Potter,2018-12-21 Traditional postcolonial scholarship on art and imperialism emphasises tensions between colonising cores and subjugated peripheries The ties between London and British white settler colonies have been comparatively neglected Artworks not only reveal the controlling intentions of imperialist artists in their creation but also the uses to which they were put by others in their afterlives In many cases they were used to fuel contests over cultural identity which expose a mixture of rifts and consensuses within the British ranks which were frequently assumed to be homogeneous British Art for Australia 1860 1953 The Acquisition of Artworks from the United Kingdom by Australian National Galleries represents the first systematic and comparative study of collecting British art in Australia between 1860 and 1953 using the archives of the Australian national galleries and other key Australian and UK institutions Multiple audiences in the disciplines of art history cultural history and museology are addressed by analysing how Australians used British art to carve a distinct identity which artworks were desirable economically attainable and why and how the acquisition of British art fits into a broader cultural context of the British world It considers the often competing roles of the British Old Masters e g Romney and Constable Victorian e g Madox Brown and Millais and modern artists e g Nash and Spencer alongside political and economic factors including the developing global art market imperial commerce Australian Federation the First World War and the coming of age of the Commonwealth Norfolk Archaeology ,1921 Norfolk Archaeology, Or, Miscellaneous Tracts Relating to the Antiquities of the County of Norfolk ,1923 Encyclopedia of the Romantic Era, 1760-1850 Christopher John Murray,2013-05-13 In 850 analytical articles this two volume set explores the developments that influenced the profound changes in thought and sensibility during the second half of the eighteenth century and the first half of the nineteenth century The Encyclopedia provides readers with a clear detailed and accurate reference source on the literature thought music and art of the period demonstrating the rich interplay of international influences and cross currents at work and to explore the many issues raised by the very concepts of Romantic and Romanticism Dictionary of phrase and fable Ebenezer Cobham Brewer,1881 Art, Artisans and Apprentices James Ayres,2014-06-30 Before the foundation of academies of art in London in 1758 and Philadelphia in 1805 most individuals who were to emerge as artists trained in workshops of varying degrees of relevance Easel painters began their careers apprenticed to carriage house sign or ship painters whilst a few were placed with those who made pictures Sculptors emerged from a training as ornamental plasterers or carvers Of the many other trades in a position to offer an appropriate background were limning staining engraving surveying chasing and die sinking In addition plumbers gained the right to use oil painting and for plasterers the application of distemper was an extension of their trade Central to the theme of this book is the notion that for those who were to become either painters or sculptor a training in a trade met their practical needs This training was of an altogether different nature to an education in an art school In the past prospective artists were offered by means of apprenticeships an empirical rather than a theoretical understanding of their ultimate vocation James Ayres provides a lively account of the inter relationship between art and trade in the late seventeenth to early nineteenth centuries in both Britain and North America He demonstrates with numerous illustrated examples the many cross overs in the art and mystery of artistic training and to modern eyes the sometimes incongruous relationships between the various trades that contributed to the blossoming of many artistic careers including some of the most illustrious names of the long eighteenth century

Norfolk Annals (Vol. 1&2) Charles Mackie, 2021-10-20 Norfolk Annals is a two volume work collected from the Norfolk Chronicle by British historian Charles Mackie It presents a chronological record of the most remarkable events in the nineteenth century Split down the middle volume one covers the period from 1801 to 1850 and volume two continues from 1851 and ends with the December of 1900 recording events and happenings of Norfolk county

The World Beyond the Windshield Christof Mauch, Thomas Zeller, 2008 For better or worse the view through a car's windshield has redefined how we see the world around us In some cases such as the American parkway the view from the road was the be all and end all of the highway in others such as the Italian autostrada the view of a fast efficient transportation machine celebrating either Fascism or its absence was the goal These varied environments are neither necessary nor accidental but the outcomes of historical negotiations and whether we abhor them or take delight in them they have become part of the fabric of human existence The World beyond the Windshield Roads and Landscapes in the United States and Europe is the first systematic comparative look at these landscapes By looking at examples from the United States and Europe the chapters in this volume explore the relationship between the road and the landscape that it traverses cuts through defines despoils and enhances The authors analyze the Washington Beltway and the Blue Ridge Parkway as well as iconic roads in Italy Nazi Germany East Germany and Great Britain This is a story of the transatlantic exchange of ideas about environment and technology and of the national and nationalistic appropriations of such landscaping
