that stresses the fundamental solid state behaviour of minerals and with emphasis on both theory and experiment this 1995 text surveys the physics and chemistry of earth materials It starts with a systematic tour of crystal chemistry of both simple and complex structures with completely new structural drawings and discusses how structural and thermodynamic information is obtained experimentally The quantitative concepts of chemical bonding band theory molecular orbit and ionic models are reviewed The book goes on to discuss physical properties and to relate microscopic features to macroscopic thermodynamic behaviour The book then discusses high pressure phase transitions amorphous materials and solid state reactions and concludes with a look at the interface between mineral physics and materials science Highly illustrated throughout this book fills the gap between undergraduate texts and specialised review volumes for students in earth sciences and materials science

Hubbell Trading Post Erica Cottam, 2015-09-22 For more than a century trading posts in the American Southwest tied the U S economy and culture to those of American Indian peoples and in this capacity Hubbell Trading Post founded in 1878 in Ganado Arizona had no parallel This book tells the story of the Hubbell family its Navajo neighbors and clients and what the changing relationship between them reveals about the history of Navajo trading Drawing on extensive archival material and secondary literature historian Erica Cottam begins with an account of John Lorenzo Hubbell who was part Hispanic part Anglo and wholly brilliant and charismatic She examines his trading practices and the strategies he used to meet the challenges of Navajo exchange customs and a seasonal trading cycle Tracing the trading post s affairs through the upheavals of the twentieth century Cottam explores the growth of tourism the development of Navajo weaving the automobile s advent and the Hubbells relationship with the Fred Harvey Company She also describes the Hubbell family s role in providing Navajo and Hopi demonstrators for world s fairs and other events and in supplying museums with Native artifacts Acknowledging the criticism aimed at the Hubbell family for taking advantage of Navajo clients Cottam shows the family s strengths their integrity as business operators and the warm friendships they developed with customers and with the artists writers archaeologists politicians and tourists attracted to Navajo country by its unparalleled landscapes and fascinating peoples Cottam traces the preservation efforts of Hubbell s daughter in law after the Great Depression and World War II fundamentally altered the trading post business and concludes with the post s transition to its present status as a National Park Service historic site

Arizona's Historic Trading Posts Carolyn O'Bagy Davis, 2014 On the sparsely settled Arizona reservation lands trading posts were important centers for commerce as well as social gathering destinations With a subsistence economy the posts offered opportunities to trade sheep wool and crafts for necessities such as flour coffee sugar known as sweet salt and tools Most often traders were Anglos living as partners among their Indian neighbors They often were the only contact with the outside culture and their stores provided an outlet for local arts such as rugs pottery baskets and jewelry Traders helped with correspondence transportation and sickness and they even buried the dead Trading posts were the sites of marriages and murders they were destinations for artists scientists and adventurous tourists With the coming of roads and automobiles trading posts have all but disappeared but the stories and photographs shared in this volume offer a glimpse into a vanishing time in the Southwest Indian-made Erika Marie Bsumek,2008 In works of silver and wool the Navajos have established a unique brand of American craft And when their artisans were integrated into the American economy during the late nineteenth century they became part of a complex cultural and economic framework in which their handmade crafts conveyed meanings beyond simple adornment Bsumek unravels the layers of meaning that surround the branding of Indian made When Navajo artisans produced their goods collaborating traders tourist industry personnel and even ethnologists created a vision of Navajo culture that had little to do with Navajos themselves And as Anglos consumed Navajo crafts they also consumed the romantic notion of Navajos as primitives perpetuated by the marketplace These processes of production and consumption reinforced each other creating a symbiotic relationship and influencing both mutual Anglo Navajo perceptions and the ways in which Navajos participated in the modern marketplace Ultimately Bsumek shows that the sale of Indian made goods cannot be explained solely through supply and demand It must also reckon with the multiple images and narratives that grew up around the goods themselves integrating consumer culture tourism and history to open new perspectives on our understanding of American Indian material culture

Webster,Louise Stiver,D. Y. Begay,Lynda Teller Pete,2017-08-15 Navajo Textiles provides a nuanced account the Navajo weavings in the Crane Collection at the Denver Museum of Nature Science one of the largest collections of Navajo textiles in the world Bringing together the work of anthropologists and indigenous artists the book explores the Navajo rug trade in the mid nineteenth century and changes in the Navajo textile market while highlighting the museum s important though still relatively unknown collection of Navajo textiles In this unique collaboration among anthropologists museums and Navajo weavers the authors provide a narrative of the acquisition of the Crane Collection and a history of Navajo weaving Personal reflections and insights from foremost Navajo weavers D Y Begay and Lynda Teller Pete are also featured and more than one hundred stunning full color photographs of the textiles in the collection are accompanied by technical information about the materials and techniques used in their creation An introduction by Ann Lane Hedlund documents the growing collaboration between Navajo weavers and museums in Navajo textile research The legacy of Navajo weaving is complex and intertwined with the history of the Din themselves Navajo Textiles makes the history and practice of Navajo weaving accessible to an audience of scholars and laypeople both within and outside the Din community

Navajo Weaving in the Late Twentieth Century Ann Lane Hedlund, 2004-10 According to the Navajos the holy people Spider Man and Spider Woman first brought the tools for weaving to the People Over the centuries Navajo artists have used those tools to weave a web of beauty a rich tradition that continues to the present day In testimony to this living art form this book presents 74 dazzling color plates of Navajo rugs and wall hangings woven between 1971 and 1996 Drawn from a private southwestern collection they represent the work of sixty of the finest native weavers in the American Southwest The creations depicted here reflect a number of styles revival sandpainting pictorial miniature sampler and a number of major regional variations from Ganado to Teec Nos Pos Textile authority Ann Hedlund provides an introductory narrative about the development of Navajo textile collecting including the shift of attention from artifacts to art and a brief review of the history of Navajo weaving She then comments on the shaping of the particular collection represented in the book offering a rich source of knowledge and insight for other collectors Explaining themes in Navajo weaving over the quarter century represented by the Santa Fe Collection Hedlund focuses on the development of modern rug designs and the influence on weavers of family community artistic identity and the marketplace She also introduces each section of plates with a description of the representative style its significance and the weavers who perpetuate and deviate from it In addition to the textile plates Hedlund's color photographs show the families landscapes livestock hogans and looms that surround today's Navajo weavers Navajo Weaving in the Late Twentieth Century explores many of the important connections that exist today among weavers through their families and neighbors and the significant role that collectors play in perpetuating this dynamic art form For all who appreciate American Indian art and culture this book provides invaluable guidance to the fine points of collecting and a rich visual feast Southwest Traveler - A Travelers Guide to Southwest Indian Arts and Crafts

Charlotte S. Neyland, 1992 The baskets blankets rugs pottery jewellery sandpaintings dolls and beadwork created by the Native Americans of the Southwest are all so unique and fascinating This book is a good introduction to the work that goes into the creations Swept Under the Rug Kathy M'Closkey, 2002 Debunks the romanticist stereotyping of Navajo weavers and Reservation traders and situates weavers within the economic history of the southwest

Southwest Weaving Stefani Salkeld, San Diego Museum of Man, 1996 A catalog for a traveling exhibition of Native American folk art presents and describes hand woven textiles from the Pueblo Navajo and New Mexico Hispanic village cultures Hubbell Trading Post National Historic Site, Master Plan (1969) B1; Statement for Management B2; Assessment of Alternatives and Development Concept Plan B3; Resource(s) Management Plan (RMP) B4; Development Concept Plan (1980) B5; Interpretive Prospectus (1980), 1979 Disruptive Voices and the Singularity of Histories Regna Darnell, Frederic W. Gleach, 2019-11-01 Histories of Anthropology Annual presents diverse perspectives on the discipline's history within a global context with a goal of increasing awareness and use of historical approaches in teaching, learning and conducting anthropology. The series includes critical, comparative, analytical and narrative studies involving all aspects and subfields of anthropology. Volume 13 Disruptive Voices and the Singularity of Histories explores the interplay of identities and scholarship through the history of anthropology with a special section examining fieldwork predecessors and indigenous communities in Native North America. Individual contributions explore the complexity of women's history, indigenous history, national traditions and oral histories to juxtapose what we understand of the past with its present continuities. These contributions include Sharon Lindenburger's examination of Franz Boas and his navigation with Jewish identity; Kathy M. Closkey's documentation of Navajo weavers and their struggles with cultural identities and economic resources and demands; and Mindy Morgan's use of the text of Ruth Underhill's Oodham study to capture the voices of three generations of women ethnographers. Because this work bridges anthropology and history, a richer and more varied view of the past emerges through the meticulous narratives of anthropologists and their unique fieldwork, ultimately providing competing points of access to social dynamics. This volume examines events at both macro and micro levels, documenting the impact large-scale historical events have had on particular individuals and challenging the uniqueness of a single interpretation of the same facts.
