Holocauste Fragments:

Remembering and Imagining the Holocaust Christopher Bigsby, 2006-10-19 This is a meditation on memory and on the ways in which memory has operated in the work of writers for whom the Holocaust was a defining event It is also an exploration of the ways in which fiction and drama have attempted to approach a subject so resistant to the imagination Beginning with W G Sebald for whom memory and the Holocaust were the roots of a special fascination Bigsby moves on to consider those writers Sebald himself valued including Arthur Miller Anne Frank Primo Levi and Peter Weiss and those whose lives crossed in the bleak world of the camps in fact or fiction The book offers a chain of memories It sets witness against fiction truth against wilful deceit It asks the question who owns the Holocaust those who died those who survived to bear witness those who appropriated its victims to shape their own necessities Trauma Fiction Anne Whitehead, 2004-05-27 No detailed description available for Trauma Fiction Israeli Holocaust Research Boaz Cohen, 2013 This book traces the development of Holocaust research in Israel from the late 1940s its consolidation as an academic subject and the establishment and development of Yad Vashem It contextualises this evolution in terms of developments in Europe and the US as well as public discourse on the Holocaust Cher Journal : Fragments du passé Carol Matas, 2014-02-01 See below for English description Qu'auraient crit de simples jeunes filles si elles avaient vu l'un ou l'autre des événements qui ont marqué l'histoire canadienne Rose a survécu à l'Holocauste en vivant dans la clandestinité après avoir échappé de justesse au ghetto de Varsovie la fin de la guerre elle se retrouve dans un orphelinat puis migre au Canada mais elle fait encore face beaucoup de souvenirs angoissants The Cher Journal series invites readers into the intimate worlds of girls throughout different times in Canadian history The ongoing series showcases Canada's most distinguished children authors who recreate some of the most dramatic events from our diverse history Rose survives the Holocaust by going into hiding after a narrow escape from the Warsaw Ghetto but when the war is over and she ends up in an orphanage and then emigrates to Canada there is still much to be faced as disturbing memories surface Original Title Pieces of the Past the Holocaust Diary of Rose Rabinowitz Winnipeg Manitoba 1948 Literary Paternity, Literary Friendship Gerhard Richter, 2020-05-01 The twenty one original essays in this volume offer a rigorous reconsideration of modern forms of paternity and friendship as they emerge in works by writers and philosophers from the eighteenth through the twentieth century Exploring various models of these twin themes contributors examine writings of canonical figures such as Goethe Schiller Herderlin Kleist and Brentano as well as Kafka Benjamin and Arendt Together the essays combine an emphasis on the German literary philosophical tradition with comparative approaches offering both theoretical discussions and sophisticated readings of crucial texts that have helped shape our contemporary literary engagement with paternity and friendship This collection honors Stanley Corngold an influential scholar and teacher who taught German at Princeton University for more than forty years On the Waves of Destiny Lili Berger, 2025-04-30 Lili Berger wrote about the most traumatic and transformative developments of the twentieth century to which she herself was an eyewitness On the Waves of Destiny presents an anthology that reflects her early life in interwar Poland during the rise of Hitler her Second World War activities in occupied Paris where she was active in the Communist resistance and her sojourn in Communist Poland from 1949 to 1968 The majority of her essays are pen portraits often based on her own personal recollections in which she made clear that she considered it her duty to memorialize the tens of thousands of Polish Jewish writers and artists who were murdered during the Holocaust such as author and painter Bruno Schulz historian Emanuel Ringelblum and artist Gela Seksztajn as well as to preserve their work Even her short stories are based on actual experiences not only her own but also those of people around her In her stories her essays and her allegorical fables she explored issues such as equality for women the moral responsibility of a writer the question of Jewish identity and the creative process in general The translations in On the Waves of Destiny ensure that Lili Berger's legacy will continue to resonate with future generations of readers

Cold War Counterfeit Spies Nigel West, 2016-10-14 The Cold War with its air of mutual fear and distrust and the shadowy world of spies and secret agents gave publishers the chance to produce countless stories of espionage treachery and deception What Nigel West has discovered is that the most egregious deceptions were in fact the stories themselves In this remarkable investigation into the claims of many who portrayed themselves as key players in clandestine operations the author has exposed a catalogue of misrepresentations and falsehoods Did Greville Wynne really exfiltrate a GRU defector from Odessa Was the frogman Buster Crabb abducted during a mission in Portsmouth Harbour Did the KGB run a close guarded training facility as described by J Bernard Hutton in School for Spies which was modelled on a typical town in the American mid west so agents could be acclimatised to a non Soviet environment With the help of witnesses with first hand experience and recently declassified documents Nigel West answers these and other fascinating questions from a time when secrecy and suspicion allowed the truth to be concealed
