Stories. Jean Stafford [and Others]. Jean Stafford, 1956 The Collected Stories of Jean Stafford Jean Stafford, 2017-04-04 These Pulitzer Prize winning stories represent the major short works of fiction by one of the most distinctively American stylists of her day Jean Stafford communicates the small details of loneliness and connection the search for freedom and the desire to belong that not only illuminate whole lives but also convey with an elegant economy of words the sense of the place and time in which her protagonists find themselves The Collected Stories of Jean Stafford includes the acclaimed story An Influx of Poets which has never before appeared in book form Jean Stafford: Complete Stories & Other Writings (LOA #342) Jean Stafford, 2021-04-06 For the first time the complete stories of a Pulitzer Prize winning master of the form plus her fascinating portrait of the mother one of the world's most infamous assassins This volume collects for the first time the complete stories of a Pulitzer Prize winning master of the form a writer acclaimed for her acute psychological insight exacting eye for detail and mordant sensibility Set in New England Colorado New York and Europe Jean Stafford's stories intimately examine the lives of women and men beset by restlessness dislocation and isolation The Interior Castle takes us inside an accident victim's physical and mental pain A Country Love Story chillingly depicts marital estrangement and mental breakdown amidst the solitude of a Maine winter Bad Characters is the exuberant story of a young girl led into mischief by an incorrigible friend and An Influx of Poets is a haunting story of a marriage wrecked by literary ambition and egotism The volume also includes A Mother in History Stafford's controversial journalistic profile of Lee Harvey Oswald's mother Marguerite and three revealing literary essays Jean Stafford David Roberts, 2003-12-31 Jean Stafford burst on the literary scene in 1944 when at the age of twenty nine she published her bestselling novel Boston Adventure Three years later Life magazine hailed her as the most brilliant of the new fiction writers Bafflingly for the rest of her life Stafford would struggle and fail to capitalize on that early promise David Roberts compelling biography examines Stafford's disastrous marriages including her first marriage to the volatile poet Robert Lowell which culminated for her in a lengthy stay in a psychiatric hospital Beautiful and gifted Stafford squandered her health as well as her talent ending her life embittered and alone The Interior Castle Ann Hulbert, 2013-10-09 An important moment in American literary history takes life in this stunning biography of Jean Stafford one of the most successful admired and troubled of the brilliant and influential midcentury circle of writers and critics that included Allen Tate Caroline Gordon Peter Taylor Delmore Schwartz Randall Jarrell and Robert Lowell Stafford's first husband Ann Hulbert shows us how Stafford raised in Colorado the daughter of a failed writer of Westerns came of literary age in the East yet fiercely maintained her connection with her provincial background forging the unique style that marked her highly acclaimed first novel Boston Adventure her Masterpiece The Mountain Lion her third novel The Catherine Wheel and the stories she published in The New Yorker and elsewhere which were honored in 1970 with a Pulitzer Prize We follow Stafford through the early experiences to which she returned again and again in her fiction and which helped shape her disenchanted vision her father's sudden loss of his fortune her shame as an adolescent living in a boardinghouse in Boulder run by her mother her aesthetic experimentation as a member of the intellectually maverick Barbarians at the University of Colorado her exciting but troubling Wanderjahr in Nazi Germany where she watched civilization crumbling We see her take her place as a forceful attractive witty yet also insecure woman among a group of spirited young writers who were learning from and challenging their older mentors the increasingly powerful Southern critics and the Partisan Review circle in New York With her marriage to Lowell at twenty four she embarked on a feverishly creative but ill fated coursethat held auguries of his and his fellow poets tragic paths she struggled with Catholicism confronted domestic violence battled with alcoholism and mental instability and throughout it all wrote formally impeccable fiction And we see her as she finds some happiness with her third husband the writer A J Liebling part of the New Yorker world that had become her home in the late 1940s Throughout we are made aware of Stafford's constant search for a bastion of order a safe place an escape from the unsettling sense of vulnerability that engulfed her an interior castle from which to approach her life and her art The Collected Short Stories of Jean Stafford Jean Stafford,1969

Jean Stafford Charlotte Margolis Goodman,2013-11-04 One of America's best short story writers and author of three fine novels Boston Adventure 1944 The Mountain Lion 1947 and The Catherine Wheel 1952 Jean Stafford has been rediscovered by another generation of readers and scholars Although her novels and her Pulitzer Prize winning short stories were widely read in the 1940s and 1950s her fiction has received less critical attention than that of other distinguished contemporary American women writers such as Carson McCullers Flannery O'Connor and Eudora Welty In this literary biography Charlotte M Goodman traces the life of the brilliant yet troubled Jean Stafford and reassesses her importance Drawing on a wealth of original material Goodman describes the vital connections between Stafford's life and her fiction She discusses Stafford's difficult family relationships her tempestuous first marriage to the poet Robert Lowell her unresolved conflicts about gender roles her alcoholism and bouts with depression and her amazing ability to transform the chaotic details of her life into elegant works of fiction These wonderfully crafted works offer insightful portraits of alienated and isolated characters most of whom exemplify not only human estrangement in the modern world but also the special difficulties of girls and women who refuse to play traditional roles Goodman locates Jean Stafford within the literary world of the 1940s and 1950s In her own right and through her marriages to Robert Lowell Life magazine editor Oliver Jensen and journalist A J Liebling Stafford associated with many of the major literary figures of her day including the Southern Fugitives the New York intellectual coterie and writers for the New Yorker to which she regularly contributed short stories Goodman also describes Stafford's sustaining friendships with other women writers such as Evelyn Scott and Caroline Gordon and with her New Yorker editor Katharine S White This highly readable biography will appeal to a wide audience interested in twentieth century literature and the writing of women's lives Selected Stories of Jean Stafford Jean Stafford,1966 Jean Stafford Charlotte

#The #collected Stories of Jean Stafford Jean Stafford,1969 A Mother in History Jean Stafford,2021-05-04 Jean Stafford's unforgettable portrait of Marguerite Oswald the mother of Lee Harvey Oswald Curious about the influences and accidents and loves and antipathies and idiosyncrasies that shaped Lee Harvey Oswald the novelist and short story writer Jean Stafford spent nine hours interviewing Marguerite Oswald in May 1965 A Mother in History 1966 is the acerbic result an indelible portrait of a woman hungry for money fame and attention full of righteous self pity and relentless in professing her son's blamelessness Killing does not necessarily mean badness You find killing in some very fine homes for one reason or another Stafford's controversial profile elicited mixed reviews Newsweek praised it as a masterpiece of character study while Time called it the most abrasively unpleasant book in recent years and angry readers accused her of seeking to enthrone a wicked woman and demolish the sacred throne of motherhood It captures a moment in history when the trauma of Dallas was still raw Lee Harvey Oswald's guilt was widely accepted and Marguerite Oswald with her obsessive research into hidden truths and the machinations of an omnipresent they appeared to be a singular prisoner of maternal delusion and not a harbinger of the decades to come The Mountain Lion Jean Stafford,1962 Jean Stafford Mary Ellen Williams Walsh,1985 Jean Stafford David Roberts,1989-05-15 An account of a Pulitzer Prize winning writer whose blossoming literary career was sabotaged by her personal trauma unhappy marriages deteriorated mental health and alcoholism studies the many facets of the enigmatic Jean Stafford Jean Stafford Mary Ann Wilson,1996 During her lifetime Jean Stafford 1915 1979 produced some 50 short stories as well as novels essays and other writings Her short fiction evinces a sharp sense of place and irony her characters typically lack roots and chase after dreams and although Stafford herself conceded no allegiance to the contemporary women s movement her stories plainly centre on the female experience Whether Children Are Bored on Sunday or Bad Characters whether In the Zoo or The End of a Career a Stafford short story often surprises entertains and instructs This text presents an analysis of the themes techniques relationships and life circumstances shaping Stafford s short stories Jean Stafford: Complete Novels (LOA #324) Jean Stafford,2019-11-19 For the first time in a deluxe hardcover edition three eerily powerful novels by a midcentury master of social satire and psychological portraiture Jean Stafford 1915 1979 made a bold entrance onto the American literary scene in 1944 when her first novel Boston Adventure became a surprise best seller She followed up this initial success with two more acclaimed novels The Mountain Lion 1944 and The Catherine Wheel 1952 and became a prolific writer of short stories for The New Yorker and other prominent magazines Her Collected Stories won the Pulitzer Prize for Fiction in 1970 In later years serious health problems made it increasingly difficult for her to write and after her death she became a somewhat overlooked figure in 20th century American literature Complete Novels allows readers to rediscover a figure of genuine consequence in American literature Jonathan Yardley Washington Post at the height of her powers Boston Adventure follows Sonia Marburg the daughter of immigrant parents as she seeks to escape her impoverished childhood by becoming the secretary companion of the socially prominent Lucy Pride The novel won praise for its perceptive satire of upper class Boston society while Stafford s portrayal of the inner life of her protagonist drew comparisons to Henry James and Marcel Proust In The Mountain Lion Stafford drew on her childhood memories of southern California and Colorado to tell the story of Molly Fawcett her brother Ralph and their shared journey through the treacherous passage from childhood into adolescence Set in a country house in Maine The Catherine Wheel traces the tragic relationship between a lonely boy and his beloved aunt during a summer in which each of them secretly seeks revenge against the people who have betrayed them Children Are Bored on Sunday Jean Stafford,2017-04-04 Probably the best young prose writer in the U S as Time once called her Jean Stafford made a selection of her favorite among the stories she published in The New Yorker and elsewhere since 1944 Children Are Bored on Sunday displays at its height the mordant wit and sensibility which has distinguished Miss Stafford s work since her first successful novel Boston Adventure appeared in 1944 The stories in this book vary in mood from the title piece a satirical examination of avant garde intellectual life in New York through the eyes of a self styled rube to the quietly affecting novella The Home Front about a German doctor in an American defense plant town The backgrounds of the stories are equally varied one is set in the Virgin Islands two in Germany one in Oklahoma and one in Maine and one The Interior Castle in the featureless ether smelling world of a hospital where the heroine is recovering after a near fatal accident The central figure of one story is a fat girl who imagines herself to be twins and who cannot stop eating in another we meet Jim Littlefield an orphan Indian boy of 8 who has come on the train barefoot all the way from Missouri In The Bleeding Heart appears an invalid old lady whose speech has lost its verbs I hear she cries while her parrot aged 48 has lost all speech but the eternally reiterated Just a minute The versatile forms of these stories ranging from satire to interior monologues from pathos to grotesquerie are carried out in a style so consistently controlled so full of imaginative power and so alive to nuance both verbal and pictorial that the collection takes on a compelling unity in its very diversity and will add to the already impressive reputation Miss Stafford's three novels have won her

The Mountain Lion Jean Stafford, 1983 Miss Stafford writes with brilliance Scene after scene is told with unforgettable care and tenuous entanglements are treated with wise subtlety She creates a splendid sense of time of the unending afternoons of youth and of the actual color of noon and of night Refinement of evil denial of drama only make the underlying truth more terrible Saturday Review Hard to match for subtlety and understanding written wittily lucidly and with great respect for the resources of the language New Yorker Coming of age in pre World War II California and Colorado brings tragedy to Molly and Ralph Fawcett in Jean Stafford's classic semi autobiographical novel first published in 1947 Torn between their mother's world of genteel respectability and their grandfather's and uncle's world of cowboy masculinity neither Molly nor Ralph can find an acceptable adult role to aspire to As events move to their swift and inevitable conclusion Stafford uncovers and indicts the social forces that require boys to sacrifice the feminine in order to become men and doom intelligent girls who aren't pretty

Notable American Women Susan Ware, 2004 This latest volume brings the project up to date with entries on almost 500 women whose death dates fall between 1976 and 1999 You will find here stars of the golden ages of radio film dance and television scientists and scholars civil rights activists and religious leaders Native American craftspeople and world renowned artists For each subject the volume offers a biographical essay by a distinguished authority that integrates the woman's personal life with her professional achievements set in the context of larger historical developments

Boston Adventure Jean Stafford, 2021-06-29 A provocative story of class struggle privilege and poverty that put American author Jean Stafford on the map Growing up in a fishing village north of Boston between the wars Sonie the child of immigrants is so poor that she must sleep on a pallet made of old coats and comforters She can only dream of the feather beds and perfumed soap to be found in the great city across the bay In the summers while helping her mother clean rooms in a shoreside hotel she keeps company with the austere and fascinating Miss Pride Years pass and Sonie now the caretaker of her fragile mother receives an invitation from Miss Pride to move to Beacon Hill and be her personal secretary Salvation she thinks is at hand In Boston Sonie does come to know a new and broader world one in which she mingles with both blue bloods and louche European refugees and yet her troubles she discovers are hardly over Boston Adventure was published when Jean Stafford was twenty nine and it was an immediate best seller Combining Dickensian color and Proustian insight in its depiction of an isolated but determined young woman it looks forward to Stafford s celebrated novel The Mountain Lion as well as to the short stories for which she would be awarded a Pulitzer Prize in 1970
