Kaleidoscope Space:

The Foundation of Reality David Glick, George Darby, Anna Marmodoro, 2020-04-29 Are space and time fundamental features of our world or might they emerge from something else The Foundation of Reality brings together metaphysicians and philosophers of physics working on space time and fundamentality to address this timely question Recent developments in the interpretation of quantum mechanics and the understanding of certain approaches to quantum gravity have led philosophers of physics to propose that space and time might be emergent rather than fundamental But such discussions are often conducted without engagement with those working on fundamentality and related issues in contemporary metaphysics This book aims to correct this oversight The diverse contributions to this volume address topics including the nature of fundamentality the relation of space and time to quantum entanglement and space and time in theories of quantum gravity Only through consideration of a range of different approaches to the topic can we hope to get clear on the status of space and time in our contemporary understanding of physical reality

Digital Geographies—Theory, Space, and

Communities Abdul Shaban, 2025-01-02 This machine generated volume with chapter introductions by the human expert showcases how digital technologies are having deep transformative impacts on geographies and temporalities of social political economic and personal lives They are altering perceptions and physicality of space and time They are giving birth to digital communities and societies where distance remains of little significance Virtual spaces and ICT have disrupted state sovereignties often liquidating their physical national boundaries The rise of the digital economy shows that new important raw materials for the future are information rather than coal oil and minerals Digitalisation is also leading to several contradictory processes of democratisation rising welfare of the citizens as well as surveillance peripheralisation and exclusion States are taking pride in digitalising their services to the citizens with massive consequences on the welfare of those facing digital divides As a departure to and in addition to the usual understanding of digitalisation society and space the present volume engages with some of the critical questions while reviewing existing literature What are the space relations of digital technologies What are the forms and consequences of changing physical space human relations to digital space human relations How is the sense of time and space changing with pervasive performatives of in real time and virtual realities or with perceptible or portable spaces In what ways does digitalisation relate to knowledge and power Why and how must we theorise the digitalisation led transformative processes of sociality materiality and their spatialities The book will be useful for teachers researchers and students engaged in this new area of digital geography especially in social science and its subfields of sociology economics political sciences anthropology psychology development studies policy studies social work urban studies and planning For the full picture the volume can be read in combination with its companion volume on Digital Geographies Urbanisation Economy and Modelling

Transdisciplinarity Nima Rezaei, 2022-11-13 This contributed volume book aims at discussing transdisciplinary approaches to address common problems By working transdisciplinarily researchers coming from different disciplines can work jointly using a shared conceptual framework bringing together disciplinary specific theories and concepts There are numerous barriers that can obstruct effective communication between different cultures communities religions and geographies This book shows that through bringing together different disciplines researchers not only can surpass these barriers but can effectively produce new venues of thought that can positively affect the development and evolution of research and education The book discusses new and emerging applications of knowledge produced by transdisciplinary efforts and covers the interplay of many disciplines including agriculture economics mathematics engineering industry information technology marketing nanoscience neuroscience space exploration human animal relationships among others Consequently it also covers the relationship between art and science as one of the most remarkable transdisciplinary approaches that paves the way for new methods in engineering design architecture and many other fields

Discover the Matrix Angela Cusack, 2023-06-23 The most dangerous move in business is the failure to see the space between What s the greatest crisis among Leaders today According to Harvard Business Review Apr 2020 leaders are living in crisis with no modern day precedent Governments corporations hospitals schools and other organizations need now more than ever are real leaders people who help us overcome the limitations of our own individual laziness and selfishness and weakness and fear and get us to do better harder things than we can get ourselves to do on our own Like most real leaders are not born having the ability to help others see the space between is not written into their genetic code Many leaders are forged in crisis Prime Minister Winston Churchill encouraged his people to keep the faith We shall not fail or falter we shall not weaken or tire Neither the sudden shock of battle nor the long drawn trials of vigilance and exertion will wear us down Give us the tools and we will finish the job This book provides today s leaders with the tools to get the job done the skills to see the space between Challenging conventional wisdom self imposed limitations and abstract obstacles global business coach and leading keynote speaker Angela Cusack dares you to Discover the Matrix

High Impact School Library Spaces Peg L. Sullivan, 2014-12-05 To keep school libraries relevant their physical spaces need to be reinvented to mirror 21st century learning models This book will enable everyone from school librarians and principals to district level administrators architects and interior planners of school library spaces to reconceptualize school libraries School libraries provide invaluable benefits and services but many of today s school administrators parents and students no longer see their value Now most students have their own computing devices and the use of eBooks is on the rise students can gather information anywhere at any time This book offers bold new ways to think about library spaces and suggests how libraries can provide the spaces needed to encourage students to explore learning It also presents librarians with dynamic ideas and plans that can be used as a springboard for planning with school administrators architects and builders The book identifies opportunities for creating spaces that support instructional models such as guided inquiry examines technology skills needed after graduation shows digital media hubs complementing maker spaces and discusses how incorporating social media spaces into library design can encourage learning The author guides librarians through the process of documenting the district learning goals in order to translate those specific goals into library space plans for an architect or interior designer Readers will discover templates for flexible up to date library designs that serve to not only improve students learning and critical thinking skills but also to emphasize the modern school librarian s role in boosting academic achievement

Psychology in Communities Floor van Alphen,Susanne Normann,2020-08-01 This volume aims at further articulating and developing the cultural psychological interest in community It focuses on the processes through which individuals constitute communities and the processes that restrain or enable moving forward with others This interest is necessary especially now that the world is on the move Economic crises political crises and ecological crises have led to reinforced migration patterns a rise in authoritarianism and xenophobia and have become a threat to the survival of the world as we know it particularly to minorities and indigenous communities At the same time we are witnessing the birth of new networks dialogues and actions generated by people within between and among communities Therefore this volume collects interdisciplinary theoretical empirical and applied contributions enabling engagement with communities in cultural psychology This involves both reflections on meaning making processes and projections on how they feed into social transformation in exchange with community psychology anthropology and sociology People vitally depend on community to effectively negotiate or resist in complex intercultural or intergroup settings In the wake of human rights violations or to prevent further damage to the environment a community is needed to undertake action From feminist movements and disability activism to the otherwise marginalized how do people constitute communities How do they resist as a community How can cultural psychology contribute not only to understand meaning making processes but also connect them to processes of social transformation Migration moving through and connecting to different communities can affect meaning making in significant ways People consider themselves as members of one or another community but they also increasingly enter into new settings of social practice with new means for action How might creative meaning making build bridges between communities How might new community arise in between or with others How can cultural psychology deal with intercultural processes without reifying different cultures These are the central questions that the mostly emerging scholars from many corners of the world address in this book Their research addresses different institutional settings that are resisted and transformed from within in dialogue with others From social work NGOs and municipal activity to university talent mobility and art projects for youth Other settings are newly inhabited from the public square and the social media to a foreign city and neighborhood church Thus more communities appear on the map of cultural psychology
