ADVANCING INCLUSIVE GOVERNANCE IN ASIA AND THE PACIFIC REGION (2022-2027)

I. Background

Gender equality and women's full, equal and meaningful participation and leadership form the foundation for peaceful and resilient societies. Gender equality is a precondition for achieving the Sustainable Development Goals and any kind of meaningful and sustained progress.<sup>1</sup>

For decades, women have struggled to participate and lead in governance and all levels of decision-making processes. Globally, women take up around 26.5 per cent of seats in parliaments. The Asia Pacific region has some of the lowest rates of women's representation in parliaments in the world, with 21.2 per cent in Asia and as low as 6.0 per cent in the Pacific Islands.<sup>2</sup> Women's representation remains similarly low in ministerial positions and chairs of permanent committees—particularly in areas such as finance and defence.<sup>3</sup> In other branches of government, this bleak picture remains unchanged. While women human rights defenders and civil society are on the frontlines, advocating for social justice, women remain underrepresented in the justice sector, including in law enforcement, the legal profession and the judiciary.

Gender inequality in the region translates into weaknesses in existing governance systems, and may also contribute to a deepening trust crisis between people and the institutions that serve them, with many feeling left behind and no longer confident that the system is working for them. Women's rights are further impacted by rising authoritarianism and conservatism in all regions of the world. A significant rethinking of women's leadership across all aspects of governance is key to advancing both gender equality and building more just, peaceful and resilient societies.

Governance In The Asia Pacific:

Governance in the Asia-Pacific Richard A. Maidment, David S. Goldblatt, Jeremy Mitchell, 1998 A student friendly textbook which examines the governance of nation states in this region exploring the huge diversity and range of political values beliefs and governing styles in the Asia Pacific

Corporate Governance, 2002 Critically addresses the issues and controversies surrounding the practice of corporate governance in the Asia Pacific region Includes country specific studies from Australia China Hong Kong Malaysia New Zealand Singapore the UK and the USA

Governance and Democracy in the Asia-Pacific Stephen McCarthy, Mark R. Thompson, 2020-03-17 This book explores the theoretical and empirical relationship between democracy and governance in the Asia Pacific region Examining a variety of country cases and themes addressing the theoretical tension between governance and democracy it illuminates how this impacts political and civil societies across the region Analysing the character structure and current trajectories of polities in the Asia Pacific democratic or otherwise this book demonstrates that the role of civil society political society and governance has significantly differed in practice from what has been commonly assumed within the international community The book includes both theoretical investigations tracing the modern development of the concepts of governance development and democratization as well as regional and country specific observations of major issues presenting comprehensive country level studies of China Singapore Thailand Cambodia the Philippines Myanmar Fiji and the Solomon Islands Presenting fascinating insight into non democratic governance civil society and the rule of law in illiberal contexts Governance and Democracy in the Asia Pacific will prove to be of great use to students and scholars of Asian politics and society as well as international and comparative politics

Nuclear Governance in the Asia-Pacific Mely Caballero-Anthony, Julius Cesar I. Trajano, 2022-07-08 The contributors to this book explore approaches to building a framework for nuclear governance in the Asia Pacific encompassing nuclear safety security and safeguards non proliferation Nuclear governance collaboration offers an avenue for states in the Asia Pacific to tackle the emerging opportunities for and challenges to the peaceful uses of nuclear energy and the civilian applications of nuclear and radioactive materials The nature of national actions bilateral initiatives and regional cooperation in capacity building taking place in East Asia provides a good foundation to pursue a more robust collaborative framework for nuclear governance in the wider Asia Pacific region The contributors to this book explore the most critical nuclear safety security and non proliferation issues faced by states in the Asia Pacific and the growing cooperation spearheaded by Southeast Asian countries China Japan South Korea and the United States This book is a valuable read for academics working on security and strategic studies international relations non traditional security issues as well as nuclear related issues

Governance, Regulation, and Privatization in the Asia-Pacific Region Takatoshi Ito, Anne O. Krueger, 2007-11-01 Over the last twenty five years there has been an acceleration in the move from government regulation towards privatization Governance Regulation and Privatization in the Asia Pacific Region is the first thoroughgoing account of the relative success of the different approaches to privatization as undertaken in Korea China Australia and Japan In most contexts privatization is expected to yield greater efficiency and cost effectiveness while avoiding the corruption and bloated budgets of government regulation or monopoly control But broad scale privatization if ill designed has also yielded its share of difficulties in East Asia Privatization sometimes has created a vacuum in corporate governance for some of the region s most important industries and in some cases merely reinstated the monopoly like configurations The papers presented in this book discuss the experiences of privatization in several industries including railroad and telecom corporate governance problems accounting issues and challenges for the future in East Asian countries The first section is theoretical in nature and proposes boundaries among government protection market freedom and shareholder expectations The second part is constituted by country case studies beginning with an analysis of both the Korean financial crisis that followed its 1997 law to privatize large public sector corporations and the new ways Korean corporations finance themselves Following is an evaluation of China s approach to privatization with an in depth look at the financial transitions of companies slated for initial public offering Providing provocative examples of the methods of privatization in the Asia Pacific region specifically these papers will be of huge import to any economist or policymaker interested in transposing those successes for their own region

The Changing Shape of Government in the Asia-Pacific Region John W. Langford,K. Lorne Brownsey,1988 The seminar for which the papers in this publication were prepared was the first in a series of workshops intended to link senior public policy researchers from around the Pacific Rim in order to open up channels of communication through which researchers from Asia Pacific nations can exchange views on problems and reforms in the area of governance and public sector management Paper titles include The Changing Shape of Government in the Asia Pacific Region Korean Politics in a Period of Transition The Unfinished Political Reforms of the Hong Kong Government Demi democracy Thai Politics and Government in Transition Government and Governance in Multi Racial Malaysia Controlled Democracy Political Stability and PAP Predominance Government in Singapore Entrenched Strong Man Rule The Governmental System in Bangladesh Australian National Government 1987 Toward More Effective Government in the US and Some Issues of Governance in Canada

Asian Peace Majid Tehranian,1999 The potential dichotomy between individual security and governance on a wider scale is nowhere more sharply in evidence than in the diverse political countries of the Asia Pacific region This timely volume examines the economic divergences within the region the old style communist dictatorships and new style market communism democratic capitalism authoritarian capitalism and cultural diversity Based on groundbreaking research by internationally renowned specialists the book is essential reading

Asia Pacific Governance Charles Samford,2017 This title was first published in 2002 With half of the world s population now living in Asia governments have had to balance the drive for economic success with the rapidly increasing demands on resources and services Important questions are being asked about how governments can best legislate to account for the rapid demographic and technological changes in the region Uniting esteemed academics and practitioners from the region Asia Pacific Governance addresses many of these vital and critical questions Provided by publisher

A Critical Impulse to e-Governance in the Asia Pacific AMITA SINGH,2013-11-26 This book presents a comparative study of the vision ability and dynamism on the part of governments in selected Asian Pacific countries as they engage in the distribution of e governance Consequently it creates a platform for mutual learning and offers a dispassionate evaluation of mega e projects It is an interdisciplinary study of information and communication technology within mainstream social science research and attempts to bridge the gap in empirical research between the nature of technology and the manner in which it is governed The analysis shows that hegemonic and panoptic structures of surveillance and control may derail efforts to establish sustainable e governance while a liberal futuristic framework with open socio technology networks on Big Data analytics IPv6 and Cloud Computing may strengthen the trend towards democratizing institutions Further the book highlights the extraordinary energy being generated in the emerging new world through their use of the internet and suggests how governments could translate this into a new wealth of economic opportunities social inclusion and equitable development in addition to achieving the MDGs Millenium Development Goals Lastly it emphasizes the importance of a visionary approach which wherever present has been able to sustain e governance by meaningfully linking the micro to the macro and heritage to the horizon

Cross-border Governance in Asia G. Shabbir Cheema,Christopher A. McNally,Vesselin Popovski,2011 Rapid globalization has led to increased flows of capital services ideas information and people between countries As such problems and challenges that face one nation often have a rippling impact throughout the region and globally The growing list of cross border issues cannot be resolved by isolated policy action at the national or subnational levels It is essential to forge strategic alliances at the regional level that support the development of consolidated approaches for dialogue and action This book discusses regional governance mechanisms and institutional arrangements to respond to emerging cross border issues and trends in Asia and the Pacific such as the movement of people including refugees and illegal migrants regional trade integration for human development effective and efficient water management human trafficking and health issues focusing on infectious disease surveillance and response While examining the impact of governance on these issues the book considers these questions What are the key cross border governance issues in Asia What are the regional governance mechanisms to cope with these issues How effective are the regional mechanisms and national institutional capacities in responding to these issues What factors contribute to the success or failure of the mechanisms for regional cooperation Contributors include Graeme Hugo University of Adelaide William J Long Sam Nunn School of International Affairs Mike Douglass University of Hawaii Manoa Taeho Bark Seoul National University and Mely Caballero Anthony S Rajaratnam School of International Studies
