This study explores the dynamics of violence within John's Gospel focusing on the portrayal of the character of Jesus It offers an understanding of the Johannine Jesus that counters the traditional model of a serene figure who maintains sovereign control over his environment Establishing the prevalence of material indicating opposition to Jesus it argues that his experience and perception of victimization are key to his identity Furthermore it is suggested that Jesus colludes with his victimizers raising the issue of who is responsible for his betrayal and death Drawing on the disciplines of victimology literary criticism and liberation theology the work comprises targeted exegesis of substantial portions of the Gospel revealing the prominence of the theme of violence and raising a number of christological questions
