The Holocaust in French Film André Colombat, 1993 Analyzes the evolution of the representation of the Holocaust in French cinema from 1940 to the present Gathers detailed analyses of the nine most widely praised French films dealing with the Holocaust Includes stills filmography bibliography index and a lengthy interview with director Pierre Sauvage

Jewish Identity in French Cinema (1950-2010) Serge Bokobza, 2016-02-22 This book examines the expression of a Jewish identity in French films and the characteristics used by filmmakers to portray this nebulous concept in movies produced after the Shoah and World War II Throughout a sixty year span French directors struggled to define Jewish identity and a correlation with the larger question of French national identity The study delves into the larger question of Jewish identity as characterised in works of cinematic fiction in accordance with the history of the Jews of France using the centrality of the emancipation paradigm of 1791 and the theoretical frame provided by Jean Paul Sartre's Reflexions sur la question juive The book identifies and describes three categories of films produced between 1950 and 2010 that represent the manner in which directors portrayed an evolving Jewish identity and its relation to French society rejecting the practice of labeling a film as Jewish because of the ethnicity of a director or writer Based on extensive research including the review of over 200 full length films the book provides an overview of features addressing the concept of Jewish identity and includes a Descriptive Filmography of productions matching the author's definition of a Jewish identity film From the template La Grande Illusion to contemporary releases the book argues that French Jewish identity films dwell in the sociological realm of Jewishness as the epicenter of tension is rooted in identity rather than religion

The A to Z of French Cinema Dayna Oscherwitz, MaryEllen Higgins, 2009-09-02 It can be argued that cinema was created in France by Louis Lumière in 1895 with the invention of the cinematographe the first true motion picture camera and projector While there were other cameras and devices invented earlier that were capable of projecting intermittent motion of images the cinematographe was the first device capable of recording and externally projecting images in such a way as to convey motion Early films such as Lumière's La Sortie de l'usine a minute long film of workers leaving the Lumière factory captured the imagination of the nation and quickly inspired the likes of Georges Méliès Alice Guy and Charles Pathé Through the years French cinema has been responsible for producing some of the world's best directors Jean Renoir Jean-Luc Godard François Truffaut and Louis Malle and actors Charles Boyer Catherine Deneuve Gérard Philipe and Audrey Tautou The A to Z of French Cinema covers the history of French film from the silent era to the present in a concise and up to date volume detailing the development of French cinema and major theoretical and cultural issues related to it This is done through a chronology an introduction photographs a bibliography and hundreds of cross referenced dictionary entries on many of the major actors directors films movements producers and studios associated with French cinema Going beyond mere biographical information entries also discuss the impact and significance of each individual film movement or studio included This detailed scholarly analysis of the development of film in France is useful to both the novice and the expert alike French Cinema Romi Fournier Lanzoni, Romi Fournier-Lanzoni, 2015-10-22 An all encompassing history of French motion pictures and cinematographic trends chronologically from 1895 to the present Contemporary French Cinema Guy Austin, 1996-11-15 Examines popular French film of the last 25 years Charts recent developments in all genres since the New Wave including the heritage film the thriller the war film cinema du look Other topics include representations of sexuality the work of women film makers Includes a filmography Remembering the Occupation in French film L. Hewitt, 2008-02-18 When collective memory is a source of national debate the public representation of history quickly becomes a locus of controversy and ideological struggle This work shows how French film has allowed for a public airing of current concerns through the lens of memory s recreations of the Occupation Historical Dictionary of Holocaust Cinema Robert C. Reimer, Carol J. Reimer, 2012-04-12 Some say that telling the story of the Holocaust is impossible yet artists have told the story thousands of times since the end of World War II in novels dramas paintings music sculpture and film Over the past seven decades hundreds of documentaries narrative shorts and features and television miniseries have confronted the horrors of the past creating an easily recognized iconography of persecution and genocide While it can be argued that film and television have a tendency to trivialize using the artifacts of popular culture film and literature artists keep the past alive ensuring that victims are not forgotten and the tragedy of the Holocaust is not repeated The Historical Dictionary of Holocaust Cinema examines the history of how the Holocaust is presented in film including documentaries feature films and television productions It contains a chronology of events needed to give the films and their reception a historical context an introductory essay a bibliography a filmography of more than 600 titles and over 100 cross referenced dictionary entries on films directors and historical figures Foreign language films and experimental films are included as well as canonical films This book is a must for anyone interested in the scope of films on the Holocaust and also for scholars interested in investigating ideas for future research Narrating the Nation Stefan Berger, Linas Eriksonas, Andrew Mycock, 2008 A sustained and systematic study of the construction erosion and reconstruction of national histories across a wide variety of states is highly topical and extremely relevant in the context of the accelerating processes of Europeanization and globalization However as demonstrated in this volume histories have not of course only been written by professional historians Drawing on studies from a number of different European nation states the contributors to this volume present a systematic exploration of the representation of the national paradigm In doing so they contextualize the European experience in a more global framework by providing comparative perspectives on the national histories in the Far East and North America As such they expose the complex variables and diverse actors that lie behind the narration of a nation Louis Malle (French Film Directors). Hugo Frey, 2004-11-27 This critical analysis of the work of Louis Malle director of Au Revoir les Enfants and My Dinner with André focuses on the most challenging aspects of his oeuvre such as his portrayals of Nazi occupied France Focus On: 100 Most Popular French-language Films

Wikipedia contributors, Teaching Film Lucy Fischer, Patrice Petro, 2012-07-27 Film studies has been a part of higher education curricula in the United States almost since the development of the medium. Although the study of film is dispersed across a range of academic departments, programs, and scholarly organizations, film studies has come to be recognized as a field in its own right. In an era when teaching and scholarship are increasingly interdisciplinary, film studies continues to expand and thrive, attracting new scholars and fresh ideas, direction, and research. Given the dynamism of the field, experienced and beginning instructors alike need resources for bringing the study of film into the classroom. This volume will help instructors conceptualize contemporary film studies in pedagogical terms. The first part of the volume features essays on theory and on representation, including gender, race, and sexuality. Contributors then examine the geographies of cinema and offer practical suggestions for structuring courses on national, regional, and transnational film. Several essays focus on interdisciplinary approaches, while others describe courses designed around genre: film noir, the musical, mode, animation, documentary, avant-garde film, or the formal elements of film, such as sound, music, and mise en scène. The volume closes with a section on film and media in the digital age, in which contributors discuss the opportunities and challenges presented by access to resources, media convergence, and technological developments in the field. Contemporary French Cinema, 2nd Edition Guy Austin, 2008 Tracing the history of contemporary French cinema, Guy Austin addresses key issues in French films, such as national identity, representations of sexuality, and the new realism. The Construction of Testimony Erin McGlothlin, Brad Prager, Markus Zisselsberger, 2020-04-21 Scholars and students of film studies and Holocaust studies will value this close analysis. Vichy's Afterlife Richard Joseph Golsan, 2000-01-01 One of the distinctive features of the Vichy Syndrome—the persistence of the memory of the Vichy regime in French political and cultural life—is that it has been extremely difficult for an authoritative historical discourse to impose itself. Why does Vichy, and all that the name entails, fascinate and even obsess the French, inflecting not only discussions of the past but of the present as well? In Vichy's Afterlife, Richard J. Golsan explores the complexities of some of the most provocative episodes of Vichy's curious persistence in France's national consciousness. He argues that each of these episodes, events, and scandals constitutes a crossroads where history and counterhistory, different or competing versions of the past, encounter one another, often with explosive and even destructive consequences. Violence and American Cinema J. David Slocum, 2013-09-13 American cinema has always been violent, and never more so than now. Exploding heads, buses that blow up, racial attacks, and general mayhem. From slapstick's comic violence to film noir, from silent cinema to Tarantino violence, has been an integral part of America on screen. This new volume, in a successful series, analyzes violence, examining its nature, its effects, and its cinematic and social meaning. Performing Difference Jonathan C. Friedman, 2008-12-24 Performing Difference is a compilation of seventeen essays from some of the leading scholars in history, criticism, film, and theater studies. Each author examines the portrayal of groups and individuals that have been traditionally marginalized or excluded from dominant historical narratives. As a meeting point of several fields of study this book is organized around three meta themes race gender and genocide Included are analyses of films and theatrical productions from the United States as well as essays on cinema from Southern and Central America Europe and the Middle East Typically the contributing authors write about the depiction of race ethnicities gender and sexual orientation and genocides This volume assesses how the performing arts have aided in the social construction of the other in differing contexts Its fundamental premise is that performance is powerful and its unifying thesis is that the arts remain a major forum for advancing a more nuanced and humane vision of social outcasts not only in the realm of national imaginations but in social relations as well

Paris in the Cinema Alastair Phillips, Ginette Vincendeau, 2019-07-25 Paris in the Cinema offers a new approach to the representation of Paris on screen Bringing together a wide range of renowned French and Anglophone specialists in film television history architecture and literature the volume introduces challenges and extends ideas about the city as the locus of screen modernity Through a range of concrete and historically specific case studies ranging from particular districts such as Saint Germain des Pres and les banlieues the suburbs in French cinema to iconic figures such as the detective Maigret and the lovers and from locations such as the hotel the building site and the Eiffel Tower to filmmakers such as Agnes Varda and Jean Pierre Jeunet this unique text demonstrates how the cinematic city of Paris now constitutes a major archive of French cultural history and memory

Alain Resnais (French Film Directors) Emma Wilson, 2006-09-19 Tracing the evolving patterns of Alain Resnais's filmmaking and its changing reflections on mortality guilt chance and human doubt this work provides an introduction to the French film director's work from his earliest documentaries to his musical films
