Burma in Revolt Bertil Lintner, 1999-05-01 In 1948 Burma was a promising young democracy with a bustling free market economy and a standard of living that surpassed nearly all of its other Asian neighbours Fifty years later Burma is one of the poorest nations in the world with a military dictatorship in Rangoon and 50 000 armed rebels from a myriad of ethnic insurgency groups In this well documented and detailed account well known Burma journalist Bertil Lintner explains the nexus between Burma's booming drug production and its insurgency and counter insurgency providing an answer to the question of why Burma has been unable to shake off thirty five years of military rule and build a modern democratic society Lintner's lively account is interspersed with numerous anecdotes gleaned from personal research and interviews Individuals are given features and personality in the complicated jigsaw of Burma's modern history Beginning with the shock of Aung San's murder in 1947 Lintner retraces events from the 1920s that led to this disastrous event and continues his narrative up to the present navigating the reader through webs of intrigue involving power politics and drugs Key players are the Rangoon government the ethnic resistance the Communists the Kuomintang and the US government This revised and updated edition includes five extensive appendixes for serious readers and Burma scholars alike a list of acronyms a chronology of events a who's who of important figures in Burma's insurgency an annotated list of rebel armies and biographical sketches of the Thirty Comrades Bertil Lintner one of Burma's Myanmar's closest and most incisive observers has written an important book It is more than a study of the drug trade and the minority rebellions It is in a sense a history of Burma since independence No one concerned with Burma with Southeast Asia or with international narcotics affairs can neglect this work David I Steinberg Georgetown University
