Joe Valerio Valerio Dewalt Train:

Joe Valerio Joseph M. Valerio, 1999 This new monograph features thirteen projects by Joe Valerio a highly innovative Chicago based architect who has completed residential and commercial projects throughout the U S By way of explaining the processes at work in the creation of his particular brand of updated modernism Valerio cites works of various visual artists including Jasper Johns Roger Brown and Cindy Sherman who have influenced him The result is a unique collage of art and architecture that departs from the conventional monograph form to give a refreshing and multilayered discourse combining architecture painting photography and innovative graphic design Notable projects include the U S Robotics PCD headquarters and the NBC studio for the Democratic national convention both in Chicago Malcolm Holzman is a principal in Hardy Holzman Pfeiffer Associates Portico University of Michigan. College of Architecture and Urban Planning, 2003

The Ark in the Park Mark Rosenthal, Carol Tauber, Edward Uhler, 2003 The history of one of the oldest zoos in the US filled with pictures and wonderful stories about the people and animals who made Lincoln Park Zoo The evolution of zoos in America is also covered The Agile City James S. Russell, 2012-06-22 In a very short time America has realized that global warming poses real challenges to the nation's future The Agile City engages the fundamental question what to do about it Journalist and urban analyst James S Russell argues that we'll more quickly slow global warming and blunt its effects by retrofitting cities suburbs and towns The Agile City shows that change undertaken at the building and community level can reach carbon reduction goals rapidly Adapting buildings 39 percent of greenhouse gas emission and communities slashing the 33 percent of transportation related emissions offers numerous other benefits that tax gimmicks and massive alternative energy investments can't match Rapidly improving building techniques can readily cut carbon emissions by half and some can get to zero These cuts can be affordably achieved in the windshield shattering heat of the desert and the bone chilling cold of the north Intelligently designing our towns could reduce marathon commutes and child chauffeuring to a few miles or eliminate it entirely Agility Russell argues also means learning to adapt to the effects of climate change which means redesigning the obsolete ways real estate is financed housing subsidies are distributed transportation is provided and water is obtained distributed and disposed of These engines of growth have become increasingly more dysfunctional both economically and environmentally The Agile City highlights tactics that create multiplier effects which means that ecologically driven change can shore up economic opportunity can make more productive workplaces and can help revive neglected communities Being able to look at multiple effects and multiple benefits of political choices and private investments is essential to assuring wealth and well being in the future Green Russell writes grows the future
