Jefferson Page Smith, 2002 You know him well by reputation Every American carries our third President's bas relief profile in pocket or purse There's even a picture of his house on the reverse of that same nickel You've seen him chiseled in stone on a mountain and cast in bronze to heroic measure He is monumental semi mythical But what was Thomas Jefferson like off his pedestal alive human The man whom author Page Smith has found in this perceptive biography is someone you can envision at eye level even get to know He is real tall freckled a bit rumpled humorless sensitive Jefferson was an artist with words with architecture with ideas Jefferson was not a politician yet he became President Jefferson inherited large estates and many slaves but stayed in debt most of his life His star crossed relations with the women in his life from his mother to Dashing Sally his lovely slave and reputed mistress are often as awkward as any teenager's Once you have met Thomas Jefferson the man Thomas Jefferson the American hero and legend becomes all the more impressive The Nation, 1881

Jefferson John B. Boles, 2017-04-25 From an eminent scholar of the American South the first full scale biography of Thomas Jefferson since 1970 Not since Merrill Peterson's Thomas Jefferson and the New Nation has a scholar attempted to write a comprehensive biography of the most complex Founding Father In Jefferson John B Boles plumbs every facet of Thomas Jefferson's life all while situating him amid the sweeping upheaval of his times We meet Jefferson the politician and political thinker as well as Jefferson the architect scientist bibliophile paleontologist musician and gourmet We witness him drafting of the Declaration of Independence negotiating the Louisiana Purchase and inventing a politics that emphasized the states over the federal government a political philosophy that shapes our national life to this day Boles offers new insight into Jefferson's actions and thinking on race His Jefferson is not a hypocrite but a tragic figure a man who could not hold simultaneously to his views on abolition democracy and patriarchal responsibility Yet despite his flaws Jefferson's ideas would outlive him and make him into nothing less than the architect of American liberty Architecture INTL

architect to architect and style to style Building the Nation Americans Write About Their Architecture Their Cities and Their Landscape suggests a wholly new way of thinking about the history of America s built environment and how Americans have related to it Through an enormous range of American voices some famous and some obscure and across more than two centuries of history this anthology shows that the struggle to imagine what kinds of buildings and land use would best suit the nation pervaded all classes of Americans and was not the purview only of architects and designers Some of the nation s finest writers including Mark Twain W E B Du Bois Henry James Edith Wharton Lewis Mumford E B White and John McPhee are here contemplating the American way of building Equally important are those eloquent but little known voices found in American newspapers and magazines which insistently wondered what American architecture and environmental planning should look like Building the Nation also insists that American architecture can be understood only as both a result of and a force in shaping American social cultural and political developments In so doing this anthology demonstrates how central the built environment has been to our definition of what it is to be American and reveals seven central themes that have repeatedly animated American writers over the course of the past two centuries the relationship of American architecture to European architecture the nation s diverse regions the place and shape of nature in American life the design of cities the explosion of the suburbs the power of architecture to reform individuals and the role of tradition in a nation dedicated to being perennially young secularists are doing today is repressive to the First Amendment and offensive to Christians The secularist agenda to enact Hate Crimes laws designed contrary to biblical principles is a destructive form of government opposing the consent of the governed Ronald Reagan hero of conservatives said The frustrating thing is that those who are attacking religion claim they are doing it in the name of tolerance Question Isn't the real truth that they are intolerant of religion Reversing the current trend of secularization in American society involves making two essential changes 1 quashing the unfriendly secularist war on faith and 2 overturning activist Courts which limit Judeo Christian expression in the public arena Real Problems Real Solutions This book features a Contract with Conservatives that offers real solutions to the vital issues we the people must come to grips with Like German reformer Martin Luther in October of 1517 Pantana nails 95 theses of conservatism on the false walls erected by secularists which separate church from state History is too filled with examples of this pattern for it to be ignored The silent majority must let its voice be heard loud and clear at the ballot box in the 2008 election For more information on the 95 proposals in the Contract with Conservatives visit www.purposedrivennation.com

Remodeling the Nation Duncan Faherty, 2007 In this interdisciplinary study Faherty argues that throughout the late eighteenth and early nineteenth centuries Americans conceptualized their still unsettled political and social states through metaphors of home building During this period a pervasive concern with the design and furnishing of houses helped writers to manage previous encounters with settlements both native and European and to imagine and remodel a new national ideal By aligning the period's architectural concerns registered in both the interior and exterior of houses with concurrent debates about the need to create a national identity in the wake of the American Revolution Faherty registers how representations of the house were a crucial locus for debating broadly shared concerns about the anxieties of nation building Topics include Abraham Lincoln's use of architectural motifs in his 1858 senatorial campaign the house divided against itself speech the arguments about domestic identity embodied in the designs of Mount Vernon and Monticello the lingering import of colonial and indigenous settlements on post revolutionary culture as registered in the work of William Bartram and Lewis and Clark Charles Brockden Brown's representations of the multivalent legacies of Pennsylvania's architectural landscapes Washington Irving's attempts to preserve and remodel national architectural and literary practices by underscoring the manufactured nature of European cultural production the shifting importance of the house and American attitudes toward nature in the work of three generations of the Cooper family and the gendering of domestic space in the work of Edgar Allen Poe Nathaniel Hawthorne and Herman Melville Richly informed by contemporary work in literary studies history art history and cultural criticism Remodeling the Nation ranges incisively across the work of political theorists social critics novelists poets natural historians
