Government They Deserve:

Budget of the United States Government United States. Office of Management and Budget, 2010 We Deserve Rayol John Augustus Ph.D., 2019-05-14 We overestimate what we can do in one year and underestimate what we can do in ten years All of us have our own mountains to climb and conquer One thing is certain we will have to actively pursue success It does not just happen It is based on small everyday choices and efforts It requires constant work and care It requires us to be persistent consistent and patient We may succeed or we may fail Every time we fail it brings us closer to success People who are successful are the ones who keep failing and getting up The most important thing is not to quit trying We have to start by selling ourselves to ourselves Once we achieve some success it is easy to forget all the small efforts we have put in over the years So it is wise to take a good hard look into our life We will see the long way we have come and appreciate every part of it We need to appreciate ourselves and know that whatever we have we deserve When we finally succeed all that people see are the results Suddenly something you worked on for years looks like an overnight success But as we know success is never a coincidence It is not a question of luck either The harder we work the luckier we get If we want people to be aware of it let them be a part of our journey Let them know that whatever we have achieved it is because we learned we followed certain principles we got out of our comfort zone we changed and we grew What we have we deserve Thinking Government David Johnson, 2006-01-01 Thinking Government offers a one stop resource perfect for courses on Canadian public administration and governance Evert A Lindquist University of Victoria Lectures on the Moral Government of God Nathaniel Taylor, 2019-10-10 Originally compiled in 1859 this book is a collection of Nathaniel Taylor's lectures considering the moral government of God The moral government of God was the great thought of Dr Taylor's intellect and the favourite theme of his instructions in theology to vindicate the ways of God to man was the object to which all Dr Taylor's energies were consecrated This collection presents a complete and connected view of all that he wrote on this fundamental topic in theology and to the lectures on moral government have been appended other essays and lectures on subjects that are naturally connected with this Contemporary Thought on Nineteenth Century Conservatism Angus Hawkins, Richard Gaunt, 2021-02-11 The Conservative party remains the longest established major political party in modern British history This collection makes available 19th century documents illuminating aspects of Conservatism through a critical period in the party's history from 1830 to 1874 It throws light on Conservative ideas changing policies party organisation and popular partisan support showing how Conservatism evolved and responded to domestic and global change It explores how certain clusters of ideas and beliefs comprised a Conservative view of political action and purposes often reinforcing the importance of historic institutions such as the Anglican Church the monarchy and the constitution It also looks at the ways in which a broadening electorate required the marshalling of Conservative supporters through greater party organisation and how the Conservative party became the embodiment and expression of durable popular political sentiment The collection examines how the Conservative party became a body seeking to deliver progress combined with stability The documents brought together in this collection give direct voice to how Conservatives of the period perceived and extolled their aspirations aims and the values of Conservatism Introductory essays highlight the main themes and nature of Conservatism in a dynamic age of change and how the Conservative axiom in an imperfect world of successful adaptation being essential to effective preservation informed and defined the Conservative party the views of its leaders the beliefs of its supporters and the political outlook they espoused Kenya National Assembly Official Record (Hansard), 1938 The official records of the proceedings of the Legislative Council of the Colony and Protectorate of Kenya the House of Representatives of the Government of Kenya and the National Assembly of the Republic of Kenya Social and civil duties Nathanael Emmons, 1842 The Works of Nathanael Emmons Nathanael Emmons, 1842 The Works of N. Deng, 2011-10-01

The civil war that has intermittently raged in the Sudan since independence in 1956 is according to Francis Deng a conflict of contrasting and seemingly incompatible identities in the Northern and Southern parts of the country Identity is seen as a function of how people identify themselves and are identified in racial ethnic cultural linguistic and religious terms The identity question related to how such concepts determine or influence participation and distribution in the political economic social and cultural life of the country War of Visions aims at shedding light on the anomalies of the identity conflict The competing models in the Sudan are the Arab Islamic mold of the North representing two thirds of the country in territory and population and the remaining Southern third which is indigenously African in race ethnicity culture and religion with an educated Christianized elite But although the North is popularly defined as racially Arab the people are a hybrid of Arab and African elements with the African physical characteristics predominating in most tribal groups This configuration is the result of a historical process that stratified races cultures and religions and fostered a passing into the Arab Islamic mold that discriminated against the African race and cultures The outcome of this process is a polarization that is based more on myth than on the realities of the situation The identity crisis has been further complicated by the fact that Northerners want to fashion the country on the basis of their Arab Islamic identity while the South is decidedly resistant Francis Deng presents three alternative approaches to the identity crisis First he argues that by bringing to the surface the realities of the African elements of identity in the North thereby revealing characteristics shared by all Sudanese a new basis for the creation of a common identity could be established that fosters equitable

Distributive Justice Fred Feldman, 2016-07-07 This book presents and defends a novel theory of distributive justice according to which political economic distributive justice reigns in a state if the government of that state ensures that citizens receive the benefits and burdens they deserve from it The book starts with a more precise characterization of the target of this inquiry political economic distributive justice It then proceeds to explicate the concept of desert evaluate proposed ways of justifying desert claims formulate a number of desertist theories of justice and draw out the special features of the version defended here Once the proposed form of desertism has been stated its implications are compared to those of egalitarianism luck egalitarianism sufficientism the difference principle libertarianism and prioritarianism with the aim of showing that desertism yields more attractive results in cases that prove difficult for other theories currently being discussed in the literature Arguments especially arguments deriving from Rawls against desertism are explained and shown to be ineffective There is discussion of the distinction between comparative and non comparative justice Emphasis is placed on the distinction between a theories about the moral rightness of distributions b theories about the intrinsic value of distributions and c theories specifically about the justice of distributions There is discussion of the unfortunate results of confusion of these different sorts of theory The views of Rawls Nozick Parfit Frankfurt Feinberg and others are discussed A version of the method of reflective equilibrium is explained and defended The book concludes with a series of admissions concerning puzzles that remain unsolved
