Fishers Aaw:

Fortress Church Kester Aspden,2002 The Fishermen's Frontier David F. Arnold,2009-11-17 In The Fishermen's Frontier David Arnold examines the economic social cultural and political context in which salmon have been harvested in southeast Alaska over the past 250 years He starts with the aboriginal fishery in which Native fishers lived in close connection with salmon ecosystems and developed rituals and lifeways that reflected their intimacy The transformation of the salmon fishery in southeastern Alaska from an aboriginal resource to an industrial commodity has been fraught with historical ironies Tribal peoples usually considered egalitarian and communal in nature managed their fisheries with a strict notion of property rights while Euro Americans so vested in the notion of property and ownership established a common property fishery when they arrived in the late nineteenth century In the twentieth century federal conservation officials tried to rationalize the fishery by improving upon nature and promoting economic efficiency but their uncritical embrace of scientific planning and their disregard for local knowledge degraded salmon habitat and encouraged a backlash from small boat fishermen who clung to their irrational ways Meanwhile Indian and white commercial fishermen engaged in identical labors but established vastly different work cultures and identities based on competing notions of work and nature Arnold concludes with a sobering analysis of the threats to present day fishing cultures by forces beyond their control However the salmon fishery in southeastern Alaska is still very much alive entangling salmon fishermen industrialists scientists and consumers in a living web of biological and human activity that has continued for thousands of years The Fisher Queen Sylvia Taylor,2012 Homefront It s hard to separate that word from war In the First and Second World Wars the homefront was a clear entity and location if you weren t on the frontlines you were on the homefront But during current times of peacekeeping peacemaking and armed interventions the notion of homefront seems to comprise only those who are in some way directly affected by the military family and friends or ex soldiers an invisible group camouflaged by everyday jobs and activities Editors Barb Howard and Joan Dixon have compiled an insightful collection of essays and reflections from 14 writers including Melanie Murray Scott Waters Ryan Flavelle and Chris Turner All have found themselves at one time or another embedded on the homefront And even though each experience is unique and comes from a single perspective common motifs surface family fate death and memory This anthology captures triumphs incredible fortitude and humour often in the face of grief as well as the complicated logic fears anger and other everyday realities that are part of homefront life Case Studies in Fisheries Self-governance Ralph Edwin Townsend,Ross Shotton,Hirotsugu Uchida,2008-01-01 This special issue focuses on the Scientific forum held at the beginning of the International Technical Conference on Animal Genetic Resources for Food and Agriculture which took place in Interlaken Switzerland in September 2007 Last Word Florian Sauvageau,David Schneiderman,David Taras,2011-11-01 Media coverage of the Supreme Court of Canada has emerged as a crucial factor not only for judges and journalists but also for the public It s the media after all that decide which court rulings to cover and how They translate highly complex judgments into concise and meaningful news stories that will appeal to and be understood by the general public Thus judges lose control of the message once they hand down decisions and journalists have the last word To show how the Supreme Court has fared under the media spotlight Sauvageau Schneiderman and Taras examine a year in the life of the court and then focus on the media coverage of four high profile decisions the Marshall case about Aboriginal rights the Vriend case about gay rights the Quebec Secession Reference and the Sharpe child pornography case They explore the differences between television and newspaper coverage national and regional reporting and the French and English language media They also describe how judges and journalists understand and interact with one another amid often clashing legal and journalistic cultures offering a rich and detailed account of the relationship between two of the most important institutions in Canadian life Strange New Country Geoff

Meggs,2018-04-21 Salmon gillnetting in the turbulent waters of the Fraser River at the turn of the last century was dangerous back breaking work Skiffs were equipped with a single sail but most maneuvering had to be accomplished by oars an almost impossible task against any current or tide Once towed to the grounds by a cannery tug the fishermen were on their own for at least twelve hours casting their 400 metre long nets out and pulling them back by hand Their only shelter was a partial tent over the bow Many came to grief on dark windy nights as they blew out of the main channel to the mudflats of the estuary or worse the open waters of the Strait of Georgia When the powerful Fraser River Cannery Association fixed the maximum price per salmon at 15 cents fishermen united in their determination to win a decent living Their strike shut down British Columbia s second largest export industry and effectively resulted in the imposition of martial law as the cannery frustrated by political deadlock in Victoria called out the militia without government assent to achieve their ends The strike has long been understood as a watershed moment in the province s industrial history In this revealing chronicle Geoff Meggs shows it was even more than that Other strikes in that era may have lasted longer many were more violent but none drew such diverse groups Indigenous Japanese white into an uneasy short term but effective coalition While united by the common goal of economic equality strikers were divided by forceful social pressures First Nations fishermen wished to assert their Indigenous rights Japanese fishermen having fled poverty in their homeland were seeking equality and opportunity in a new country white fishermen were angered by the greed of the tiny clique of wealthy Vancouver industrialists who controlled the salmon industry This maelstrom came together in Steveston a ramshackle clapboard and cedar shake cannery boom town that blossomed into one of the province s largest cities for a few hectic months each summer In this compelling account told with journalistic flair and vivid detail Meggs leaves no room for doubt this event marked BC s turn into the modern era with lessons about inequality racism immigration and economic power that remain relevant today Sharks in Mexico: Research and Conservation Part B Shawn Larson,Dayv Lowry,2020-05-23 Sharks in Mexico Research and Conservation Volume 85 in the Advances in Marine Biology series provides in depth and up to date reviews on all aspects of marine biology that will

Interactive Governance for Small-Scale Fisheries Svein Jentoft, Ratana Chuenpagdee, 2015-05-30 Drawing on more than 30 case studies from around the world this book offers a multitude of examples for improving the governance of small scale fisheries Contributors from some 36 countries argue that reform transformation and innovation are vital to achieving sustainable small scale fisheries especially for mitigating the threats and vulnerabilities of global change For this to happen governing systems must be context specific and the governability of small scale fisheries properly assessed The volume corresponds well with the Voluntary Guidelines for Securing Sustainable Small Scale Fisheries adopted in 2014 spearheaded by the United Nations Food and Agriculture Organization FAO These affirm the importance of small scale fisheries for food security nutrition livelihoods rural development and poverty reduction The book arises from the project Too Big To Ignore Global Partnership for Small Scale Fisheries Research TBTI A nuanced diverse vibrant and local specific collection of essays just as the small scale fisheries around the world dealt with by this versatile array of authors Following on the heels of the recently adopted FAO Small Scale Fisheries Guidelines here is an erudite compendium which I heartily recommend to policy makers academics and activists who wish to come to terms with the complex issue of governance of this important field of human activity John Kurien Founding Member of the International Collective in Support of Fishworkers ICSF and Former Professor Centre for Development Studies Trivandrum India Likely to become a classic in its field this book is about small scale fisheries and interactive governance governance which is negotiated deliberated upon and communicated among stakeholders who often share governing responsibilities The authors show that interactive governance is not just a normative theory but a phenomenon that can be studied empirically here with 34 case studies from as many countries around the world north and south east and west Such force of example enables the editors to put together well developed arguments and sometimes surprising conclusions about the way ahead A must read for managers practitioners stakeholders and students Fikret Berkes University of Manitoba Canada and author of Coasts for People

Food, Farming, and Hunting Emory Dean Keoke, Kay Marie Porterfield, 2005 Explores Native American peoples hunting fishing gathering and farming practices which helped sustain early European colonists and continue to play a role in feeding the world's population today

Stories of Globalization Alessandro Bonanno, Douglas H. Constance, 2010-10-27 Analyses transnational corporations groups who resist them and the primary context within which the relationship between transnational corporations and their opponents unfold the state Argues that globalization is a contested terrain in which the power of transnational corporations is affected by mounting opposition and internal contradictions Provided by publisher

Exuberant Life William H. Durham, 2021 Exuberant Life explains how understanding the vulnerability and resilience of unbothered species in a place like Galapagos is indispensable in planning for the conservation and sustainable future of all species on Earth Subaltern Movements in India Manisha Desai, 2015-09-16 Social struggles in India target both the state and private corporations Three subaltern struggles against development in Gujarat India succeeded to varying degrees due to legalism from below and translocal solidarity but that success has been compromised by its gendered geographies Based on extensive field research this book examines the reasons for the three social movements success It analyses the contradictory reality of the deepening of democracy along with coercive state measures in the era of neoliberal development the importance of the legal changes in the state the nature of the local fields of protest and the translocal field of protest in contemporary subaltern protests Addressing gender inequalities within and outside the struggle the author shows that despite subaltern women having symbolic visibility in the public spaces of the struggles such as rallies protests and meetings with government officials they are absent from the private spaces of decision making and collective dialogues This book offers a new approach on the politics of social movements in contemporary India by discussing the nuanced relationship between development and democracy social justice and gender justice It will be of interest to academics in the field of Development and Gender studies Studies of social movements and South Asian Studies Individual and Social Adaptions to Human Vulnerability Donald C. Wood, 2018-12-14 This volume celebrates the 40th anniversary of the Research in Economic Anthropology series presenting ten peer reviewed anthropological papers looking at human vulnerability the ways people attempt to cope with it and barriers to successfully overcoming it The Story is in Our Bones Osprey Orielle Lake, 2024-01-30 It s time to rewild ourselves and our dominant worldviews to build Earth centered communities for all These pages summon from our bones our commitment to defend this living Earth Joanna Macy author Coming Back to Life and Active Hope The dominant cultural worldview is based upon extraction and exploitation practices that have brought us to the precipice of social environmental and climate collapse Braiding poetic storytelling climate justice analyses and collective knowledge of Earth centered cultures The Story is in Our Bones opens a portal to restoration and justice beyond the end of a world in crisis Author activist and changemaker Osprey Orielle Lake weaves together ecological mythical political and cultural understandings and shares her experiences working with global leaders climate justice activists Indigenous Peoples and systems thinkers She seeks to summon a new way of being and thinking in the Anthropocene which includes transforming the interlocking crises of colonialism racism patriarchy capitalism and ecocide to build thriving Earth communities for all For anyone grieving our collective loss and wanting to take action The Story is in Our Bones is a vital guide to remaking our world This hopeful engaging and creatively lyrical work reminds readers that another world is possible and provides a desperately needed antidote to the pervasive despair of our time AWARDS WINNER 2025 American Legacy Book Awards Social Change The Logic of Sufficiency Thomas Princen, 2005-09-30 What if modern society put a priority on the material security of its citizens and the ecological integrity of its resource base What if it took ecological constraint as a given not a hindrance but a source of long term economic security How would it organize itself structure its industry shape its consumption Across time and across cultures people actually have adapted to ecological constraint They have changed behavior they have built institutions And they have developed norms and principles for their time Today s environmental challenges at once global technological and commercial require new behaviors new institutions and new principles In this highly original work Thomas Princen builds one such principle sufficiency Sufficiency is not about denial not about sacrifice or doing without Rather when resource depletion and overconsumption are real sufficiency is about doing well It is about good work and good governance it is about goods that are good only to a point With examples ranging from timbering and fishing to automobility and meat production Princen shows that sufficiency is perfectly sensible and yet absolutely contrary to modern society s dominant principle efficiency He argues that seeking enough when more is possible is both intuitive and rational personally organizationally and ecologically rational And under global ecological constraint it is ethical Over the long term an economy indeed a society cannot operate as if there s never enough and never too much

Coastal Lives Maximilian Viatori, Héctor Andrés Bombiella Medina, 2019-04-02 Peru s fisheries are in crisis as overfishing and ecological changes produce dramatic fluctuations in fish stocks To address this crisis government officials have claimed that fishers need to become responsible producers who create economic advantages by taking better care of the ocean ecologies they exploit In Coastal Lives Maximilian Viatori and Héctor Bombiella argue that this has not made Peru s fisheries more sustainable Through a fine grained ethnographic and historical account of Lima s fisheries the authors reveal that new government regimes of entrepreneurial agency have placed overwhelming burdens on the city s impoverished artisanal fishers to demonstrate that they are responsible producers and have created failures that can be used to justify closing these fishers traditional use areas and to deny their historically sanctioned rights The result is a critical examination of how neoliberalized visions of nature and individual responsibility work to normalize the dispossessions that have enabled ongoing capital accumulation at the cost of growing social dislocations and ecological degradation The authors innovative approach to the politics of constructing and degrading coastal lives will interest a wide range of scholars in cultural anthropology environmental humanities and Latin American studies as well as policymakers and anyone concerned with inequality global food systems and multispecies ecologies

World Small-scale Fisheries Ratana Chuenpagdee, 2011 The importance of fisheries is not lost in the global policy arena What is often overlooked in the general discourse however is the significant difference between small and large scale fisheries Major rethinking about all aspects of small scale fisheries is required including their contribution to catches employment livelihood food security and conservation This book is a collection of essays about the diverse complex and dynamic contexts that characterize small scale fisheries around the world The essays highlight the strengths capacity motivation and contributions associated with this fishing sector They remind us that solutions and opportunities for the viability and sustainability of small scale fisheries can be found once the issues are understood from a holistic perspective and possible options including inventive governance arrangements are fully explored The authors are scientists and practitioners who work in small scale fisheries in various parts of the world many of whom participated at the first World Small Scale Fisheries Congress WSFC held in Bangkok in October 2010 and are members of the global research network for the future of small scale fisheries Too Big To Ignore The editor Ratana Chuenpagdee the initiator of the WSFC is Canada Research Chair in Natural Resource Sustainability and Community Development at Memorial University of Newfoundland Canada Book jacket Galicia & Terranova & Labrador Xaquín Rodríguez Campos, José Manuel Santos Solla, 2006

Feminist Conservation Merrill Baker-Medard, 2024-11-26 How access to and control over marine resources in Madagascar are negotiated and the inextricable link between equity and sustainability As marine conservation becomes an increasingly urgent issue around the world there is an equally critical need to understand the ways different conservation interventions attend to or exacerbate social inequality This book explores the origins of a conservation agenda in Madagascar and the consequences of its neglect of gender Drawing on interviews ecological and social surveys archival research and several years of living with fishers in Madagascar Merrill Baker Medard examines how access to and control over marine resources are negotiated from fishing villages to the conference rooms of international meetings Her intersectional approach bridges conservation science gender studies and human geography to advance the idea that equity and sustainability are inextricably linked and that practices of reciprocity accountability and care are foundational to their achievement The implementation of the ecosystem approach to fisheries management in Gökçeada, Turkey Ünal, V., Tosunoğlu, Z., Tıraş, E.M., Vasconcellos, M., 2022-04-07 Gökçeada is Turkey's largest island and acts as a natural center for the transition points of migrating fish located at the entrance of Saros Bay and at a point where the Marmara Sea and the North Aegean waters meet The banks surrounding Gökçeada create rich fishing beds It also hosts Turkey's only marine park established in 1999 A lack of stock assessments as well as co management has impeded fisheries management capabilities in the region This document presents a first baseline report on the fisheries of Gökçeada to facilitate its transition to incorporating the principles of an ecosystem approach to fisheries management This report was prepared as part of the project Transition to Ecosystem Approach to Fisheries Management and Designing a Management Plan in Gökçeada Turkey carried out in cooperation with the Ministry of Agriculture and Forestry and managed by Ege University with the participation of many other stakeholders and financed by the FAO EastMed Project The first part of the report presents information on the fisheries and the second section presents threats to the sustainability of fishing A review of all existing relevant data was completed in addition to fisher interviews performed in 2020 to properly understand the current state of the fisheries and threats affecting sustainability The baseline report is the first step towards the preparation of a management plan for fisheries in Gökçeada The success of this initiative requires the joint willingness and determination of all stakeholders especially from the official institutions and the fishery cooperative
