Antitrust Law Journal, 1986 Highway Safety Literature, 1985 The Future of Canada's Auto Industry Ross Perry, 1982 From the back cover In this study economist Ross Perry shows that all indicators point to a further restriction in the Canadian auto industry resulting in further shrinkage of employment and the possibility of a major deterioration in the country's balance of payments. While the objective of the Auto Pact and Canadian automotive trade policy has always been job creation, Perry concludes that it will be increasingly difficult for the Canadian industry to be both viable and to generate jobs for the industrial heartland of Southern Ontario. Perry examines areas of specialization where Canada with its advantages in energy-intensive products could be competitive in the world market and he outlines the two basic options for national policymakers: restructuring the industry for viability or resisting its decline. American Business

Subcommittee on Transportation, Aviation, and Communications, 1979. Climate Change and Business Teresa da Silva Lopes, Paul Duguid, Robert Fredona, 2025-04-30 Climate change is the greatest market failure in world history and thus the most urgent challenge in the world of business for the foreseeable future. This book brings together experts to shed light on the historical impact of business on climate change and of climate change on business. The book shows how corporate responses to climate change emerged out of earlier environmental concerns, regulatory frameworks and in many cases already established business strategies. Contributors to the book analyse the evolution of business strategies to navigate environmental challenges even before climate crisis was widely recognised as an urgent concern. The historical insights presented by this book will be essential reading for business historians as well as students, scholars and reflective practitioners with an interest in the environment, political economy, business strategy and risk management. 日本自動車工業会 (Japan), 1900. The Sustaining Hand Bryan D. Jones, Lynn W.

Bachelor, 1993. This book seeks to uncover the linkages between business leaders motivated by profit and political decision makers motivated by electoral gain by examining the responses of public officials in three Michigan auto cities: Detroit, Flint and Pontiac to plant location choices made by General Motors and Chrysler. Throughout, the authors focus on three issues: the relationship between the local industrial economy and the local political system; the structure of urban politics; and the degree of independence of political decision makers in urban affairs. Preprints of the Annual Automotive Technology

DRIVING CHANGE The Transformation of India's Automotive Sector Chirag Vinalbhai Shah,Vishwanadham Mandala, Future Automotive Fuels and Energy Bruce Morey,2013-08-05 This book sheds light on three essential questions 1 What is the likely supply of gasoline and diesel from oil worldwide to power light vehicles and trucks through 2030 2035 2 Could any other fuel economically replace gasoline Will different parts of the world answer that question differently 3 How will the answers to these questions affect what we engineer make and drive in 2030 2035 As difficult as it is to predict timing of these events the book presents reasonable assumptions and alternative scenarios Since a switch to alternative technologies will require substantial investment it is critical to have a sense of when Despite the global reach of the automotive industry it is unlikely that a solution for one region will fit all A more reasonable goal is a set of projected ecosystems using differing amounts of oil electricity or alternative fuels From this automotive managers and leaders can get a sense of how to make business decisions for the future To frame comparisons the author qualitatively assesses each alternative against these criteria 1 energy density 2 scale 3 efficiency of use 4 consumer convenience 5 vehicle technical maturity 6 delivery infrastructure maturity 7 production infrastructure maturity 8 rate of progress Some alternative fuels will naturally be higher in some categories than others For example gasoline has higher energy density but when burned in internal combustion engines has low efficiency Batteries on the other hand have low energy density but are efficient for powering electric motors For mapping out a long term future and deciding how best to invest resources a comparison of these critical criteria should help The book is concisely written for executives decision makers academics automotive engineers and others who want or need a long range view of trends that will influence vehicle fuels for the next 20 years
