The Herpesviruses Carlos Lopez, Bernard Roizman, 2012-12-06 You damn sadist said Mr Cummings you try to make people think Ezra Pound Canto 89 What makes herpesviruses unique It is certainly not the size of their genomes or the individual features of their reproductive cycle although in toto striking features that are exclusive to the herpesviruses abound Unquestionably the pre eminent feature is the relationship of herpes viruses with their natural hosts As described in preceding volumes all herpesviruses seem to be able to colonize and to remain in a latent nonproductive form for life of their hosts Once established in the host the relationship is best described as that of an armed truce What happens when this truce breaks down or when the host encounters the virus for the first time is the subject of this volume We have focused primarily on the five human herpesviruses herpes simplex virus 1 HSV 1 herpes simplex virus 2 HSV 2 cytomegalovirus CMV varicella zoster virus VZV and Epstein Barr virus EBV because much more is known about them than about any other herpesviruses and because it is of interest to compare both the diversity of manifestations of infections with human herpesviruses and the spectrum of human responses to these viruses This volume summarizes the current knowledge of the pathogenesis and immunobiology of herpesvirus infections in man and describes new and developing approaches to prophylaxis and treatment It contains contributions from distinguished research scientists presently engaged at the forefront of these scientific investigations

Gynecologic Oncology C.T. Griffiths, Arlan F. Fuller, 2012-12-06 At the turn of the century, gynecology had achieved independence from surgery in most medical schools, although gynecologists were surgeons; their interests were turning toward nonsurgical aspects of their specialty. In 1900, merely two years after the Curie discovery, radium was first used as a treatment for carcinoma of the cervix. In that day, cervical cancer claimed more women's lives than any other malignancy and was described by William P. Graves, the second professor of gynecology at Harvard, as follows: "Cancer of the cervix may rightly be termed of all tumors one of the most deadly and most ghastly. It kills by slow torture, causing in later stages months of agonizing pain and producing a discharge of such a foul and nauseating character as to repel proper medical assistance. Nurses declined to care for these cases while many public hospitals closed their wards to them as patients." In late twentieth-century parlance, the dramatic results of radium therapy would indeed have been called a breakthrough, and radium techniques later combined with external irradiation were developed by gynecologists, no longer just surgeons. Pathology was the basic science of gynecology, and gynecologists with a special interest in pathology served as pathologists to the departments of gynecology. As late as 1970, six months of the three-year residency program in obstetrics and gynecology at Harvard were devoted to formal training in pathology.
