John Chamberlain John Chamberlain, Allan Stone, 2003      John Chamberlain John Chamberlain, 2007 Here is the flip side of John Chamberlain's well known crushed car sculptures his work in foam just as revelatory in their formal sophistication these works primarily made from 1966 to 1970 with a few made in the late 1970s and early 1980s boggle the eye with their simplicity To make them Chamberlain looped rope around a mass of plain or painted urethane foam and tightened it to create dynamic tensions which resulted in seductively rounded volumes These sculptures are essential to Chamberlain's oeuvre and this is the first publication to address them Its first section is based on the Marfa Texas Chinati Foundation exhibition of 2005 2006 with installation shots and photographs of each exhibited piece the second section assembles a total of 85 foam sculptures constituting an almost complete catalogue of this group and an update to Chamberlain's catalogue raisonné of 1986 Essays by Klaus Kertess Iris Winkelmeyer and Marianne Stockebrand treat the sculptures in the larger context of Chamberlain's oeuvre and discuss the issue of conservation      John Chamberlain Julie Sylvester, John Chamberlain, 1986
John Chamberlain Reliefs, 1960-1982 Michael Auping, 1982      Collision Pete Gershon, 2018-09-13 Winner 2019 Ron Tyler Award for Best Illustrated Book sponsored by the Texas State Historical Association TSHA In this expansive and vigorous survey of the Houston art scene of the 1970s and 1980s author Pete Gershon describes the city's emergence as a locus for the arts fueled by a boom in oil prices and by the arrival of several catalyzing figures including museum director James Harithas and sculptor James Surls Harithas was a fierce champion for Texan artists during his tenure as the director of the Contemporary Arts Museum Houston CAM He put Texas artists on the map but his renegade style proved too confrontational for the museum's benefactors and after four years he wore out his welcome After Harithas's departure from the CAM the chainsaw wielding Surls established the Lawndale Annex as a largely unsupervised outpost of the University of Houston art department Inside this dirty cavernous warehouse a new generation of Houston artists discovered their identities and began to flourish Both the CAM and the Lawndale Annex set the scene for the emergence of small downtown artist run spaces including Studio One the Center for Art and Performance Midtown Arts Center and DiverseWorks Finally in 1985 the Museum of Fine Arts presented Fresh Paint The Houston School a nationally publicized survey of work by Houston painters The exhibition capped an era of intensive artistic development and suggested that the city was about to be recognized along with New York and Los Angeles as a major center for art making activity Drawing upon primary archival materials contemporary newspaper and magazine accounts and over sixty interviews with significant figures Gershon presents a narrative that preserves and interweaves the stories and insights of those who transformed the Houston art scene into the vibrant community that it is today      The Imprint of Gender Wendy Wall, 1993 What did it mean to be published at the end of the sixteenth century While in polite circles gentlemen exchanged handwritten letters published authors risked association with the low born masses Examining a wide range of published material including sonnets pageants prefaces narrative poems and title pages Wendy Wall considers how the idea of authorship was shaped by the complex social controversies generated by publication during the English Renaissance Automotive Prosthetic Charissa N.

Terranova,2014-01-15 In the twenty first century we are continually confronted with the existential side of technology the relationships between identity and the mechanizations that have become extensions of the self Focusing on one of humanity's most ubiquitous machines Automotive Prosthetic Technological Mediation and the Car in Conceptual Art combines critical theory and new media theory to form the first philosophical analysis of the car within works of conceptual art These works are broadly defined to encompass a wide range of creative expressions particularly in car based conceptual art by both older established artists and younger emerging artists including Ed Ruscha Martha Rosler Richard Prince Sylvie Fleury Yael Bartana Jeremy Deller and Jonathan Schipper At its core the book offers an alternative formation of conceptual art understood according to technology the body moving through space and what art historian curator and artist Jack Burnham calls relations This thought provoking study illuminates the ways in which the automobile becomes a naturalized extension of the human body incarnating new forms of car art and spurring a technological reframing of conceptual art Steeped in a sophisticated take on the image and semiotics of the car the chapters probe the politics of materialism as well as high low debates about taste culture and art The result is a highly innovative approach to contemporary intersections of art and technology The seventh BMW Art Guide by Independent Collectors BMW Group, Independent Collectors,2023-04-24

The revised and extended BMW Art Guide by Independent Collectors presents 304 private collections of contemporary art accessible to the public featuring large and small famous and the relatively unknown Succinct portraits of the collections with countless color illustrations take the reader to 51 countries often to regions or urban districts that are off the beaten path This practical guide is a collaborative publication stemming from the partnership between BMW and Independent Collectors the international online platform for collectors of contemporary art To date neither the Internet nor any book has ever contained a comparable assembly of international private collections including several that have opened their doors to art lovers and connoisseurs for the first time Assembling the Everyday Margo Jacobs,2006

The work of John Chamberlain b 1927 was a unique manifestation of sculpture that occurred during the late 1950s and early 1960s Seen in a continuum beginning with Abstract Expressionist Painting building to Chamberlain's assemblages and ending with Happenings the artists of this period were striving to make an art of the everyday and Chamberlain's work was representative as such The idea of the everyday is that it is in constant change and that objects we encounter on a daily basis deliver signs of their placement in the social hierarchy according to sociologist Henri Lefebvre Chamberlain's assemblages are constructed from automobile detritus and therefore have associations with the automobile and everything that automobiles represent Along with an in depth discussion of the social political and economic conditions of possibility surrounding the creation of Chamberlain's work this thesis will also offer the first comprehensive assessment of critical response to Chamberlain's early work     Martin Puryear John Elderfield,2007 Over the last 30 years Martin Puryear has created a body of work that defies categorization creating sculpture that looks at identity culture history This book accompanies an exhibition at The Museum of Modern Art that follows Puryear s development from his first solo show to works being presented for the first time     John Nichols's The Progresses and Public Processions of Queen Elizabeth: Volume IV John Nichols,2014 The fourth volume in this annotated collection of texts relating to the progresses of Queen Elizabeth I around England includes accounts of dramatic performances orations and poems and a wealth of supplementary material dating from 1596 to 1603     7 + 5 Sculptors in the 1950's Phyllis Plous,University of California, Santa Barbara.
