Cultural Imperialism and the Indo-English Novel Fawzia Afzal-Khan, 2010-11-01 This is a provocative piece of scholarship and it engages an intriguing aspect of postcolonial writing Choice Fawzia Afzal Khan's excellent book could stand as a reply to those hostile critics who today attack multiculturalism for reductively politicizing literature In her trenchant discussion Afzal Khan shows just how complex the politics of liberation can be for colonial and postcolonial novelists Gerald Graff University of Chicago Afzal Khan's study is a major new contribution to the related fields of Indian writing in English and post colonial literatures Focused primarily on four Indian novelists its arguments and conclusions are of vital importance to our understanding of the many new literatures from the former British colonies Through her judicious use of the theoretical constructs of Frantz Fanon Fredric Jameson Edward Said and others Afzal Khan has produced a fresh and compelling interpretation of the Indian English novel Amritjit Singh Rhode Island College Cultural Imperialism and the Indo English Novel focuses on the novels of R K Narayan Anita Desai Kamala Markandaya and Salman Rushdie and explores the tension in these novels between ideology and the generic fictive strategies that shape ideology or are shaped by it Fawzia Afzal Khan raises the important question of how much the usage of certain ideological strategies actually helps the ex colonized writer deal effectively with post colonial and post independence trauma and whether or not the choice of a particular genre or mode employed by a writer presupposes the extent to which that writer will be successful in challenging the ideological strategies of containment perpetuated by most Western orientalist texts and writers She argues that the formal or generic choices of the four writers studied here reveal that they are using genre as an ideological strategy of liberation to help free their peoples and cultures from the hegemonic strategies of containment imposed upon them She concludes that the works studied here constitute an ideological rebuttal of Western writers denigrating containment of non Western cultures She also notes that self criticism as implied in Rushdie's works is not to be confused with self hatred a theme found in Naipaul's work

Houston, 2022-02-17 These essays in this book are pastoral and scholarly to encourage parents to nurture and foster Christian family life by learning from scripture and history The Bible in both testaments offers us stories that provide moral and spiritual substance to the nurture of the child and the family Beginning with the mythopoetic story of Adam and Eve and the fratricide of Abel by the envy of Cain the stories of the sacrifices parents made then moving on to the stories of Abraham and Isaac Ruth and her mother in law Hannah and her son Samuel Jeremiah the child prophet these stories form our moral imaginations Further for Christians they all augur the promise of the Incarnation with the birth of Jesus to Mary and Joseph Then through the history of the Church the role of the Child is further unfolded It begins with Jesus teaching that to be as one of his disciples is to be a child This is so radical that the subsequent churches have found it hard to follow Perhaps one symbolic attempt was that of the monks cowl which is a child's garment and still worn in their monasteries The book even explores the way that Christian maturity is one of childlikeness Remembering Generations Ashraf H. A. Rushdy, 2003-01-14 Slavery is America's family secret a partially hidden phantom that continues to haunt our national imagination Remembering Generations explores how three contemporary African American writers artistically represent this notion in novels about the enduring effects of slavery on the descendants of slaves in the post civil rights era Focusing on Gayl Jones's Corregidora 1975 David Bradley's The Chaneysville Incident 1981 and Octavia Butler's Kindred 1979 Ashraf Rushdy situates these works in their cultural moment of production highlighting the ways in which they respond to contemporary debates about race and family Tracing the evolution of this literary form he considers such works as Edward Ball's Slaves in the Family 1998 in which descendants of slaveholders expose the family secrets of their ancestors Remembering Generations examines how cultural works contribute to social debates how a particular representational form emerges out of a specific historical epoch and how some contemporary intellectuals meditate on the issue of historical responsibility of recognizing that the slave past continues to exert an influence on contemporary American society Sign Language Brokering in Deaf-Hearing Families Jemina Napier, 2021-04-15 This book details a study of sign language brokering that is carried out by deaf and hearing people who grow up using sign language at home with deaf parents known as heritage signers Child language brokering CLB is a form of interpreting carried out informally by children typically for migrant families The study of sign language brokering has been largely absent from the emerging body of CLB literature The book gives an overview of the international multi stage mixed method study employing an online survey semi structured interviews and visual methods to explore the lived experiences of deaf parents and heritage signers It will be of interest to practitioners and academics working with signing deaf communities and those who wish to pursue professional practice with

Who Owns History? Geoffrey Robertson, 2019-11-05 The biggest question in the world of art and culture concerns the return of property taken without consent Throughout history conquerors or colonial masters have taken artefacts from subjugated peoples who now want them returned from museums and private collections in Europe and the USA The controversy rages on over the Elgin Marbles and has been given immediacy by figures such as France s President Macron who says he will order French museums to return hundreds of artworks acquired by force or fraud in Africa and by British opposition leader Jeremy Corbyn who has pledged that a Labour government would return the Elgin Marbles to Greece Elsewhere there is a debate in Belgium about whether the Africa Museum newly opened with 120 000 items acquired mainly by armed forces in the Congo should close Although there is an international convention dated 1970 that deals with the restoration of artefacts stolen since that time there is no agreement on the rules of law or ethics which should govern the fate of objects forcefully or lawlessly acquired in previous centuries Who Owns History delves into the crucial debate over the Elgin Marbles but also offers a system for the return of cultural property based on human rights law principles that are being developed by the courts It is not a legal text but rather an examination of how the past can be experienced by everyone as well as by the people of the country of origin
