Livingstone: Man of Africa Bridglal Pachai, 1973      David Livingstone and the Myth of African Poverty and Disease Sjoerd Rijpma, 2015-06-24 This study about David Livingstone is different from all other publications about him Here Livingstone is not the main topic of interest the focus of the author is on nutrition and health in pre colonial Africa and Livingstone is his key informant David Livingstone and the Myth of African Poverty and Disease is an unusual book After a close examination of Livingstone s writings and comparative reading of contemporary authors Sjoerd Rijpma has been able to draw cautious conclusions about the relatively favourable conditions of health and nutrition in southern and central Africa during the pre colonial period His findings shed new light on the medical history of Sub Saharan Africa The surprise awaiting travellers in and also before 19th century Africa was that the inhabitants of the interior even the slaves were healthier and better fed than many of their contemporaries in Europe s Industrial Revolution An impressive piece of scholarship truly forensic in its close reading and re reading of Livingstone s published works and those of other travellers during the same era clearly a labour of love which has taken years to complete Joanna Lewis      The Letters of Jane Elizabeth Waterston, 1866-1905 Jane Elizabeth Waterston, 1983      Livingstone's 'lives' Justin Livingstone, 2014-11-01 David Livingstone the missionary explorer has attracted more commentary than nearly any other Victorian hero Beginning in the years following his death he soon became the subject of a major biographical tradition Yet out of this extensive discourse no unified image of Livingstone emerges Rather he has been represented in diverse ways and in a variety of socio political contexts Until now no one has explored Livingstone s posthumous reputation in full This book meets the challenge In approaching Livingstone s complex legacy it adopts a metabiographical perspective in other words this book is a biography of biographies Rather than trying to uncover the true nature of the subject metabiography is concerned with the malleability of biographical representation It does not aim to uncover Livingstone s real identity but instead asks what has he been made to mean Crossing disciplinary boundaries Livingstone s lives will interest scholars of imperial history postcolonialism life writing travel writing and Victorian studies      A History of the Church in Africa Bengt Sundkler, Christopher Steed, 2000-05-04 Bengt Sundkler s long awaited book on African Christian churches will become the standard reference for the subject David Livingstone M. Buxton, 2001-04-19 A biography of David Livingstone giving a balanced account of his strengths and weaknesses Revered for years as a saint he was in fact a much more interesting character difficult demanding and unsympathetic but also single minded determined patient and outstandingly brave At ten he worked a fourteen hour day in a mill and at sixty was buried in Westminster Abbey The first European to cross Africa he discovered the Victoria Falls and survived shipwreck attacks by natives and being mauled by a lion      A History of Christianity in Africa Elizabeth Isichei, 1995 Isichei s thorough study surveys the full breadth of Christianity in Africa from the early story of Egyptian Christianity to the churches of the Middle Years 1500 1800 to the prolific success of missions throughout the 1900s This important book fills a conspicuous void of scholarly works on Africa's Christian history. Includes 26 maps      A History of Modern Africa Richard J. Reid, 2012-01-17 Updated and revised to emphasise long term perspectives on current issues facing the continent the new 2nd Edition of A History of Modern Africa recounts the full breadth of Africa's political economic and social history over the past two centuries Adopts a long term approach to current issues stressing the importance of nineteenth century and deeper indigenous dynamics in explaining Africa's later twentieth century challenges Places a greater focus on African agency especially during the colonial encounter Includes more in depth coverage of non Anglophone Africa Offers expanded coverage of the post colonial era to take account of recent developments including the conflict in Darfur and the political unrest of 2011 in Egypt Tunisia and Libya      The Sultan's Shadow Christiane Bird, 2010 A dramatic account of the slave trade in the early 19th century Indian Ocean is presented through the stories of the Omani Sultan Said and his daughter Princess Salme offering insight into the Arabian Peninsula kingdom's lucrative growth and ties to America      English Prose of the Nineteenth Century Hilary Fraser, Daniel Brown, 2017-07-12 Hilary Fraser provides a comprehensive and thorough survey of English prose in the nineteenth century which draws from a wide variety of fields including art literary theory and criticism biography letters journals sermons and travel reportage Through these works the cultural social literary and political life of the twentieth century a period of great intellectual activity can be charted discussed and assessed For the first time an inclusive critical survey of nineteenth century non fiction is presented that traces the century's ideological and cultural upheavals as they are registered in the literary textures of some of its most widely read and influential writings The book explores the relations between writers who are generally perceived as occupying different discursive spheres for example between John Stuart Mill Florence Nightingale and Mrs Beeton between Cardinal Newman Elizabeth Gaskell and Hannah Cullwick and between Charles Darwin David Livingstone and Henry Mayhew The establishment and development of different genres and their interactions over the century are clearly mapped The genre of the periodical essay a distinctively modern and flexible form catering to the mass readership is the subject of the introduction and then more specialist fields are discussed covering scientific writing travel and exploration literature social reportage biography autobiography journals letters religious and philosophical prose political writing and history      A History of Malawi, 1859-1966 John McCracken, 2012 This title features a general history of Malawi focusing mainly on the colonial period when it was known as Nyassaland but placing that period in the context of the pre colonial past

Nineteenth-Century Explorers Britannica Educational Publishing, 2013-06-01 Although the once fuzzy outlines of the global map had largely been defined by the 19th century much had yet to be learned As some explorers continued to search either for resources or for unknown regions others increasingly embraced a new kind of discovery that of scientific knowledge Readers will journey alongside a host of notable explorers accompanying Lewis and Clark on their famous expedition during which they both charted much of the United States and identified 178 new plants and marvelling at Charles Darwin's revolutionary findings in the Galapagos Islands. Their explorations and many others are chronicled within these pages.

Politics and Christianity in Malawi, 1875-1940 John McCracken, 2008. First published in 1977 and now in its third edition, this book has been recognised as one of the most successful studies to be made of the impact of a Christian mission in Africa. Starting with a survey of the economy and society of Malawi in the mid-nineteenth century, the book goes on to examine the home background to the Livingstonia Mission of the Free Church of Scotland and the influence of David Livingstone upon it. It then describes the failure of commerce and Christianity around the south end of Lake Malawi and the subsequent positive response which the mission evoked among the people of Northern Malawi. African responses and the relationship between Christianity and politics dominate the second half of the book. Comprehensive reassessments are made of the origins of the Watch Tower movement, the growth of Christian independence and the character of interpolitical associations. This revised edition includes a new introduction and up-to-date bibliography and some revised text.

Reader's Guide to British History David Loades, 2020-12-17. The Reader's Guide to British History is the essential source to secondary material on British history. This resource contains over 1,000 A-Z entries on the history of Britain from ancient and Roman Britain to the present day. Each entry lists 6-12 of the best-known books on the subject, then discusses those works in an essay of 800 to 1,000 words prepared by an expert in the field. The essays provide advice on the range and depth of coverage as well as the emphasis and point of view espoused in each publication.

Dictionary of African Historical Biography Mark R. Lipschutz, R. Kent Rasmussen, 1986. The acclaimed Dictionary of African Historical Biography, the only single-volume biographical work on Sub-Saharan African history, has been expanded and updated to include entries on over eight hundred people important in Sub-Saharan African history up to 1980.

The Society of Malawi Journal Society of Malawi, 1973.

The Evangelization of the World: Jacques A. Blocher, Jacques Blandinier, 2012-12-06. Written in an engaging style and intended largely for a lay audience, The Evangelization of the World tells the remarkable story of how Christianity grew from an insignificant Jewish sect in the first century until, by the beginning of the twenty-first century, it had become the world's first truly global religion. The book is careful to explain historical context and mission theory, but the foci of the narrative are the great personalities of mission: the Apostle Paul, St Martin of Tours, St Patrick, St Francis Xavier, John Eliot, Count Von Zinzendorf, William Carey, Robert Morrison, David Livingstone, Mary Slessor, Albert Schweitzer, and many others who make this account of the expansion of the church a fascinating and often dramatic tale. In addition, the book does not neglect the great mission conferences of the twentieth century, nor does it avoid the controversial aspects of mission that in many instances continue to vex the movement today.

Politics and Christianity in Malawi 1875 - 1940 Juliet Clough McCracken, 2025-05-11. Since its first publication in 1977, Politics and Christianity in Malawi has been recognised as one of the most successful studies to be made of the impact of a Christian mission in Africa. Starting with a survey of the economy of Malawi in the mid-nineteenth century, the book goes on to examine the home background of the Livingstonia Mission of the Free Church of Scotland and the influence of David Livingstone upon it. It then describes the failure of Christianity and Commerce around the South end of Lake Malawi and the subsequent positive response which the mission evoked among the peoples of northern Malawi. The function and character of the Overtoun Institution, possibly the most influential mission in South Central Africa, is described in detail, as is the mission's economic and educational impact. African responses and the relationship between Christianity and Politics dominate the second half of the book. Comprehensive reassessments are made of the origins of the Watch Tower Movement, the growth of Christian independency, and the character of inter-war political associations. The reprint of the 2000 edition is published in recognition of the 150th anniversary of the establishment of Livingstonia Mission, a model not easily surpassed of mission history which is also genuinely social history, drawing together a network of very varied themes.

Adrian Hastings: It has become the basic scholarly book for Malawian Church History.

Klaus Fiedler: a book of great interest, rich with insights which illuminate the activities of the missionaries and the reactions of African Christians, a major work of fundamental importance to Africanists.

Richard Gray: A Bibliography of Published Works by and about David Livingstone, 1843-1975

T. A. Simons, 1978: The African Revolution

Richard Reid, 2025-01-28: A panoramic global history of Africa in the age of imperialism. Africa's long nineteenth century was a time of revolutionary ferment and cultural innovation for the continent's states, societies, and economies. Yet the period preceding what became known as the Scramble for Africa by European powers in the decades leading up to World War I has long been neglected in favor of a Western narrative of colonial rule. The African Revolution demonstrates that the Scramble and the resulting imperial order were as much the culmination of African revolutionary dynamics as they were of European expansionism. In this monumental work of history, Richard Reid paints a multifaceted portrait of a continent on the global stage. He describes how Africa witnessed the emergence of new economic and political dynamics that were underpinned by forms of violence and volatility not unlike those emanating from Europe. Reid uses a stretch of road in what is now Tanzania, one of the nineteenth century's most vibrant commercial highways, as an entry point into this revolutionary epoch, weaving a broader story around characters and events on the road. He integrates the African experience with new insights into the deeper currents in European societies before and after conquest, and he shows how the Africans themselves created opportunities for European expansion. Challenging the portrayal of Africa's transformative nineteenth century as a mere prelude to European colonialism, The African Revolution reveals how this turbulent yet hugely creative era for Africans intersected with global intrusions to shape the modern age.
