Fitzcarraldo The Original Story:

Aesthetic Technologies of Modernity, Subjectivity, and Nature Richard Leppert, 2015-10-06 Virginia Woolf famously claimed that around December 1910 human character changed Aesthetic Technologies addresses how music especially opera the phonograph and film served as cultural agents facilitating the many extraordinary social artistic and cultural shifts that characterized the new century and much of what followed long thereafter even to the present Three tropes are central the tensions and traumas cultural social and personal associated with modernity changes in human subjectivity and its engagement and representation in music and film and the more general societal impact of modern media sound recording the development of the phonograph in particular and the critical role played by early century opera recording A principal focus of the book is the conflicted relationship in Western modernity to nature particularly as nature is perceived in opposition to culture and articulated through music film and sound as agents of fundamental sometimes shocking transformation The book considers the sound vision world of modernity filtered through the lens of aesthetic modernism and rapid technological change and the impact of both experienced with the prescient sense that there could be no turning back

Beyond the Soundtrack Daniel Ira Goldmark, Lawrence Kramer, Richard Leppert, 2007-06-08 This groundbreaking collection by the most distinguished musicologists and film scholars in their fields gives long overdue recognition to music as equal to the image in shaping the experience of film Refuting the familiar idea that music serves as an unnoticed prop for narrative these essays demonstrate that music is a fully imagined and active power in the worlds of film Even where films do give it a supporting role and many do much more music makes an independent contribution Drawing on recent advances in musicology and cinema studies Beyond the Soundtrack interprets the cinematic representation of music with unprecedented richness The authors cover a broad range of narrative films from the silent era not so silent to the present Once we think beyond the soundtrack this volume shows there is no unheard music in cinema

Sites of imperial memory Dominik Geppert, Frank Muller, 2016-05-16 Europe's great colonial empires have long been a thing of the past but the memories they generated are still all around us They have left deep imprints on the different memory communities that were affected by the processes of establishing running and dismantling these systems of imperial rule and they are still vibrant and evocative today This volume brings together a collection of innovative and fresh studies exploring different sites of imperial memory those conceptual and real places where the memories of former colonial rulers and of former colonial subjects have crystallised into a lasting form The volume explores how memory was built up re shaped and preserved across different empires continents and centuries It shows how it found concrete expression in stone and bronze how it adhered to the stories that were told and retold about great individuals and how it was suppressed denied and neglected

The Cinema of Werner Herzog Brad Prager, 2007-11-19 Werner Herzog is renowned for pushing the boundaries of conventional cinema especially those between the fictional and the factual the fantastic and the real The Cinema of Werner Herzog Aesthetic Ecstasy and Truth is the first study in twenty years devoted entirely to an analysis of Herzog's work. It explores the director's continuing search for what he has described as ecstatic truth drawing on over thirty-five films from the epics Aguirre: Wrath of God 1972 and Fitzcarraldo 1982 to innovative documentaries like Fata Morgana 1971 Lessons of Darkness 1992 and Grizzly Man 2005. Special attention is paid to Herzog's signature style of cinematic composition, his romantic influences and his fascination with madmen, colonialism and war.

Historical Dictionary of German Cinema Robert C. Reimer, Carol J. Reimer, 2019-07-15 The History of German film is diverse and multi-faceted. This volume can only suggest the richness of a film tradition that includes five distinct German governments: Wilhelmine Germany, the Weimar Republic, the Third Reich, the Federal Republic of Germany, West Germany, and the German Democratic Republic, East Germany, as well as a reunited Germany, two national industries, Germany and Austria, and a myriad of styles and production methods. Paradoxically, the political disruptions that have produced these distinct film eras, as well as the natural inclination of artists to rebel and create new styles, allow for construction of a narrative of German film. Disjuncture generates distinct points of separation and yet also highlights continuities between the ruptures. This second edition of Historical Dictionary of German Cinema contains a chronology, an introduction, appendixes, and an extensive bibliography. The dictionary section has over 200 cross-referenced entries on directors, actors, films, cinematographers, composers, producers, and major historical events that greatly affected the direction and development of German cinema. This book is an excellent resource for students, researchers, and anyone wanting to know more about German cinema.

Sound Judgment Richard Leppert, 2023-05-31 The essays in Sound Judgment span the full career of Richard Leppert from his earliest work that appears here for the first time on subjects drawn from early modernity to the present concerning music, both popular and classical, European and North American. Noted for his path-breaking interdisciplinary scholarship on music and visual culture, the collection includes key essays on music's visualization in art practices in virtually all visual media, including film. The fourteen essays comprising this volume demonstrate Leppert's many contributions to critical musicology, particularly in the areas of aesthetics, as well as social and intellectual history, all of it grounded in a heterodox body of critical and cultural theory with the work of Theodor W. Adorno particularly noteworthy. The collection is preceded by an introduction in which Leppert traces his intellectual development, defined in large part by the social, cultural, and political upheavals of the 1960s and their aftermath, both in the academy and in society at large.

Cinematic Journeys in Latin America Richard Francaviglia, 2023-08-30 This book critically examines how movies that feature real or imagined explorers and expeditions creatively feature the geography of Latin America. It focuses on how locales are scripted into film plots and artistically depicted and demonstrates that place is as important as any character in a film, especially in this genre. Nineteen key films are analyzed. Some like Aguirre: the Wrath of God, Fitzcarraldo, The Other Conquest, Embrace of the Serpent, and The Lost City of Z are based on the exploits of real explorers. Others are fictional, including Apocalypto, Indiana Jones and the Kingdom of the Crystal Skull, and Dora and the Lost City of Gold. The author also

Reimer, 2010-04-01 German film is diverse and multi faceted its history includes five distinct German governments Wilhelmine Germany the Weimar Republic the Third Reich the Federal Republic of Germany and the German Democratic Republic two national industries Germany and Austria and a myriad of styles and production methods Paradoxically the political disruptions that have produced these distinct film eras as well as the natural inclination of artists to rebel and create new styles allow for the construction of a narrative of German film While the disjuncture generates distinct points of separation it also highlights continuities between the ruptures Outlining the richness of German film The A to Z of German Cinema covers mainstream alternative and experimental film from 1895 to the present through a chronology introductory essay appendix of the 100 most significant German films a bibliography and hundreds of cross referenced dictionary entries on directors actors films cinematographers composers producers and major historical events that greatly affected the direction and development of German cinema The book s broad canvas will lead students and scholars of cinema to appreciate the complex nature of German film War of Shadows Michael F Brown, Eduardo Fernández, 2023-09-01 War of Shadows is the haunting story of a failed uprising in the Peruvian Amazon told largely by people who were there Late in 1965 Ash ninka Indians members of one of the Amazon s largest native tribes joined forces with Marxist revolutionaries who had opened a guerrilla front in Ash ninka territory They fought and were crushed by the overwhelming military force of the Peruvian government Why did the Indians believe this alliance would deliver them from poverty and the depredations of colonization on their rainforest home With rare insight and eloquence anthropologists Brown and Fern ndez write about an Amazonian people whose contacts with outsiders have repeatedly begun in hope and ended in tragedy The players in this dramatic confrontation included militants of the Movement of the Revolutionary Left MIR the U S Embassy the Peruvian military a renegade American settler and the Ash ninka Indians themselves Using press reports and archival sources as well as oral histories the authors weave a vivid tapestry of narratives and counternarratives that challenges the official history of the guerrilla struggle Central to the story is the Ash ninkas persistent hope that a messiah would lead them to freedom a belief with roots in eighteenth and nineteenth century jungle rebellions and religious movements War of Shadows is the haunting story of a failed uprising in the Peruvian Amazon told largely by people who were there Late in 1965 Ash ninka Indians members of one of the Amazon s largest native tribes joined forces with Marxist revolutionarie Scenarios Werner Herzog, 2017-10-01 I do not follow ideas I stumble into stories or into people and I know that this is so big I have to make a film Very often films come like uninvited guests like burglars in the middle of the night They are in your kitchen something is stirring you wake up at 3 a m and all of a sudden they come wildly swinging at you When I write a screenplay I write it as if I have the whole film in front of my eyes Then it is very easy for me and I can write very very fast It is almost like copying But of course sometimes I push myself I read myself into a frenzy of poetry reading Chinese poets of the eighth and ninth century reading old Icelandic poetry reading some of the finest German poets like Hölderlin All of this has absolutely nothing to do with the idea of my film but I work myself up into this kind of frenzy of high caliber language and concepts and beauty And then sometimes I push myself by playing music for example a piano concerto by Beethoven and I play it and write furiously But none of this is an answer to the question of how you focus on a single idea for a film And then during shooting you have to depart from it sometimes while keeping it alive in its essence

Werner Herzog on filmmaking Werner Herzog doesn't write traditional screenplays He writes fever dreams brimming with madness greed humor and dark isolation that can shift dramatically during production and have materialized into extraordinary masterpieces unlike anything in film today Harnessing his vision and transcendent reality these four pieces of long form prose earmark a renowned filmmaker at the dawn of his career Forgotten Dreams Laurie Ruth Johnson,2016

Roger Ebert was the most influential film critic in the United States the first to win a Pulitzer Prize For almost fifty years he wrote with plainspoken eloquence about the films he loved for the Chicago Sun Times his vast cinematic knowledge matched by a sheer love of life that bolstered his appreciation of films Ebert had particular admiration for the work of director Werner Herzog whom he first encountered at the New York Film Festival in 1968 the start of a long and productive relationship between the filmmaker and the film critic Herzog by Ebert is a comprehensive collection of Ebert's writings about the legendary director featuring all of his reviews of individual films as well as longer essays he wrote for his Great Movies series. The book also brings together other essays, letters, and interviews including a letter Ebert wrote Herzog upon learning of the dedication to him of Encounters at the End of the World, a multifaceted profile written at the 1982 Cannes Film Festival, and an interview with Herzog at Facet's Multimedia in 1979 that has previously been available only in a difficult-to-obtain pamphlet. Herzog himself contributes a foreword in which he discusses his relationship with Ebert. Brimming with insights from both filmmaker and film critic, Herzog by Ebert will be essential for fans of either of their prolific bodies of work. The Film Yearbook, 1984 Al Clark, 1983-10 International Dictionary of Films and Filmmakers Tom Pendergast, Sara Pendergast, 2000. Includes photographs and indexes. Apocalypse on the Set Ben Taylor, 2012-02-02. The stories behind the other eight films from The Adventures of Baron Munchausen and The Twilight Zone: The Movie to Apocalypse Now and The Crow are just as astounding and gripping. This is a book film fans will devour. These bizarre, often hilarious cinematic endeavors confirm that truth is stranger than fiction, reality more volatile than narratives, and fate more improbable than plots.
