Johann Ludwig Eberhardt and His Salem Clocks Frank P. Albright, 2017-12-15 Eberhardt 1758 1839 was master clockmaker in Salem for more than thirty eight years Albright attributes more than thirty clocks to Eberhardt building his evidence by a diligent reading of the Moravian records and by a careful cataloging of the characteristics of each clock He reconstructs Eberhardt s methods of clockmaking in precise detail from the inventories and the purchase invoices of equipment and materials and he attempts to identify the cabinetmaker in each case Originally published in 1978 A UNC Press Enduring Edition UNC Press Enduring Editions use the latest in digital technology to make available again books from our distinguished backlist that were previously out of print These editions are published unaltered from the original and are presented in affordable paperback formats bringing readers both historical and cultural value

Dictionary of North Carolina Biography William S. Powell, 2000-11-09 The most comprehensive state project of its kind the Dictionary provides information on some 4 000 notable North Carolinians whose accomplishments and occasional misdeeds span four centuries Much of the bibliographic information found in the six volumes has been compiled for the first time All of the persons included are deceased They are native North Carolinians no matter where they made the contributions for which they are noted or non natives whose contributions were made in North Carolina

Mastered by the Clock Mark M. Smith, 2000-11-09 Mastered by the Clock is the first work to explore the evolution of clock based time consciousness in the American South Challenging traditional assumptions about the plantation economy s reliance on a premodern nature based conception of time Mark M Smith shows how and why southerners particularly masters and their slaves came to view the clock as a legitimate arbiter of time Drawing on an extraordinary range of eighteenth and nineteenth century archival sources Smith demonstrates that white southern slaveholders began to incorporate this new sense of time in the 1830s Influenced by colonial merchants fascination with time thrift by a long held familiarity with urban public time by the transport and market revolution in the South and by their own qualified embrace of modernity slaveowners began to purchase timepieces in growing numbers adopting a clock based conception of time and attempting in turn to instill a similar consciousness in their slaves But forbidden to own watches themselves slaves did not internalize this idea to the same degree as their masters and slaveholders found themselves dependent as much on the whip as on the clock when enforcing slaves obedience to time Ironically Smith shows freedom largely consolidated the dependence of masters as well as freedpeople on the clock

The Colonial Towns of Piedmont North Carolina Christopher E. Hendricks, 2024-11-15 How do towns come into existence What circumstances determine whether they succeed or fail In The Colonial Towns of Piedmont North Carolina author Christopher E Hendricks looks at one region in eighteenth century America to explore answers to these questions He examines the establishment and development of eleven towns in the Piedmont classifying them into three types county towns formed by the establishment of government institutions such as a courthouse trade towns formed around commercial opportunities and religious towns such as the three towns developed in Wachovia a region where Moravians settled He uses these classifications to tell the stories of how these towns came into being and how in their development they struggled against economic cultural and political challenges Ultimately The Colonial Towns of Piedmont North Carolina deepens our understanding of the influence that American towns had on the settlement of the backcountry Hendricks tells the poignant story of the Moravians struggle to maintain their neutral stance during the Revolutionary War surviving exploitation and brutality from both the Continental Army and the British The author also integrates the history of Native Americans into this mix of competing forces and shows how they were challenged by and resisted the newcomers He emphasizes the role of individual initiative as well as the impetus of government specifically courthouses in establishing towns By utilizing a variety of rarely examined primary sources methodological approaches ranging from geographic theory to material culture studies and a deep examination of local history Hendricks provides a comprehensive analysis of the emergence of these towns on the frontier
