Building Blocks Sharon Snow, 2007-06-30 Librarians can stay relevant in the twenty first century when they build on those areas where they have excelled. Service to children is one of those and a hot topic is emergent literacy the earliest phases of literacy development. Because parents are a child's first teacher they need to understand that children who enter school with a larger vocabulary are more likely to succeed in school and that they can offer experiences for their pre school children to prepare them for school. This book provides six sessions for a children's librarian to use to introduce literacy skills to parents of preschool children. These sessions teach parents how to give their child an opportunity to explore and experience new things. Designed to be conducted in two simultaneous units one for parents and one for children handouts and activities are included. These are especially helpful for helping parents who will be able to make most of the teaching devices rather than purchasing expensive commercial items.
