The X Files star and bestselling author s zany madcap first novel is a seriously entertaining fable that doesn t take itself too seriously John Wilwol The Washington Post Elsie Bovary is a cow and a pretty happy one at that her long lazy days are spent eating napping and chatting with her best friend Mallory One night Elsie and Mallory sneak out of their pasture but while Mallory is interested in flirting with the neighboring bulls Elsie finds herself drawn to the farmhouse Through the window she sees the farmer s family gathered around a bright Box God and what the Box God reveals about something called an industrial meat farm shakes Elsie s understanding of her world to its core There s only one solution escape to a better safer world And so a motley crew is formed Elsie Jerry excuse me Shalom a cranky Torah reading pig who s recently converted to Judaism and Tom a suave in his own mind at least turkey who can t fly but who can work an iPhone with his beak Toting stolen passports and slapdash human disguises they head for the airport Elsie is our wise cracking pop culture reference dropping slyly witty narrator Tom who does eventually learn to fly sort of dispenses psychiatric advice in a fake German accent and Shalom rejected by his adopted people in Jerusalem ends up unexpectedly uniting Israelis and Palestinians David Duchovny s charismatic creatures point the way toward a mutual understanding and acceptance that the world desperately needs Who knew a cow s view of the world was so funny yet so honest and true Holy Cow is silly and fun from the opening page Jeff Ayers The Denver Post ‘Other’ Voices in Education—(Re)Stor(y)ing Stories Carmen Blyth,2023-09-30 This book explores how stories can be used as data that prefigure and make possible the numerous permutations of life that comprise existence and examines how stories can be reconfigured to transform that existence into something other. It uses varied theoretical and critical frameworks such as autoethnography and posthumanism with which to explore the stories shared that go beyond cause and effect. This book looks to engage with storying and storytelling as inquiry in non-Western worlds and looks to make storying restorative and stories written by non-Western educators the locus of attention. By doing so it seeks to illustrate what distinctive ways of storying and storytelling can look like in worlds other than those that follow a Western ethico-epistemological worldview. It provides a way to articulate thought that may be commonly omitted in teacher education around the world and looks at truth as situated rather than as totality, local rather than global, with stories used to problematize subject-object positionings within those same stories.
