Haka The Dance Of A Noble People:

Handbook of Polynesian Mythology Robert D. Craig, 2004-10-25 An accessible concise reference source on Polynesia's complex mythology product of a culture little known outside its home Encounters with the West introduced Polynesian mythology to the world and sealed its fate as a casualty of colonialism But for centuries before the Europeans came that mythology was as vast as the triangle of ocean in which it flourished as diverse as the people it served and as complex as the mythologies of Greece and Rome Students researchers and enthusiasts can follow vivid retellings of stories of creation death and great voyages tracking variations from island to island They can use the book's reference section for information on major deities heroes elves fairies and recurring themes as well as the mythic implications of everything from dogs and volcanoes to the hula Easter Island and tattooing invented in the South Pacific and popularized by returning sailors "Art, Sex and Eugenics" Anthea Callen, 2017-07-05 This book reveals how art and sex promoted the desire for the genetically perfect body Its eight chapters demonstrate that before eugenics was stigmatized by the Holocaust and Western histories were sanitized of its prevalence a vast array of Western politicians physicians eugenic societies family leagues health associations laboratories and museums advocated through verbal and visual cultures the breeding of the master race Each chapter illustrates the uncanny resemblances between models of sexual management and the perfect eugenic body in America Britain France Communist Russia and Nazi Germany both before and after the Second World War Traced back to the eighteenth century anatomy lesson the perfect eugenic body is revealed as athletic hygienic pure blooded and sexually potent This paradigm is shown to have persisted as much during the Bolshevik sexual revolution as in democratic nations and fascist regimes Consistently posed naked these images were unashamedly exhibitionist and voyeuristic Despite stringent legislation against obscenity not only were these images commended for soliciting the spectator's gaze but also for motivating the spectator to act out their desire An examination of the counter archives of Maori and African Americans also exposes how biologically racist eugenics could be equally challenged by art Ultimately this book establishes that art inculcated procreative sex with the Corpus Delecti the delectable body healthy wholesome and sanctioned by eugenicists for improving the Western race Indigenous Intellectual Property Matthew Rimmer, 2015-12-18 Taking an interdisciplinary approach unmatched by any other book on this topic this thoughtful Handbook considers the international struggle to provide for proper and just protection of Indigenous intellectual property IP In light of the United Nations Declaration on the Rights of Indigenous Peoples 2007 expert contributors assess the legal and policy controversies over Indigenous knowledge in the fields of international law copyright law trademark law patent law trade secrets law and cultural heritage The overarching discussion examines national developments in Indigenous IP in the United States Canada South Africa the European Union Australia New Zealand and Indonesia The Handbook provides a comprehensive overview of the historical origins of conflict over Indigenous knowledge and examines new challenges to Indigenous IP from emerging developments in information technology biotechnology and climate change Practitioners and scholars in the field of IP will learn a great deal from this Handbook about the issues and challenges that surround just protection of a variety of forms of IP for Indigenous communities

The Fourth Eye Brendan Hokowhitu, Vijay Devadas, 2013-10-01 From the signing of the Treaty of Waitangi between Indigenous and settler cultures to the emergence of the first ever state funded M ori television network New Zealand has been a hotbed of Indigenous concerns Given its history of colonization coping with biculturalism is central to New Zealand life Much of this bicultural drama plays out in the media and is molded by an anxiety surrounding the ongoing struggle over citizenship rights that is seated within the politics of recognition The Fourth Eye brings together Indigenous and non Indigenous scholars to provide a critical and comprehensive account of the intricate and complex relationship between the media and M ori culture Examining the Indigenous mediascape The Fourth Eye shows how M ori filmmakers actors and media producers have depicted conflicts over citizenship rights and negotiated the representation of Indigenous people From nineteenth century M ori language newspapers to contemporary M ori film and television the contributors explore a variety of media forms including magazine cover stories print advertisements commercial images and current M ori language newspapers to illustrate the construction expression and production of indigeneity through media Focusing on New Zealand as a case study the authors address the broader question what is Indigenous media While engaging with distinct themes such as the misrepresentation of M ori people in the media access of Indigenous communities to media technologies and the use of media for activism the essays in this much needed new collection articulate an Indigenous media landscape that converses with issues that reach far beyond New Zealand Contributors Sue Abel U of Auckland Joost de Bruin Victoria U of Wellington Suzanne Duncan U of Otago Kevin Fisher U of Otago Allen Meek Massey U Lachy Paterson U of Otago Chris Prentice U of Otago Jay Scherer U of Alberta Jo Smith Victoria U of Wellington April Strickland Stephen Turner U of Auckland

The Routledge Companion to Theatre and Performance Paul Allain, Jen Harvie, 2013-05-13 Discussing some of the pivotal questions relating to the complementary fields of theatre and performance studies this engaging easy to use text is undoubtedly a perfect reference guide for the keen student and passionate theatre goer alike

Traditional Knowledge, Traditional Cultural Expressions, and Intellectual Property Law in the Asia-Pacific Region Christoph Antons, 2009-01-01 Among the many contentious matters thrown up by the relentless march of economic globalization those forms of knowledge variously known as indigenous or traditional remain seriously threatened despite numerous transnational initiatives and highly publicized debate It is not proving easy to bring these holistic worldviews into accordance with the technical terms and classifications of intellectual property law The contributions in this volume contrast efforts to find solutions and workable models at the international and regional level with experiences on the ground Legal policies related to indigenous knowledge in settler societies such as Australia and New Zealand are compared with those in densely populated neighbouring countries in Asia where traditional knowledge is often regarded as national heritage While many of the chapters are written by lawyers using an interdisciplinary approach other chapters introduce the reader to perspectives from disciplines such as legal sociology and anthropology on controversial issues such as the understandings of art culture tradition customary law and the opportunities for traditional cultural knowledge and traditional cultural expressions in an Internet environment Experienced observers of the international debate and regional experts discuss international model laws as well as legislation at regional and national level and the role of customary law Topics covered include the following and much more the concept of farmers rights biodiscovery and bioprospecting traditional knowledge as a commodity encounters between different legalities geographical indications registration requirements sanctions remedies and dispute resolution mechanisms the ongoing fragmentation and loss of traditional knowledge and systems of data collection

Wawata - Moon Dreaming Dr Hinemoa Elder, 2022-10-05 Hina the Maori moon goddess has 30 different faces to help illuminate life's lessons a different face and a different energy for each day of the month And with her changing light new insights are revealed This book gives us the chance to connect to the ancient wisdom of the old people who reach forward into our lives with each of the moon's names as their offerings Their reminders are a source of strength in our strange modern world where we have been stripped of much of the connection and relationships we need for our wellbeing through successive lockdowns We now see just how important these things are This book leads you through a full cycle of the moon to consider 30 aspects of life And lessons we thought we had learned come back around with each month's cycle and remind us of deeper layers and blind spots And when we do find a growing awareness of place and harmony there is a sense of release A new kind of freedom starts to emerge soothing our modern day pain and suffering This book is designed to open up our moon dreams for a deeper affectionate connection with ourselves and others

Meaningful Inconsistencies Neriko Musha Doerr, 2009 In the late twentieth century the categorization of individuals in ethnic terms affected by neoliberal reforms and the prioritization of market forces has transformed our institutions and wreaked havoc around the world Especially stark in societies that recognize their bi or multicultural make up such categorization influences how individuals view themselves and are viewed by others in the educational arena A small town in Aotearoa New Zealand with its contemporary shift toward official biculturalism and extensive free marketization of schooling is a prime example This important volume

Reframing Indigenous Biography Shino Konishi, Malcolm Allbrook, Tom Griffiths, 2024-11-11 This book explores the history practice and possibilities of writing about the lives of First Nations peoples in Australia as well as Aotearoa New Zealand North America and the Pacific This interdisciplinary collection recognises the limitations of Western biographical conventions for writing Indigenous long and short form biographies Through a series of diverse life stories of both historical and contemporary First Nations figures this book investigates innovative ways to ameliorate the challenges we face in recovering the stories of Indigenous people and reimagining their lives in productive new ways Many of the chapters in this collection are deeply reflective aiming not just to relate the life story of an individual but also to reflect on the archival intellectual and emotional journeys that biographers undertake in researching Indigenous biography This volume will be of value to scholars and students interested in Indigenous Studies biography history literature creative writing archaeology and colonial and postcolonial studies

Encircled Lands Judith Binney, 2021-05-07 For Europeans during the nineteenth century the Urewera was a remote wilderness for those who lived there it was a sheltering heartland This history documents the first hundred years of the Rohe P tae the encircled lands of the Urewera following European contact After large areas of land were lost the Urewera became for a brief period an autonomous district governed by its own leaders But in 1921-22 the Urewera District Native Reserve was abolished in law Its very existence became largely forgotten except in local memory Recovering this history from a wealth of contemporary documents many written by Urewera leaders Encircled Lands contextualises T h o e s quest for a constitutional agreement that restores their authority in their lands

Playing on the Periphery Tara Brabazon, 2006-04-18 This is a very distinctive text that will stand out from the standard more staid works in sport studies This is a sophisticated text that will appeal to the maturing readership in the area looking for new perspectives on sport Tara Brabazon is very well known in Australia both in academia and as a journalist Other texts in this area are all edited collections

Rethinking Oral History and Tradition Nepia Mahuika, 2019-10-09 Indigenous peoples have our own ways of defining oral history For many oral sources are shaped and disseminated in multiple forms that are more culturally textured than just standard interview recordings For others indigenous oral histories are not merely fanciful or puerile myths or traditions but are viable and valid historical accounts that are crucial to native identities and the relationships between individual and collective narratives This book challenges popular definitions of oral history that have displaced and confined indigenous oral accounts as merely oral tradition It stands alongside other marginalized community voices that highlight the importance of feminist Black and gay oral history perspectives and is the first text dedicated to a specific indigenous articulation of the field Drawing on a Maori indigenous case study set in Aotearoa New Zealand this book advocates a rethinking of the discipline encouraging a broader conception of the way we do oral history how we might define its form and how its politics might move beyond a subsuming democratization to include nuanced decolonial possibilities

Tauira Joan Metge, 2015-06-22 In te reo Maori tauira means both student and teacher and this book by acclaimed educator and anthropologist Joan Metge shows that Maori educational practices had a particular form and philosophy Maori focused on learning by doing teaching in context learning in a group memorizing and advancement when ready Parents grandparents and community leaders imparted cultural knowledge as well as practical skills to the younger generation through daily life and storytelling in whanau and community activities In preserving this evidence and these voices from the past this important book also offers much inspiration for the future
