Garland,1979 To Teach To Love Jesse Stuart ,1970 A History of Education in Kentucky William Ellis,2011-06-01 Kentucky is nationally renowned for horses bourbon rich natural resources and unfortunately hindered by a deficient educational system Though its reputation is not always justified in national rankings for grades K 12 and higher education Kentucky consistently ranks among the lowest states in education funding literacy and student achievement In A History of Education in Kentucky William E Ellis illuminates the successes and failures of public and private education in the commonwealth since its settlement Ellis demonstrates how political leaders in the nineteenth century created a culture that devalued public education and refused to adequately fund it He also analyzes efforts by teachers and policy makers to enact vital reforms and establish adequate equal education and discusses ongoing battles related to religious instruction integration and the Kentucky Education Reform Act KERA A History of Education in Kentucky is the only up to date single volume history of education in the commonwealth Offering more than mere policy analysis this comprehensive work tells the story of passionate students teachers and leaders who have worked for progress from the 1770s to the present day Despite the prevailing pessimism about education in Kentucky Ellis acknowledges signs of a vibrant educational atmosphere in the state By advocating a better understanding of the past Ellis looks to the future and challenges Kentuckians to avoid historic failures and build on their successes Resources in Education ,1999-10 The Work of Teachers in America Rosetta Marantz Cohen,Samuel Scheer,2013-10-11 This volume presents a complex portrait of the American teacher through a fascinating range of story narratives including fictional short stories poetry diaries letters ethnographies and autobiographies Through these stories the volume traces the evolution of the teacher and the profession over the course of two centuries from the late 1700s to the late 1900s In depicting the profession over time the authors include stories by and about both male and female teachers as well as teachers from a wide range of cultural and ethnic backgrounds including white black Hispanic Asian American immigrant and native born and gay and straight This book offers accessible comprehensive introductions to both the central ideas associated with each period and to the representative individual stories that are included within it The volume editors connect each of the parts to earlier and later ones by tracing evolving themes of feminization teacher activism conceptions of curriculum and discipline and issues of multiculturalism Questions suggested readings and activities are offered at the end of each section Photographs and drawings retrieved from state historical archives provide telling images of the teacher in each of the four periods

The Center of the World June Howard, 2018-10-25 Regional Writing and the Puzzles of Place Time is a study of literary regionalism It focuses on the fiction of the United States and considers the place of the genre in world literature Regionalism is usually understood to be a literature bound to the local but this study explores how regional writing shapes ways of imagining not only the neighborhood or the province but also the nation and ultimately the world Its key premise is that thinking about place always entails imagining time It analyzes how concepts crystallize across disciplines and in everyday discourse and proposes ways of revising American literary history and close readings of particular authors work It demonstrates for example the importance of the figure of the school teacher and the one room schoolhouse in local color and subsequent place focused writing Such representations embody the contested relation in modernity between localities and the knowledge they produce and books that carry metropolitan and cosmopolitan learning The volume discusses fiction from the nineteenth twentieth and twenty first centuries including works by Sui Sin Far Edith Eaton Sarah Orne Jewett Ernest Gaines Wendell Berry and Ursula LeGuin as well as romance novels and regional mysteries

The Social Construction of Educational Leadership Anna Hicks McFadden, Penny Smith, 2004 Most historical and theoretical work on school administration choice has focused on the importance of race and class with increased attention to gender during the past two decades Rarely has geography been a consideration and when it appears at all it is used only to distinguish the unique conditions of urban school settings The Social Construction of Educational Leadership Southern Appalachian Ceilings addresses decisions about who is chosen to lead public schools and how they do it Using their research on senior level public school leaders in the southern mountains of North Carolina as a representative case study the authors construct an argument for a reconsideration of the role of place both in decisions about who becomes a school leader and in how those leaders behave professionally The authors describe the changes in a leadership system grounded in race class geographic and gender preferences that dating back to colonial systems of deference describing the pattern of those changes and exploring their implications for school leadership and the preparation of prospective leaders in the region and elsewhere

The Art of Educational Leadership Fenwick W. English,2007-08-14 English successfully challenges the established educational community to rethink the current state of research on school leadership in the social sciences The inclusion of theory discourse and stories of recognized leaders followed by chapter learning extensions that include key concepts movie recommendations and prompted reflective journaling makes this book a most valuable resource for the educational leadership community H J Bultinck CHOICE The Art of Educational Leadership provides one of the most complete examinations of leadership that I have encountered I admire the way it urges students to think and reflect The format allows individual learners to focus on those materials that best fit their learning style while the numerous presentations of a single topic through the different modalities strengthens the learning This text is a fresh new look at leadership Louise L MacKay East Tennessee State University Fenwick W English returns to themes of leadership he explored in more than 20 earlier books and dozens of presentation to educator audiences He favors re centering educational leadership in the humanities rather than acting on the recommendation of the business literature and he emphasizes the use of films as a way to humanize leadership concepts THE SCHOOL ADMINISTRATOR Excellent cogent analysis of key concepts of leadership are presented in a reader friendly style Saul B Grossman Temple University Moves beyond established notions of leadership to recognize that effective leading is about drama and performance artistry The Art of Educational Leadership Balancing Performance and Accountability stresses the human side of leadership No other text on this topic demonstrates so ably the importance of artistry in leadership in a field that has been lopsidedly dominated by concepts informed by science Presenting the idea that leadership is an art this book Exemplifies a balance between the science and the art of educational leadership The real improvement of practice is rooted in the art of application which is about context and represents the key to leadership practice Connects content material to self discovery Exercises at the end of each chapter include creating a personal reflective journal to engage the reader in and reflect upon theories and practices presented in the book Films are suggested for viewing to illustrate the interaction between context culture decisions and outcomes Portrays multicultural leadership in action Biography boxes throughout the book share how multicultural educational and political leaders who have been recognized as expert practitioners learned the art of leadership in the public arena This is the first book in educational leadership to sketch out a balance between the science and the art of the field The text illustrates how performance and practice represent the art while the delineation of the skills and conceptual models represent the science Minnesota
