Peter Fred Lapham,2004-10-19 This book critically examines all the early and important Petrine pseudepigrapha to identify a distinctive Petrine theology which it is believed was later swamped by the tide of western orthodoxy Despite the diversity of the books and tractates ranging from Jewish Christian writings to avowedly Gnostic works a remarkably consistent Petrine tradition does emerge and Peter is shown essentially to be neither the impetuous undiscerning and even vacillating figure portrayed in the Gospels and Acts nor the magisterial and pontifical figure of later Church tradition but a visionary who was concerned above all to hold together both the moral and cognitive aspects of the Faith

Everything in Common? Fiona Jane Robertson Gregson,2017-11-07 Possessions and how believers handle them are key topics in the NT In this book Fiona Gregson examines the practice and theology of sharing possessions in community in the NT by examining six diverse NT examples of sharing Each example is considered in its historical and cultural context before being compared to one or more non Christian examples to identify similarities and differences Gregson identifies common characteristics across the NT examples and consistent distinctives in how the early church shared possessions compared to the surrounding cultures Gregson s findings demonstrate that Christians subverted Roman patronage expectations Christian groups were more diverse in their membership and exhibited more flexible less structured examples of sharing Christians placed greater emphasis on the free choice of individuals to contribute to sharing and Christians more frequently participated in eating together and had a greater focus on relational bonds than was common in Graeco Roman society culture The Social Results of Early Christianity Charles Schmidt,1889 Matthew-John William Jenks,1859
