The Dutch Republic in the Seventeenth Century Maarten Prak,2023-01-19 Substantially revised second edition of the leading textbook on the Dutch Republic including new chapters on language and literature and slavery Dutch and Flemish Paintings from the Hermitage Gosudarstvennyi Ėrmitazh (Russia),1988 Catalog of an exhibition held at the Metropolitan Museum of Art from March 26 1988 to June 5 1988 and at the Art Institute of Chicago from Jul 9 1988 to Sept 18 1988 Includes bibliographical references p 125 134 Journal Royal Society for the Encouragement of Arts, Manufactures and Commerce,1863
