Authority and Spectacle in Medieval and Early Modern Europe Yuen-Gen Liang, Jarbel Rodriguez, 2017-01-20 Bringing together distinguished scholars in honor of Professor Teofilo F Ruiz this volume presents original and innovative research on the critical and uneasy relationship between authority and spectacle in the period from the twelfth to the sixteenth centuries focusing on Spain the Mediterranean and Latin America Cultural scholars such as Professor Ruiz and his colleagues have challenged the notion that authority is elided with high politics an approach that tends to be monolithic and disregards the uneven application and experience of power by elite and non elite groups in society by highlighting the significance of spectacle Taking such forms as ceremonies rituals festivals and customs spectacle is a medium to project and render visible power yet it is also an ambiguous and contested setting where participants exercise the roles of both actor and audience Chapters in this collection consider topics such as monarchy wealth and poverty medieval cuisine and diet and textual and visual sources The individual contributions in this volume collectively represent a timely re examination of authority that brings in the insights of cultural theory ultimately highlighting the importance of representation and projection negotiation and ambivalence Contesting the Middle Ages John

Heresy and Hussites in Late Medieval Europe Thomas A. Fudge, 2023-05-31 The followers of the martyred Bohemian priest Jan Hus 1371 1415 formed one of the greatest challenges to the medieval Latin Church Branded as heretics outlawed then forced to fight for their faith as well as their lives the Hussites occupy one of the most colorful and challenging chapters of European religious history The essays reprinted in this book along with one here first published in English and additional notes explore the essence of the early Hussite movement by focusing on the nature and development of heresy both as accusation and identity Heresy and Hussites in Late Medieval Europe first examines the definition of heresy and its comparative nature across Europe It investigates the unique practices of popular religion in local communities while examining theology and its unavoidable conflicts The repressive policy of crusade and the growth of martyrdom with its inevitable contribution to the formation of Hussite history is explored The social application of religious ideas its revolutionary outcomes along with the intentional use of art in pedagogy and propaganda situates the Czech heretics in the fifteenth century An examination of leading personalities together with the eventual and more formal church administration rounds out the study of this remarkable era

The School of Heretics Andrew E. Larsen, 2011-09-09 Academic condemnation has long been recognized as an important issue in the history of universities and the history of medieval thought Yet few studies have examined the phenomenon in serious detail This work is the first book length study of academic condemnations at Oxford It explores every known case in detail including several never examined before and then considers the practice of condemnation as a whole As such it provides a context to see John Wyclif and the Oxford Lollards not as unique figures but as targets of a practice a century old by 1377 It argues that condemnation did not happen purely for reasons of theological purity but reflected social and institutional pressures within the university

Religious Authority in the Spanish Renaissance Lu Ann

Homza,2003-05-01 This in depth study of religious tensions in early modern Spain offers a new and enlightening perspective on the era of the Inquisition Traditionally the Spanish Renaissance of the 15th and 16th centuries has been framed as an epic battle of opposites The followers of Erasmus were in constant discord with conservative Catholics while the humanists were diametrically opposed to the scholastics Historian Lu Ann Homza rejects this simplistic view In Religious Authority in the Spanish Renaissance she presents a subtler paradigm recovering the profound nuances in Spanish intellectual and religious history Through analyses of Inquisition trials biblical translations treatises on witchcraft and tracts on the episcopate and penance Homza illuminates the intellectual autonomy and energy of Spain s ecclesiastics Medieval Purity and Piety

orator Demosthenes and the ninth century freethinker al R z to the anti lynching crusader Ida B Wells and modern day digital activists Mchangama reveals how the free exchange of ideas underlies all intellectual achievement and has enabled the advancement of both freedom and equality worldwide Yet the desire to restrict speech too is a constant and he explores how even its champions can be led down this path when the rise of new and contrarian voices challenge power and privilege of all stripes Meticulously researched and deeply humane Free Speech demonstrates how much we have gained from this principle and how much we stand to lose without it

Dissent and Order in the Middle Ages Jeffrey Burton Russell, 1992 The study of the conflict between religious orthodoxy and heresy in the Middle Ages has long been a controversial field Though the sectarian differences of the past have faded in intensity the varieties of academic correctness that today inform historical studies are quite likely to give rise to a number of interpretations sometimes providing more information about the sympathies of contemporary historians than the beliefs feelings and actions of Medieval people In this book Jeffrey Burton Russell provides a fresh overview of the subject from the Council of Chalcedon 451 A D to the eve of the Protestant Reformation The fruit of many years of thought and scholarship Dissent and Order in the Middle Ages is a concise introduction to the full range of religious and social phenomena encompassed by the book's title While tracing the intellectual battles that raged between the champions of orthodoxy and the partisans of dissent Russell grounds these conflicts which often seem rather recondite to the modern reader in the evolving social context of Medieval Europe In addition to discussing conflicts within Christianity Russell sheds new light on such vexing topics as the origin of antisemitism and the persecution of alleged witches More than just an overview Russell's study is also an original interpretation of a complex subject Russell sees the conflict between dissent and order not as a war of binary opposites but rather as an ongoing dialectic a creative tension that despite the excesses it entailed on both sides was essential to the development of Christianity Without this creative tension Russell argues Christianity might well have stagnated and possibly died Dissent and order then are perhaps best seen as symbiotically joined aspects of a single living healthy organism Dissent and Order in the Middle Ages will appeal to and challenge all readers interested in European history from beginning students to seasoned scholars as well as those concerned with Christianity's past and future

Sanctifying Texts, Transforming Rituals, 2017-07-10

Sanctifying Texts Transforming Rituals Encounters in Liturgical Studies explores the dynamics of Christian ritual practices in their relation to a broader cultural framework. The nineteen essays written in honour of the liturgist Gerard A. M. Rouwhorst (Tilburg University) study liturgical developments in times of transition in which religious and cultural changes set the development of worship practices in motion. The chapters in the first part, Texts, concentrate on the close connection between narrative texts and liturgical practice. In part two, Rituals, the focus shifts to the significance of liturgy as it expresses itself in rituals and to the understanding of ritual acting. This section includes a variety of ritual aspects of liturgy including the performance of the sacraments and the persons involved as well as the relation between the liturgical ritual and material objects such as images and relics. Section three, Encounters, crosses the borders of the discipline of liturgical studies. This final section of the book studies ritual relations between Christians and non-Christians through history and includes contributions that study the dialogues between different liturgical languages and media. Contributors are Elizabeth Boddens Hosang, Paul Bradshaw, Harald Buchinger, Charles Caspers, Paul van Geest, Bert Groen, Martin Klückener, Bart Koet, Clemens Leonhard, Ruben van Luijk, Gerard Lukken, Daniela Mäler, Willemien Otten, Marcel Poorthuis, Paul Post, Ilia Rodov, Els Rose, Joshua Schwartz, Louis van Tongeren and Nienke Vos.
