Resources in Education, 2000      Instructor, 1973-08      Integrating Transparency in Learning and Teaching (TILT): An Effective Tool for Providing Equitable Opportunity in Higher Education Akella, Devi, Paudel, Laxmi, Wickramage, Nadeepa, Rogers, Michael, Gibson, Annalease, 2022-04-15 Students of color and those of lower economic backgrounds and of underrepresented groups appear to face a disadvantage when they transition from high schools into colleges These students tend to have lower academic preparation than white students which leads to higher levels of stress and anxiety as well as an increased placement in remedial courses which negatively impacts their graduation rates As institutions become aware of these facts and take appropriate measures to improve educational experiences they must implement Transparency in Learning and Teaching TILT initiatives in order to provide equal access to education Integrating Transparency in Learning and Teaching TILT An Effective Tool for Providing Equitable Opportunity in Higher Education provides information on Transparency in Learning and Teaching TILT concepts and how they can be used in course development to improve student learning and performance It focuses on bringing positive learning experiences to college students especially first generation students which can lead to higher levels of academic success It strongly advocates for transparent education and provides guidance for overcoming the existing accessibility gap in higher education Covering topics such as business education online learning platforms and teaching modalities this book is an indispensable resource for academicians faculty developers administrators instructional designers professors and researchers      Spelling Across Orthographies Teresa Limpo, Naymé Salas, Marie Van Reybroeck, Sao Luis Castro, 2021-07-29      Library of Congress Catalog: Motion Pictures and Filmstrips Library of Congress, 1968      Transparency to the People Asian Development Bank, 2010-01-01 The publication tells the story of the use of stakeholder participation to support public sector reform in Nauru and the Republic of the Marshall Islands RMI The report provides important lessons for donor agencies for Nauru and the RMI and for other Pacific island nations that mainly live off aid and other rents The lessons concern what has gone wrong with governance and why and what can be done to improve governance under existing conditions The three pilot projects described show that by taking transparency directly to the people donors can help create more favorable conditions under which local citizens themselves can more readily press for reform Whether the modest gains achieved in the pilot projects will prevail remains to be seen but in all three cases the future looks more promising than the past      Transparency in Assessment - Exploring the Influence of Explicit Assessment Criteria Anders Jönsson, Frans Prins, 2019-04-03 In many schools and higher education institutions it has become common practice to share assessment criteria with students Sometimes it is required for accountability purposes at other times criteria are used as a means to communicate expectations to students. However, the idea that explicit assessment criteria should be shared with students has been contested. On the one hand, research has shown that explicit criteria may positively affect student performance, reduce their anxiety as well as support students' use of self-regulated learning strategies. On the other hand, there are fears that explicit criteria may have a restraining influence on students' learning as well as limiting their autonomy and creativity. There are also indications of students becoming more performance oriented as opposed to learning oriented when being provided with explicit assessment criteria. Taken together, it is not fully understood under which circumstances it is productive for student learning to share explicit assessment criteria and under which circumstances it is not. In particular, empirical research on the proposed negative effects of sharing criteria with learners is limited, and most fears voiced in the literature are based on individual experiences and anecdotal evidence. In this book, we therefore bring different perspectives on transparency in assessment together in order to further our understanding of how students are influenced by the use of explicit assessment criteria. A deeper understanding of the influence of explicit assessment criteria on students' understanding of criteria, motivation, and learning is equally imperative for future research and educational practice, both of which need to go beyond individual opinions and convictions.
