Jeff Wall Landscapes And Other Pictures:

Jeff Wall: landscapes and other pictures Annelie Lütgens, 1996 Jeff Wall Jeff Wall, Gijs van Tuyl, Annelie Lütgens, Kunstmuseum Wolfsburg, 1996 Jeff Wall David Company, 2011-05-27 Examining a work that marked the emergence of photography as an art made for the gallery wall instead of the printed page Jeff Wall's Picture for Women 1979 marks the transition of photography as an art form from the printed page to the gallery wall Before this photographs from the orthodox photographic work of Walker Evans to the Conceptual photography of Dan Graham seemed intended for the page even when hung in a gallery In Picture for Women a woman looks outward as if at the viewer a camera occupies the center of the photograph the photographer stands on the right Modeled on Manet's famous painting Un bar aux Folies Bergère in which a barmaid seems to look directly out of the painting observed by a man on the right Picture for Women establishes its own art historical genealogy claiming its rightful position within the canon Wall's photograph is an ambitious attempt to relate the artistic and spectatorial demands of the late 1970s to a modernist pictorial art that had been too hastily rejected by Conceptualism In this illustrated study David Company offers an account of Wall's move from a Conceptual approach to a reengagement with the idea of a singular as opposed to serial picture He shows that Wall's decision to present his work as a large scale back lit transparency together with his commitment to a singular image amounted to a radical departure He contrasts Wall's idea of the photograph as a tableau or picture inherited from the history of painting with the works of the Pictures Generation including Richard Prince Cindy Sherman and Jack Goldstein and argues that Picture for Women is inseparable from the modern fate of the picture in general Jeff Wall Vancouver Art Gallery, Grant Arnold, Jeff Wall, 2008 Jeff Wall Jeff Wall, Museum Moderner Kunst (Austria), 2003 Essays by Peter Brger Homay King Tom Holert Achim Hochdorfer Fred Orton Kaja Silverman Gregor Stemmrich and Friedrich Tietjen Jeff Wall and the Concept of the Picture Naomi Merritt, 2020-12-30 This book grapples with fundamental questions about the evolving nature of pictorial representation and the role photography has played in this ongoing process These issues are explored through a close analysis of key themes that underpin the photography practice of Canadian artist Jeff Wall and through examining important works that have defined his oeuvre Wall's strategic revival of the picture has had a resounding influence on the development of contemporary art photography by expanding the conceptual and technical frameworks of the medium and introducing a self reflexive criticality Naomi Merritt brings a new and original contribution to the scholarship on one of the most significant figures to have shaped the course of contemporary art photography since the 1970s and shines a light on the multilayered connections between photography and art This book will be of interest to scholars in the history of photography art and visual culture and contemporary art history An Anthropology of Images Hans Belting, 2022-07-12 A compelling theory that places the origin of human picture making in the body In this groundbreaking book renowned art historian Hans Belting proposes a new anthropological theory for interpreting human picture making Rather than focus exclusively on pictures as they are embodied in various media such as painting sculpture or photography he links pictures to our mental images and therefore our bodies The body is understood as a living medium that produces perceives or remembers images that are different from the images we encounter through handmade or technical pictures Refusing to reduce images to their material embodiment yet acknowledging the importance of the historical media in which images are manifested An Anthropology of Images presents a challenging and provocative new account of what pictures are and how they function The book demonstrates these ideas with a series of compelling case studies ranging from Dante's picture theory to post photography One chapter explores the tension between image and medium in two media of the body the coat of arms and the portrait painting Another central chapter looks at the relationship between image and death tracing picture production including the first use of the mask to early funerary rituals in which pictures served to represent the missing bodies of the dead Pictures were tools to re embody the deceased to make them present again a fact that offers a surprising clue to the riddle of presence and absence in most pictures and that reveals a genealogy of pictures obscured by Platonic picture theory

Crime Scenery in Postwar Film and Photography Henrik Gustafsson, 2019-05-24 This book offers a rare and innovative consideration of an enduring tendency in postwar art to explore places devoid of human agents in the wake of violent encounters To see the scenery together with the crime elicits a double interrogation not merely of a physical site but also of its formation as an aesthetic artefact and ultimately of our own acts of looking and imagining Closely engaging with a vast array of works made by artists filmmakers and photographers each who has forged a distinct vantage point on the aftermath of crime and conflict the study selectively maps the afterlife of landscape in search of the political and ethical agency of the image By way of a thoroughly interdisciplinary approach Crime Scenery in Postwar Film and Photography brings landscape studies into close dialogue with contemporary theory by paying sustained attention to how the gesture of retracing past events facilitates new configurations of the present and future

Geographical Aesthetics Elizabeth Straughan, 2016-03-03 Geographical Aesthetics places the terms aesthetics and geography under critical question together responding both to the increasing calls from within geography to develop a geographical aesthetics and a resurgence of interdisciplinary interest in conceptual and empirical questions around geoaesthetics environmental aesthetics as well as the spatialities of the aesthetic Despite taking up an identifiable role within the geographical imagination and sensibilities for centuries and having what is arguably a key place in the making of the modern discipline aesthetics remains a relatively under theorized field within geography Across 15 chapters Geographical Aesthetics brings together timely commentaries by international interdisciplinary scholars to rework historical relations between geography and aesthetics and reconsider how it is we might understand aesthetics In renewing aesthetics as a site of investigation but also an analytic object through which we can think about worldly encounters Geographical Aesthetics presents a reworking of our geographical imaginary of the aesthetic Photography Theory James Elkins, 2013-10-18 Photography Theory presents forty of the world s most active art historians and theorists including Victor Burgin Joel Snyder Rosalind Krauss Alan Trachtenberg Geoffrey Batchen Carol Squiers Margaret Iversen and Abigail Solomon Godeau in animated debate on the nature of photography Photography has been around for nearly two centuries but we are no closer to understanding what it is For some people a photograph is an optically accurate impression of the world for others it is mainly a way of remembering people and places Some view it as a sign of bourgeois life a kind of addiction of the middle class whilst others see it as a troublesome interloper that has confused people s ideas of reality and fine art to the point that they have difficulty even defining what a photograph is For some the whole question of finding photography s nature is itself misguided from the beginning This provocative second volume in the Routledge The Art Seminar series presents not one but many answers to the question what makes a photograph a photograph Cinema as Weather Kristi McKim, 2013-03-05 How do cinematic portrayals of the weather reflect and affect our experience of the world While weatherly predictability and surprise can impact our daily experience the history of cinema attests to the stylistic and narrative significance of snow rain wind sunshine clouds and skies Through analysis of films ranging from The Wizard of Oz to The Umbrellas of Cherbourg from Citizen Kane to In the Mood for Love Kristi McKim calls our attention to the ways that we read our atmospheres both within and beyond the movies Building upon meteorological definitions of weather s dynamism and volatility this book shows how film weather can reveal character interiority accelerate plot development inspire stylistic innovation comprise a momentary attraction convey the passage of time and idealize the world at its greatest meaning making capacity unlike our weather film weather always happens on time whether for tumultuous romantic violent suspenseful or melodramatic ends Akin to cinema's structuring of ephemera cinematic weather suggests aesthetic control over what is fleeting contingent wildly environmental and beyond human capacity to tame This first book length study of such a meteorological and cinematic affinity casts film weather as a means of artfully and mechanically conquering contingency through contingency of taming weather through a medium itself ephemeral and enduring Using film theory history formalist phenomenological analysis and eco criticism this book casts cinema as weather insofar as our skies and screens become readable through our interpretation of changing phenomena

Post Ex Sub Dis Ghent Urban Studies Team, 2002 Post ex sub and dis these are but a few of the prefixes that have been used to compose neologisms for describing the contemporary cityscape Terms such as posturban space postsuburbia exurbia and disurbia are part of a dizzying collection of often hotly contested labels This plethora demonstrates how difficult it has become to name map and analyse the cityscape Urban environments have come to evince a radically chaotic and fragmented structure This book explores how fragmentation has acquired new meanings and how the urban landscape is constantly being deconstructed and reconstructed Richly illustrated with works by artists and photographers the volume contains a series of essays on spatial social and cultural issues written by distinguished scholars from an unusual variety of disciplines
