Ellis,2000 More than any other person Jack C Ellis notes John Grierson a Scot was responsible for the documentary film as it has developed in English speaking countries While in the United States in the 1920s Grierson first applied the term documentary to Robert Flaherty s Moana In 1927 Grierson returned to Britain where he was hired to promote the marketing of products of the British Empire The first practical application of Grierson s theory of documentary film was Drifters a 1929 short feature about herring fishing in the North Sea That success led Grierson to establish the Empire Marketing Board Film Unit later the General Post Office Film Unit In 1939 Grierson moved to Canada leaving behind a legacy of some sixty British filmmakers who spread his ideas and techniques to other countries In Canada he progressed beyond national concerns to global problems The National Film Board of Canada stands as the largest and most impressive monument to Grierson s concepts and actions in regard to the use of film by governments in communicating with citizens Ellis examines Grierson s accomplishments in detail probing the complexities of Grierson s motivations and personality His subject a true titan in the world of documentary film was the first filmmaker to use public and private institutional sponsorship not the box office to pay for his films He also employed nontraditional distribution techniques going outside the movie theaters to reach audiences in schools and factories union halls and church basements Essentially Grierson created documentary film and established an audience for it John Grierson and the NFB. John Grierson Project,1984 John Grierson and the NFB A Philosophical History of Documentary, 1895-1959 Dan Geva,2021-09-15 This book presents a chronology of thirty definitions attributed to the word term phrase and concept of documentary between the years 1895 and 1959 The book dedicates one chapter to each of the thirty definitions scrutinizing their idiosyncratic language games from close range while focusing on their historical roots and concealed philosophical sources of inspiration Dan Geva s principal argument is twofold first that each definition is an original ethical premise of documentary and second that only the structured assemblage of the entire set of definitions successfully depicts the true ethical nature of documentary insofar as we agree to consider its philosophical history as a reflective object of thought in a perpetual state of being self defined an ethics sui generis John Grierson, Film Master ,1978 The Documentary Film Reader Jonathan Kahana,2016 The Documentary Film Reader brings together an expansive range of writing by scholars critics historians and filmmakers to provide a stimulating foundational text for students and others who want to undertake study of nonfiction film Encyclopedia of the Documentary Film 3-Volume Set Ian Aitken,2013-10-18 The Encyclopedia of the Documentary Film is a fully international reference work on the history of the documentary film from the Lumi re brothers Workers Leaving the Lumi re Factory 1885 to Michael Moore s Fahrenheit

One Hundred Years of Canadian Cinema George Melnyk, 2004-01-01 Melnyk argues passionately that Canadian cinema has never been a singular entity but has continued to speak in the languages and in the voices of Canada s diverse population

The Projection of Britain James G. Mansell, Scott Anthony, 2019-07-25 The General Post Office GPO Film Unit sat at the creative epicentre of Britain in the 1930s It nurtured a vital crop of artistic talent built a forum for a new kind of cinematic address and created Britain s first self consciously national cinema In 2011 UNESCO added its work to the UK Memory of the World Register recognising its status as part of Britain s cultural heritage Elements of the GPO Film Unit s story are well known John Grierson s development of documentary cinema the influence of Mass Observation and Surrealism on its cinematic vision the Watt Auden Britten collaboration Night Mail The Projection of Britain A History of the GPO Film Unit brings together primary materials and critical appraisals to revisit re contextualise and revitalise these seminal moments in British cinema Here the insights of an archivist a musicologist a design historian a sports historian a geographer and a postman among others have been edited into a rich critical archaeology of a compelling moment in cinematic history Interspersed with these essays are primary materials memoirs magazine articles posters and government documents that detail everything from Alberto Cavalcanti's vision for the documentary movement to a claim for the clothes Humphrey Jennings lost while shooting on location In recent years there has been a resurgence of interest in the GPO Film Unit and its work on the big screen in DVD boxsets and on the web The Projection of Britain ties together the Unit's diverse artistic historical and cultural threads into an essential one stop resource Provocative imaginative and ambitious this expansive study is the definitive companion to an extraordinary episode in cinematic history Erving Goffman and the Cold War Gary D. Jaworski, 2023-08-07

Erving Goffman and the Cold War presents a provocative new reading of the work of sociologist Erving Goffman Instead of viewing him as a marginal man or academic outsider Gary D Jaworski explores Goffman as a social theorist of the Cold War Goffman was deeply connected to both the ethos of his time and to a range of cold warriors and their critics such as Edward A Shils Thomas C Schelling and the researchers on brainwashing associated with the Walter Reed Army Institute of Research among others Chapters on loyalty betrayal secrecy strategy interrogation provocation and aggression concretely illustrate these connections Erving Goffman and the Cold War shows that Goffman was much more than a microsociologist of mundane life he was a perceptive analyst of the Cold War America The Tenth Muse Laura Marcus, 2010-08-12

The Tenth Muse explores writings on the cinema in the first decades of the twentieth century Laura Marcus examines the impact of cinema on early twentieth century literary and more broadly aesthetic and cultural consciousness by bringing together the study of the terms and strategies of early writings about film with literary engagement with cinema in the same period She gives a new understanding of the ways in which early writers about film reviewers critics theorists developed aesthetic categories to define and accommodate what was called the seventh art or the tenth muse and found discursive strategies adequate to the representation of the new art and technology of cinema with its unprecedented powers of movement In examining the writings of early film critics and commentators in tandem with those of more specifically literary figures including H G Wells and Virginia Woolf and in bringing literary texts into this field Laura Marcus provides a new account of relationships between cinema and literature Intertwining two major strands of research the exploration of early film criticism and theory and cinema's presence in literary texts The Tenth Muse shows how issues central to an understanding of cinema including questions of time repetition movement vision sound and silence are threaded through both kinds of writing and the ways in which discursive and fictional writings overlapped The movement that defined cinema was also perceived as a more fragile and unstable ephemerality that inhered at every level from the fleeting nature of the projected images to the vagaries of cinematic exhibition It was the anxiety over the mutability of the medium and its exhibition which from the 1920s onwards led to the establishment of such institutional spaces for cinema as the London based Film Society the new film journals and in the 1930s the first film archives The Tenth Muse explores the continuities between these sites of cinematic culture and the conceptual literary and philosophical understandings of the filmic medium

Night Mail Scott Anthony, 2019-07-25 Night Mail 1936 is one of the best loved and best known films in the canon of British documentary cinema Bringing together the creative talents of Harry Watt Basil Wright W H Auden and Benjamin Britten the film gave John Grierson s documentary school its first popular success Its collectivist politics and its peculiarly modest brand of modernism is as redolent of the inter war age as Agatha Christie Penguin Books or The Shell Guides But it was also a corporate promo part of a publicity campaign initiated by Clement Attlee to stave off Post Office part privatisation and to improve the morale of postal workers Scott Anthony s study provides a lively appreciation of this vivid witty and often just plain eccentric masterpiece In doing so he uncovers the remarkable stories of civic minded idealism creative intrigue and political trickery that underpin this classic documentary
