

The evolution of the 1950's

Between the years 1951 and 1953, while exhibitions were taking place in the Maillat Gallery in New York and the Maillat Gallery in Paris, Martí passed around sixty works which, although they did not introduce significant changes in their visual language, presented some new details, such as the abandonment of pure tones in favor of other less conventional colors. Most of the paintings produced in that period, among which include The Scale of the Humble Wings, certified that the painter had abandoned from the formal refinements of the Constellations to resort to very simple graphics, which amplified the impact of his compositions.

In 1956, Martí sold his apartment in Barcelona and settled on the remains of Palma de Mallorca, where he had purchased a property on which he built his permanent residence and a large workshop designed by Josep Lluís Sert who took all the conditions to work freely. Joan Miro Jacques Dupin, 1961 Joan Miró Jacques Dupin, Joan Miro Clement Greenberg, Ernest Hemingway, 2011-05-01 Historic Avant-Garde Work on Paper Sascha Bru, 2024-03-13 This book examines the many functions of paper in the fine art and aesthetics of the early twentieth century modernist or historic avant garde Expressionism Cubism Futurism Dadaism Surrealism Constructivism and many more With its many collages and photomontages the historic avant garde is generally considered to have transformed paper from a mere support into an artistic medium and to have assisted in art on paper gaining a firm autonomy Bringing together an international team of scholars this book shows that the story of paper in the avant garde has thereby hardly been told The first section looks at a selection of canonized individual avant gardists work on paper to demonstrate that the material and formal analysis of paper in the avant garde's artistic production still holds much in store In the second section chapters zoom in on forms and formats of collective artistic production that deployed paper to move around reproductions of fine art works to facilitate the dialogue between avant gardists to better promote their work among patrons and to make their work available to a wider audience Chapters in the third section lay bare how certain groups within the avant garde began to massively create monochrome works because these could be easily reproduced when transferred to or reproduced as linocuts In the last section of the book chapters explore how the avant garde's attentiveness to paper almost always also implied a critique of the ways in which paper and all that it stood for was treated and labored in European culture and society more broadly The book will be of interest to scholars working in art history modernism and design The 20th Century Go-N Frank N. Magill, 2014-03-05 Each volume of the Dictionary of World Biography contains 250 entries on the lives of the individuals who shaped their times and left their mark on world history This is not a who's who Instead each entry provides an in depth essay on the life and career of the individual concerned Essays commence with a quick reference section that provides basic facts on the individual's life and achievements The extended biography places the life and works of the individual within an historical context and the summary at the end of each essay provides a synopsis of the individual's place in history All entries conclude

New Makers of Modern Culture

Justin Wintle, 2016-04-22 New Makers of Modern Culture is the successor to the classic reference works Makers of Modern Culture and Makers of Nineteenth Century Culture published by Routledge in the early 1980s. The set was extremely successful and continues to be used to this day due to the high quality of the writing, the distinguished contributors, and the cultural sensitivity shown in the selection of those individuals included. New Makers of Modern Culture takes into full account the rise and fall of reputation and influence over the last twenty-five years and the epochal changes that have occurred: the demise of Marxism and the collapse of the Soviet Union, the rise and fall of postmodernism, the eruption of Islamic fundamentalism, the triumph of the Internet. Containing over eight hundred essay-style entries and covering the period from 1850 to the present, New Makers of Modern Culture includes artists, writers, dramatists, architects, philosophers, anthropologists, scientists, sociologists, major political figures, composers, film makers, and many other culturally significant individuals and is thoroughly international in its purview. Next to Karl Marx is Bob Marley; next to John Ruskin is Salman Rushdie; alongside Darwin is Luigi Dallapiccola; Deng Xiaoping runs shoulders with Jacques Derrida, as do Julia Kristeva and Kropotkin. Once again, Wintle has enlisted the services of many distinguished writers and leading academics such as Sam Beer, Bernard Crick, Edward Seidensticker, and Paul Preston. In a few cases, for example, Michael Holroyd and Philip Larkin, contributors are themselves the subject of entries. With its global reach, New Makers of Modern Culture provides a multi-voiced witness of the contemporary thinking world. The entries carry short bibliographies, and there is thorough cross-referencing. There is an index of names and key terms.
