Sweet Anticipation David Huron,2008-01-25 The psychological theory of expectation that David Huron proposes in Sweet Anticipation grew out of the author s experimental efforts to understand how music evokes emotions These efforts evolved into a general theory of expectation that will prove informative to readers interested in cognitive science and evolutionary psychology as well as those interested in music The book describes a set of psychological mechanisms and illustrates how these mechanisms work in the case of music All examples of notated music can be heard on the Web Huron proposes that emotions evoked by expectation involve five functionally distinct response systems reaction responses which engage defensive reflexes tension responses where uncertainty leads to stress prediction responses which reward accurate prediction imagination responses which facilitate deferred gratification and appraisal responses which occur after conscious thought is engaged For real world events these five response systems typically produce a complex mixture of feelings The book identifies some of the aesthetic possibilities afforded by expectation and shows how common musical devices such as syncopation cadence meter tonality and climax exploit the psychological opportunities The theory also provides new insights into the physiological psychology of awe laughter and spine tingling chills Huron traces the psychology of expectations from the patterns of the physical cultural world through imperfectly learned heuristics used to predict that world to the phenomenal qualia we experienced as we apprehend the world

Here Comes the Judge Matthew Streett,2012-02-16 The author of Revelation sees violence as perfectly legitimate as long as it is initiated by the appropriate authority God The author of Revelation does not believe that violence in any form is wrong Rather he believes that it is wrong for anyone other than God or his appointed agents to enact violence and in his eyes it is possible for humans to condemn the wicked to death if they prove themselves by dying in imitation of Christ In this book Matthew Streett argues that bridge figures such as Jesus Christ have demonstrated their authority by transitioning from the human realm of the judged to the divine realm of the judge and have earned the right to judge Initially only Christ has this right but as the narrative progresses figures such as martyrs are shown to have active judging authority as well The challenge for the reader is to understand the Book of Revelation s sometimes disturbing message on its own terms
