John Masters A Regimented Life:

John Masters John Clay,1992 End of empire and the English novel since 1945 Rachael Gilmour,Bill Schwarz,2015-07-01 Available in paperback for the first time this first book length study explores the history of postwar England during the end of empire through a reading of novels which appeared at the time moving from George Orwell and William Golding to Penelope Lively Alan Hollinghurst and Ian McEwan Particular genres are also discussed including the family saga travel writing detective fiction and popular romances All included reflect on the predicament of an England which no longer lies at the centre of imperial power arriving at a fascinating diversity of conclusions about the meaning and consequences of the end of empire and the privileged location of the novel for discussing what decolonization meant for the domestic English population of the metropole The book is written in an easy style unburdened by large sections of abstract reflection It endeavours to bring alive in a new way the traditions of the English novel Empire Films and the Crisis of Colonialism, 1946-1959 Jon Cowans,2015-05-15 The first transnational history of cinema s role in decolonization Using popular cinema from the United States Britain and France Empire Films and the Crisis of Colonialism 1946 1959 examines postwar Western attitudes toward colonialism and race relations Historians have written much about the high politics of decolonization but little about what ordinary citizens thought about losing their empires Popular cinema provided the main source of images of the colonies and according to Jon Cowans in this far reaching book films depicting the excesses of empire helped Westerners come to terms with decolonization and even promoted the dismantling of colonialism around the globe Examining more than one hundred British French and American films from the post World War II era Cowans concentrates on movies that depict interactions between white colonizers and nonwhite colonial subjects including sexual and romantic relations Although certain conservative films eagerly supported colonialism Cowans argues that the more numerous liberal colonialist productions undermined support for key aspects of colonial rule while a few more provocative films openly favored anticolonial movements and urged internal decolonization for people of color in Britain France and the United States Combining new archival research on the films production with sharp analysis of their imagery and political messages the book also assesses their reception through box office figures and newspaper reviews It examines both high profile and lesser known films on overseas colonialism including The King and I Bhowani Junction and Island in the Sun and tackles treatments of miscegenation and internal colonialism that appeared in Westerns and American films like Pinky and Giant The first truly transnational history of cinema s role in decolonization this powerful book weaves a unified historical narrative out of the experiences of three colonial powers in diverse geographic settings Domicile and Diaspora Alison Blunt,2011-07-22 Domicile and Diaspora investigates geographies of home and identity for Anglo Indian women in the 50 years before and after Indian independence in 1947 The first book to study the Anglo Indian community past and present in India Britain and Australia The first book by a geographer to focus on a community of mixed descent Investigates geographies of home and identity for Anglo Indian women in the 50 years before and after Indian independence in 1947 Draws on interviews and focus groups with over 150 Anglo Indians as well as archival research Makes a distinctive contribution to debates about home identity hybridity migration and diaspora The Uncrowned King of Cambodia David Chandler,Anthony Barnett,2023-10-01

Lt Col Edward D Moke Murray an outstanding officer in the Indian Army and became a Gurkha commander in Malaya In 1939 he fired the crucial shot that dispersed a strike that threatened the Raj He became an outstanding leader in the fight against the Japanese in Assam and Burma He suppressed the Viet Minh in Saigon in 1945 in what can be seen as the start of the Vietnam War He was Allied Land Commander in Cambodia and supervised the surrender of the Japanese there In 1953 he was cheered by millions along the eight kilometre route of Elizabeth II s coronation parade as he marched at the head of the hugely popular Gurkha contingent But when he died not a single obituary of him appeared apart from a short notice in the Gurkha gazette From Anthony Barnett s Introduction What sort of man was Moke Murray this forgotten Achilles of the dying British Empire He served his King in wars from Waziristan to Burma and helped to shape the future of Indochina But as this touching and fascinating biography recounts he ended his life in lonely poverty as the Empire itself dissolved and fell out of memory Neal Ascherson novelist reporter and historian Warriors Max Hastings,2006-01-03 Heroism in battle has been celebrated throughout history yet it is one of the least understood virtues What makes some men and women perform extraordinary deeds on the battlefield What makes them risk their lives in the pursuit of victory Max Hastings one of our foremost military historians has seen combat up close and written about it for decades In Warriors he brings us the experiences of fourteen soldiers who fought in the wars of the nineteenth and twentieth centuries From an exuberant cavalry officer in Napoleon s army to an abused orphan who in World War II became America s youngest general since Custer to an Israeli officer who recovered from a devastating injury to save his country each portrait depicts a unique and remarkable story A tribute to soldierly valor and a deeply insightful study of combat this is an essential book for anyone who wishes to understand what it means to be at war Eastern Figures Douglas Kerr,2008-06-01 Eastern Figures is a literary history with a difference It examines British writing about the East centred on India but radiating as far as Egypt and the Pacific in the colonial and postcolonial period It takes as its subject the East that was real to the British imagination largely the creation of writers who described and told stories about it descriptions and stories coloured by the experience of empire and its aftermath It is bold in its scope with a centre of gravity in the work of writers like Stevenson Kipling Conrad and Orwell but also covering less well known literary authors and including Anglo Indian romance writing the reports and memoirs of administrators and travel writing from Auden and Isherwood in China to Redmond O Hanlon in Borneo Eastern Figures produces a history of this writing by looking at a series of figures or tropes of representation through which successive writers sought to represent the East and the British experience of it tropes such as exploring the hinterland going native and the figure of rule itself Eastern Figures is accessible to anyone interested in the literary and cultural history of empire and its aftermath It will be of especial interest to students and scholars of colonial and postcolonial writing as it raises issues of identity and representation power and knowledge and centrally the question of how to represent other people It has original ideas and approaches to offer specialists in literary history of the nineteenth and twentieth centuries cultural historians and researchers in colonial discourse analysis postcolonial studies and Asian area studies and history It is also aimed at students in courses in literature and empire culture and imperialism and cross cultural studies Empire Niall Ferguson,2008-03-17 A bestselling historian shows how the British Empire created the modern world in a book lauded as a rattling good tale Wall Street Journal and popular history at its best Washington Post The British Empire was the largest in all history the nearest thing to global domination ever achieved The world we know today is in large measure the product of Britain's Age of Empire The global spread of capitalism telecommunications the English language and institutions of representative government all these can be traced back to the extraordinary expansion of Britain's economy population and culture from the seventeenth century until the mid twentieth On a vast and vividly colored canvas Empire shows how the British Empire acted as midwife to modernity Displaying the originality and rigor that have made Niall Ferguson one of the world's foremost historians Empire is a dazzling tour de force a remarkable reappraisal of the prizes and pitfalls of global empire Encyclopedia of British Writers Christine L. Krueger,2014-07 This concise encyclopedic reference profiles more than 800 British poets The Bulletin ,1992-07 Journal of the United Service Institution of India United Service Institution of India,1993 Lived Between Lines Daniel Jewesbury,2001 Daniel Jewesbury uses the fictional account of an Anglo Indian woman in John Masters 1954 novel Bhowani Junction as a template to construct his own hybrid autobiography Jewesbury constructs a comparative mapping between the original text and the screenplay from the 1956 George Cukor Hollywood adaptation tracing his own Anglo Indian background by photographing certain locations from his past that denote potential sites for events in the novel A text by Kathleen J Cassity 1Identity in Motion further questions the nature of the fluid subject The Literary Review ,1997 Oxford Dictionary of National Biography: Martindale-Meynell Henry Colin Gray Matthew,Brian Harrison,Brian Howard Harrison,2004 55 000 biographies of people who shaped the history of the British Isles and beyond from the earliest times to the year 2002 London Magazine ,1992 Fictions of India Peter Morey,2000 Fictions of India explores the relation of narrative technique to issues of power in the work of selected writers dealing with India It examines the imperial context in which the writers operate and suggests how historical and ideological assumptions and anxieties may be read into the texts they produce The study combines aspects of colonial and post colonial debate with narrative theories to illuminate the work of these writers operating on either side of an epistemological divide formed by Indian independence in 1947 The book focuses largely on British writers on India with chapters on Kipling E M Forster John Masters J G Farrell and Paul Scott A final comparative chapter traces the issues of narrative and power in the work of two post independence Indian writers Khushwant Singh and Rohinton Mistry and deals with the burden of storytelling in a post colonial situation still fraught with communal and neo colonial abuses This book is an important contribution to our understanding of how narrative fiction can reflect and confirm but also contest and dismantle discourses of power Features Offers new interpretations of well known texts and writers Suggests an agenda for studying new and less well known texts to examine the play of narrative and power more generally Demonstrates possible relations between narrative technique and those larger narratives which feed into the operation of political power Challenges exclusivist readings which have often asserted the colonial and the post colonial to be antithetical and mutually exclusive discursive entities People of Today,2006 New Statesman Society ,1992-05 Sanitary Duties, Registered Women Alan G. Johnson,1998 Dictionary of Literary Biography Yearbook ,1992
