Gilman, 2013 This book is a collection of documents mostly translated from the German that covers the entire Third Reich from the beginnings of National Socialism in Munich in 1919 through the rise of Nazism in the 1930s and ultimately the defeat of the Third Reich It is wide ranging covering the core doctrine of anti Semitism education German youth women and marriage science health the Church literature visual arts music the body industry sports and the resistance The Making of the Greek Genocide Erik Sjöberg, 2016-11-23 During and after World War I over one million Ottoman Greeks were expelled from Turkey a watershed moment in Greek history that resulted in hundreds of thousands of deaths And while few dispute the expulsion s tragic scope it remains the subject of fierce controversy as activists have fought for international recognition of an atrocity they consider comparable to the Armenian genocide This book provides a much needed analysis of the Greek genocide as cultural trauma Neither taking the genocide narrative for granted nor dismissing it outright Erik Sj berg instead recounts how it emerged as a meaningful but contested collective memory with both nationalist and cosmopolitan dimensions Holocaust and Genocide, 2004-01 Aims to provide History Citizenship and RE departments with coverage of the origins events and aftermath of the Holocaust and features links to particular aspects of the genocides in Rwanda and the Balkans It covers the issues and themes from each of these topics and a selection of source material including audio files and video clips Delivering Digital Services David McMenemy, Alan Poulter, 2005 Lifelong learning is currently a major concern of governments who wish to see their citizens remain employable while the job market changes Critical to this are digital learning centres where learning is delivered through internet access or via CD based packages Access to these turns public libraries and community networks into multi media neighbourhood superstores where print based learning materials are enhanced by multimedia The multiplicity of sources of learning materials and experiences reinforces and extends the traditional role of the librarian as mediator between the user and their needs To support and foster these activities frontline public library and community network staff must be capable of offering user support and advice in a much wider arena This requires training in new knowledge and skill sets This timely new book offers practical guidance and expertise for public library and community network staff in setting up running and developing an effective digital learning centre based within the People's Network or in a related community networking initiative It has a holistic focus on the use of ICT taking staff beyond user training applications into areas of network management e learning digitization web design and XML that staff face on a day to day basis Key areas covered include PC installation and maintenance managing a network and coping with the security issues of internet connection understanding and supporting lifelong learning digitization of local materials managing websites and intranets site design metadata XML building local community portals implementing e government social inclusion and service extension assistive technologies service issues copyright access user and staff training Readership This book will de mystify this new area of development for all library and information staff working in or setting up a PC based digital learning centre in information service settings within public libraries community networking centres and school and academic libraries Genocide Linda Jacobs Altman, 2009-01-01 Examines the history of genocide throughout the world including the Holocaust and explores the definition of the term the importance of bearing witness and the necessary steps to prevent genocide in the future Provided Medical and Psychological Effects of Concentration Camps on Holocaust Survivors Robert by publisher Krell, 2019-01-22 This unique research bibliography is offered in honor of Leo Eitinger of Oslo Norway Dr Eitinger fled to Norway in 1939 at the start of the World War II He was caught and deported to Auschwitz where among others he operated on Elie Wiesel who has written the foreword to this volume After the war Eitinger became a pioneering researcher on a subject from which many shied away His contributions to understanding of the experience of massive psychological trauma have inspired others to do similar work His many books and papers are listed in this special volume of the acclaimed bibliographic series edited by Israel W Charny of The Institute on the Holocaust and Genocide in Jerusalem In order to acquaint users of this bibliography with the topic two introductory articles are offered The first is titled Survivors and Their Families and deals with the impact of the Holocaust on individuals The second Psychiatry and the Holocaust examines the general impact of the Holocaust on the field of psychiatry Robert Krell writes that in general the psychiatric literature has reflected critically on the survivor due to preconceived notions held by many mental health professionals For many years the exploration of victims psychopathology obscured the remarkable adaptation made by some survivors The problems experienced by survivors and possible approaches to treatment were entirely absent from mainstream psychiatric textbooks such as the Comprehensive Textbook of Psychiatry throughout the 1960s and 1970s Fifty years of observations about survivors of the concentration camps and other survivors of the Holocaust in hiding as partisans in slave labor camps has provided a new body of medical and psychiatric literature This comprehensive bibliography contains a plethora of references to significant pieces of literature regarding the Holocaust and its effects on survivors It will be of inestimable value to physicians psychiatrists psychologists and social workers along with historians sociologists and Holocaust studies specialists

International Genealogy and Local History Ruth Hedegaard, Elizabeth Anne Melrose, 2008-08-27 This book contains the papers delivered at sessions organised by the Genealogy and Local History Section at the annual conferences of the International Federation of Library Associations and Institutions IFLA between 2001 and 2005 many of these are updated versions of the original presentations A wide range of significant issues and trends in historical and family research is covered The authors all experts in their own fields address those engaged in delivering genealogy and local history services in libraries archives and museums across the world Moreover they focus on the growing army of enthusiasts directly engaged in tracing their own ancestral and local history Several papers give useful hints on how various resources can be used to further personal research These include the exciting opportunities offered by the digitisation of primary resources and by the impact of the powerful new technology among other things now on offer through DNA profiling Teaching and Studying the Holocaust Samuel Totten, Stephen Feinberg, 2009-11-01 Originally Published in 2000 by Allyn Ida E King Distinguished Visitor Professor of Holocaust Studies Richard Stockton College and Former Director of Research at the United States Holocaust Memorial Museum There are many scholars who are wont to criticize the teaching of the Holocaust Many journalists critique what they regard as kitsch or trendiness All critics of contemporary Holocaust education would do well to read this book One cannot fail to be impressed by the quality of its learning and the seriousness of its purpose It is a wonderful place for teachers to turn as they contemplate teaching the Holocaust an open invitation to learn more and teach more effectively Barry van Driel Coordinator International Teacher Education Anne Frank House Amsterdam Teaching and Studying the Holocaust is an invaluable resource for any teacher wanting to address the complex and sometimes overwhelming history of the Holocaust in the classroom The book offers a multitude of sensitive and responsible ways of dealing with the issue of the Holocaust It succeeds in showing teachers very clearly how the study of the Holocaust is not just a topic for history teachers but for teachers across the curriculum Dr Nili Keren Kibbutzim College of Education Tel Aviv Israel Teaching about the Shoah is one of the most complicated tasks for educators Indeed teaching and studying this history raises unprecedented questions concerning modern civilization and presents teachers and students with tremendous challenges Samuel Totten and Stephen Feinberg have created a volume that provides educators with essential information and new insights regarding the teaching of this history and in doing so they assist educators to face the aforementioned challenges head on Teaching and Studying the Holocaust does not make the task easier but it does make it possible Samuel Totten is currently professor of Curriculum and Instruction at the University of Arkansas Fayetteville Prior to entering academia he was an English and social studies teacher in Australia Israel California and at the U S House of Representatives Page School in Washington D C Totten is also editor of Teaching Holocaust Literature published by Allyn Bacon Stephen Feinberg is currently the Special Assistant for Education Programs in the National Institute for Holocaust Education at the United States Holocaust Memorial Museum With Samuel Totten he was co editor of a special issue Teaching the Holocaust of Social Education the official journal of the National Council for the Social Studies For eighteen years he was a history and social studies teacher in the public schools of Wayland MA Emotions, Decision-Making and Mass Atrocities Olaoluwa Olusanya, 2016-05-06 This book rehumanizes perpetrators of mass atrocities At present a victim perpetrator dichotomy appears to be the dominant paradigm perpetrators have either been mechanistically dehumanized that is perceived as unemotional hard hearted and conforming and thereby lacking the core features of human nature or alternatively they have been animalistically dehumanized In other words they are seen as immoral unintelligent lacking self control and likened to animals Within sociology and criminology the dominant view is that genocide and other mass atrocities are committed by technologically lobotomized perpetrators Somehow the process of rationalization is believed to have transformed these people from emotionally healthy people into hollow soulless shells of human beings or zombies devoid of a full range of normal emotions These people are considered bereft of any ability to reason think or feel yet ambulant and able to respond to surrounding stimuli However it is difficult to imagine crime especially those involving a group of people working together for the duration of a particular criminal activity without emotions For instance there is ample evidence suggesting that both crimes of passion and pre meditated crimes involve emotional arousal Furthermore research in fields such as evolutionary biology psychology and sociology of work and organizations suggest that emotions are essential for human progress and survival In addition emotions help us make the right call in risky and uncertain situations in other words the majority of real life situations. There is therefore a need to revisit existing assumptions around the role of emotions in mass atrocities The Jews in the Secret Nazi Reports on Popular Opinion in Germany, 1933-1945 Otto Dov Kulka, Eberhard Jäckel, 2010-11-23 Presented for the first time in English the huge archive of secret Nazi reports reveals what life was like for German Jews and the extent to which the German population supported their social exclusion and the measures that led to their annihilation Remembering Cold Days Arpad von Klimo, 2018-11-06 Between three and four thousand civilians primarily Serbian and Jewish were murdered in the Novi Sad massacre of 1942 Hungarian soldiers and gendarmes carried out the crime in the city and surrounding areas in territory Hungary occupied after the German attack on Yugoslavia The perpetrators believed their acts to be a contribution to a new order in Europe and as a means to ethnically cleanse the occupied lands In marked contrast to other massacres the Horthy regime investigated the incident and tried and convicted the commanding officers in 1943 44 Other trials would follow During the 1960s a novel and film telling the story of the massacre sparked the first public open debate about the Hungarian Holocaust This book examines public contentions over the Novi Sad massacre from its inception in 1942 until the final trial in 2011 It demonstrates how attitudes changed over time toward this war crime and the Holocaust through different political regimes and in Hungarian society The book also views how the larger European context influenced Hungarian debates and how Yugoslavia dealt with memories of the From the Unthinkable to the Unavoidable Carol Rittner, John K. Roth, 1997-02-25 In the last half century ways of massacre thinking about the Holocaust have changed somewhat dramatically In this volume noted scholars reflect on how their own thinking about the Holocaust has changed over the years In their personal stories they confront the questions that the Holocaust has raised for them and explore how these questions have been evolving Contributors include John T Pawlikowski Richard L Rubenstein Michael Berenbaum and Eva Fleischner Index to Jewish Periodicals ,2005 An author and subject index to selected and American Anglo Jewish journals of general and scholarly interests Teaching about Genocide Samuel Totten, 2006-07-01
