Men At War Christopher Coker, 2014-01-06 Since Achilles first stormed into our imagination literature has introduced its readers to truly unforgettable martial characters In Men at War Christopher Coker discusses some of the most famous of these fictional creations and their impact on our understanding of war and masculinity Grouped into five archetypes warriors heroes villains survivors and victims these characters range across 3000 years of history through epic poems the modern novel and one of the twentieth century s most famous film scripts Great authors like Homer and Tolstoy show us aspects of reality invisible except through a literary lens while fictional characters such as Achilles and Falstaff Robert Jordan and Jack Aubrey are not just larger than life they are life s largeness and this is why we seek them out Although the Greeks knew that the lovers wives and mothers of soldiers are the chief victims of battle for the combatants war is a masculine pursuit Each of Coker s chapters explores what fiction tells us about war s appeal to young men and the way it makes and breaks them The existential appeal of war too is perhaps best conveyed in fictional accounts and these too are scrutinized by the author

The Commodore (Vol. Book 17) (Aubrey/Maturin Novels) Patrick O'Brian, 2011-12-05 The seventeenth novel in the sweeping Aubrey Maturin series of naval tales which the

New York Times Book Review has described as the best historical novels ever written Having survived a long and desperate adventure in the Great South Sea Captain Jack Aubrey and Stephen Maturin return to England to very different circumstances For Jack it is a happy homecoming at least initially but for Stephen it is disastrous his little daughter appears to be autistic incapable of speech or contact while his wife Diana unable to bear this situation has disappeared her house being looked after by the widowed Clarissa Oakes Much of The Commodore takes place on land in sitting rooms and in drafty castles but the roar of the great guns is never far from our hearing Aubrey and Maturin are sent on a bizarre decoy mission to the fever ridden lagoons of the Gulf of Guinea to suppress the slave trade But their ultimate destination is Ireland where the French are mounting an invasion that will test Aubrey s seamanship and Maturin s resourcefulness as a secret intelligence agent The subtle interweaving of these disparate themes is an achievement of pure storytelling by one of our greatest living novelists
